

---

2024 AWAKEN

SLEEPWALKING
TO EXTINCTION

THE PANDEMIC IS A
SMOKESCREEN -
WHAT IS REALLY GOING ON IN THE WORLD TODAY?

---

PETER RAGG

2024 AWAKEN

SLEEPWALKING TO EXTINCTION

THE PANDEMIC IS A SMOKESCREEN

—

WHAT IS REALLY GOING ON IN THE WORLD TODAY?

PETER RAGG

THE BOOK YOU MUST READ IF YOU CARE ABOUT THE FUTURE OF YOUR CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN

2024 AWAKEN

CONTENTS

Page

4	Introduction: Why we all need to awaken now
9	Chapter 1: Technocracy - Why?
20	Chapter 2: Introducing the main players
28	Chapter 3: Social media - How to start and maintain a pandemic
35	Chapter 4: Where did it all begin, synopsis of the Covid-19 pandemic
50	Chapter 5: Vaccines
70	Chapter 6: AI and 5G
82	Chapter 7: Your health and wellness
95	Chapter 8: Postscript on technocracy
96	Chapter 9: Call to action

2024 AWAKEN

Introduction - why we all need to awaken now

---

What is wrong?

Something is fundamentally wrong with the whole Corona pandemic thing. Call it a gut feeling, call it my sixth sense - it does not stack up and make sense. To me the draconian, or should I say Orwellian, regimes that have been introduced by governments to protect the population from the “vicious disease” (as Boris Johnson calls it) of Covid-19 are completely over the top and cannot be justified. And this whole response is not just about a new virus that we know little about and the consequential lockdown, this is far more nuanced and potentially planet-changing in my opinion.

What do you think? Because what you think and what we all do as a collective from now on is going to determine the future of humankind as we know it. Yes, it is that important.

Hopefully, you have purchased this book because you are challenging the accepted view on what on earth is going on, and you are wanting to find out more for yourself. Fundamentally it is about hanging on to the three vital words necessary to survive the onslaught that is coming down the line: FREEDOM OF SPEECH

These are the three words we must protect at all costs. You need to know right from the start that freedom of speech is already being censored, through the algorithms that are already controlling our daily lives. You also need to know we are in the middle of an information war where your access to information is being restricted and censored massively. Yes, it is, and it is clear to me that there will be a ‘mainstream’ narrative that will be set on any subject you wish to choose, including coronavirus, vaccination or 5G. This is why you are here, because we are going to have an open-minded discussion on all these issues and more.

We are now in a situation in the UK and in the West in general that if you disagree with the accepted narrative you are considered a dissident, for want of a better word. Up until the recent past, disagreement was allowed in the most part and was called free speech. Today, the alternative media platforms, as I would call them, who are challenging the accepted narrative, are being de-monetised by the bucketload by the Silicon Valley behemoths that now create and control the agenda.

The alternative media are labelled cranks, conspiracists and attention seekers peddling misinformation and downright lies. In actual fact, in my opinion, they are the people you need to listen to, so you have all the information from both sides and can then come to your own conclusions. I will show you that these ‘alternative’ researchers care very deeply about this beautiful world, so much so that they are prepared to put their heads above the parapet knowing they will be vilified, ridiculed, hated and terrorised by the mainstream. This is happening now. Many of these ‘alternative’ researchers are scientists and professors, as more and more are now reaching out to be heard. This is why I am going into print with this book. This cannot be censored; I have no fear of the consequences because I too am acting out of love for my fellow human beings.

The cover up

I am a simple layperson here and I am putting together my take on what has been perpetrated on humankind during the first year of the 2020s decade. Let us get the key word out now - conspiracy. I believe there is a conspiracy here of monumental proportions. As I have already said, when something does not look and smell right and your gut instinct is telling you that something is fundamentally wrong, then it probably is. This to me is the definition of a conspiracy. I wish I had followed my gut instinct more in my life. I have got to an age where I now listen to it all the time and it is always right.

The government thinks we are all thick and stupid and that we can be talked down to and that we cannot make up our own minds from all media channels and therefore they have to only allow the mainstream narrative. Why? Because they want compliance and for you to behave. It was always thus.

I am going to reference people of science and reputation that you will probably not have heard of, as they are all deemed 'off narrative' and therefore cannot be listened to.

I am not going to pull any punches, so you are going to get it lock, stock and barrel. I will be proven correct or not as the case may be. I want to be proven wrong and that indeed I am just another bonkers conspiracist. So, I apologise now for some stern language from time to time - the reason is that I am so angry with what we are doing to this precious world. It's completely insane and very few people have started to smell a rat yet, so that is why this book is called AWAKEN. We have a desperately short time to reverse the tsunami that is coming our way. The pandemic is merely phase one. Please go with me until you have read the whole book, then I would love you to give me your feedback.

If you don't care about the future of the planet, your children, your grandchildren and what kind of life they may have in store in 20 years' time please do not go any further. All I ask is that you give this book to a friend or neighbour. However, if you profoundly care about the future and want to pick your way through all the nonsense you have been fed, please read on.

Plandemic

I am calling this a plandemic. I am not the first to coin this word and there is a brilliant film out now titled Plandemic which I strongly recommend that you watch – more info on this later. It is a highly sophisticated plot to destabilise the whole world, including the global economic system, with the ultimate aim of reducing world population through significant deaths that will happen as a consequence of the plandemic. The aim is to also speed up the facilitation of the total control of the population through Artificial Intelligence (AI), vaccination and surveillance, by 2030 or sooner, creating the Orwellian dystopia that many people are starting to see through their very eyes already.

Nothing like getting it out right at the start! I am going to show you the following:

1. That the whole plandemic has been created by a select few individuals and that the people involved have sinister motives for orchestrating the biggest scam in human history.
2. The so-called pandemic, a "vicious disease" remember, is only a small part of the overall plan.
3. That the pandemic, once enacted, has created fear and hysteria across the whole world, through manipulation via social media.

4. That the linchpin to controlling the whole pandemic was 'lockdown', a new concept of controlling the virus and the masses at the same time. Or should I say controlling the masses on the pretext of a deadly virus that is going to kill millions of people (and you).
5. That the underlying aim of the pandemic was to destabilise the economic system as we know it, making people more dependent on the state than ever before, thereby facilitating new state powers and controls.
6. That there is an agenda, which is in the public domain, that by 2030 humankind will be connected to AI by being chipped from birth, just like you do with your pet now.
7. If we allow that to happen, humanity as we know it is finished.

This book was started on May 17th 2020, and the aim is to publish it by the end of 2020. This means that as I write, new developments are unfolding daily. This means that when the book is published a lot of what I have written may seem insignificant in the scheme of things. If you are reading this I obviously have not 'pulled it' and have allowed it to be printed because I have not found any evidence that my thought processes were wrong, and therefore I have to give you this information.

What you must do

I want you to read this book with an open mind and put aside any preconceptions you may already have. I don't want you to believe a word I have written; I want you to research this for yourself, check out the people I am referencing and then for you to come to your own conclusions. You owe this to your children and grandchildren. This is fundamental - you must do this, it is too important to ignore and yes, prepare to be disliked by people and friends close to you.

Yes, I am putting my head above the parapet and I am putting my reputation on the line by writing this book. I am happy to do this because I fundamentally care about my fellow man and I am old enough not to care that you may think I am bonkers when you have read this.

In my mind I have a moral obligation to inform you of what I have found because in my opinion what happens in the next 12 months is going to shape the world forever. If we don't wake up and see what is happening to our precious beautiful world, we will lose it forever. This is not just a virus pandemic - there is so much more going on behind the scenes that you must know about.

My purpose

This book is my contribution to the great debate of 2020 as to what is going on in this world. I am giving you the alternative information that you need to be aware of, so you can make informed decisions based on all the information I have alluded to. I am also not saying everything we are about to discuss is 100% correct, because there is so much disinformation out there and downright lies.

I have tried to trawl objectively through the quagmire of 'information' and have selected the people who I believe are telling the truth, a truth which is considered false by those that control the narrative and the agenda. I believe I am good at sussing out people and all the people I reference I 100% believe their integrity and I feel it in my heart when they speak.

I want to give you information I have found and what I believe is going on. However, believe me when I say this, I in fact want to be proved wrong and that I am indeed bonkers. Once you have read this, I want you then to do your own research and arrive at your own conclusions.

You can then decide what you want to do with that information. There are probably four routes you can take. These are:

1. This guy is indeed bonkers, I don't believe a word of it, I am going to carry on as before and believe everything I am being told. We will get back to normal at some point and if it might be 2021 at the earliest before that happens, so be it.
2. This guy has some good points but what can I do about it, so I will just accept what is going to happen to us.
3. I think this guy is onto something and I do care about the future, so I am going to research it more for myself and then come to my own conclusions.
4. I agree with him, I have felt that something is very wrong with what is happening in the world today, it's good that I am not the only one who thinks like this and I want to do something about it. I need to pass this information on to the people I love and know, so they can do their own research and come to their own conclusions.

You will decide, we are having an open debate, and this is called democracy. All I ask again is for you to have an open mind when reading this, put aside any preconceptions that you already have on this.

Can I answer option 1 above straightaway. Whatever happens, from now on the world will never be the same again and, guess what, everybody is saying this: the government, the scientists and the media. They are already preparing you for having to accept the 'new normal', which is now the new buzzword. Only if we allow it to happen.

I believe what happens in the next twelve months will shape and determine yours and your children's future. What is really going on. We must seek the truth and at the same time protect free speech. Have we just allowed ourselves to become completely disempowered? Prove me wrong.

An interesting thought

What would happen, do you think, if it were proven that the government and corporates of the world were the ones spreading disinformation and downright lies and not the alternative researchers? Now that is an interesting question!

"Don't let it happen. It depends on you"

Strap yourself in, it is going to make a Bond film look like a children's tea party.

My heroes

Here is a small list of some of my heroes, who have inspired me to write this book. Researchers, scientists, and the odd journalist who have put their reputations and livelihoods on the line for you and are providing an alternative viewpoint. I love these people for what they are doing. Most, if not all, have been or are being censored by YouTube, Facebook et al for simply providing an alternative view, which they, the social media companies, believe you should not see because their views contravene the established narrative.

Brian Rose, owner, and host at London Real www.londonreal.tv

Dr Judy Mikovits

Dr Andrew Kaufman www.andrewkaufmanmd.com

Dr Rashid Buttar www.askdrbuttar.com

Dr Thomas Cowan

Robert Kennedy junior www.childrenshealthdefense.org

Del Bigtree www.thehighwire.com

Dr Sherri Tenpenny www.vaxxter.com

Professor Dolores Cahill www.dolorescahill.com

Andrew Wakefield

Dr Zach Bush www.zachbushmd.com

Dr Russel Blaylock www.blaylockhealthchannel.com

David Icke www.davidicke.com

Dr David Martin www.davidmartin.world

Mikki Willis www.elevate.us

Peter Hitchens – Journalist and one of the only journalists who is challenging the narrative.

Remember, we are all in this together, we will all survive together, or we will all become extinct together, the choice is ours.

Chapter 1 – Technocracy - why?

---

Setting the scene

I want to start this book by giving you my perspective on life. Life to me is a fantastic journey of discovery, enlightenment and meaning. To love, to learn, to become a better human being and to leave a legacy of love and hope for the next generation. To make a positive impact on the world in the short time we are given to be part of it. I feel blessed to be a part of this thing called humanity; it is a beautiful and wonderful privilege.

Quantum physics says that we are all connected, we are all part of a living universe and we all depend on each other to survive and prosper as a species. Homo sapiens is special. We have been given the gift of consciousness, giving us the ability to love, to think and to make our own decisions on the information we have gathered. This is a very special gift indeed and we disrespect it at our peril.

Our perceptions of life as we see it have been attained (for better or worse) from our parents, education system and life experiences, which forms the paradigm that we see our world through. These perceptions are then hard-wired into our subconscious minds and create our habits and thoughts.

There you have it - right from the start you can see where I am coming from.

I published my first book in June 2020, REVEALED, which discusses the Astonishing New Science and Archaeology. This book is highly recommended if you want to get a wider perspective as to how we have arrived at where we are in the 21st century. I was not intending to write another book anytime soon. However, if you are reading this, it has been published and printed.

So why have I spent so many early mornings writing this book?

The thing you also need to know about me is that I challenge everything. I will not necessarily believe what I am being told as fact. I will check it out for myself; I will read around the subject from different sources and different perspectives and then guess what, I will make my own decision. That to me is a fundamental human right, it is the essence of 'Freedom of Speech'. I also have another advantage, in that I am not on any social media. I extricated myself several years ago because of what I thought at the time it was trying to do to my mind.

So, I love life, I love people as I have alluded to already. So, when I see something that to me is very wrong and potentially undermining the very fabric of society, that could potentially destabilise the whole planet, then I have to do something about it and set the alarm clock for 4.30am.

Therefore, I am a conspiracy theorist.

So, in 2020, because I am challenging the status quo, the narrative as I call it, I am considered a conspiracy theorist. I am trivialised, mocked and marginalised as being bonkers. That I read the latest social media memes and posts of a particular conspiracy, which I will then believe to be true and will then share with friendship groups and expose the particular conspiracy to a wider audience, God forbid. We are apparently "losing the war on conspiracy theories" because social media is full of 'fake news' and people are believing it (why am I not surprised), one BBC commentator said. The commentator was looking to the government to impose additional legislation on the social media companies to stop the salacious stories being spread. That, my BBC friend, is exactly what the social media companies want, so that there is only one narrative, theirs, no ambiguity. You have just put another nail in the coffin of freedom of speech.

So, where do people get their information from to make an informed decision, especially when I am suggesting it is being censored in a way that people may not realise? All I am doing is widening my paradigm by looking at a wide variety of sources of information. This is enabling me to realise that the story is not as simple as you may think. It is giving me enough to call things out and allow you to also expand your knowledge and for you to then make a more considered decision from a wider range of information. Do you think I like being called a conspiracy theorist? All I want is the truth.

There is one simple answer to all of this nonsense on conspiracy theories (it was the CIA in the US who first coined the words 'conspiracy theory - pot and kettle, right!) It is a judicious, totally independent, and open analysis and review of all the available data on a specific topic that has been given a conspiracy status. This way the actual truth, one way or the other, can be ascertained and then we can get on with the rest of our lives. That is all I ask, but it is 100% not going to happen is it?

A new play for the 21st century

So, the first question I have posed is that the whole plandemic has been created by a select few individuals and that the people involved have highly sinister motives for orchestrating the biggest scam in human history. Who are the people that are pulling the strings on the plandemic and have a starring role in the new production that has just come to a town near you?

Announcement - New West End production

TECHNOCRACY

Definition of Technocracy - an ideological system of governance in which decision-makers are selected based on their expertise in a given area of responsibility, particularly with regard to scientific or technical knowledge.

Synopsis of the play

The year is 2020 and humankind is at a crossroads. Do we go down the road that by 2030 we are all physically connected and totally controlled by Artificial Intelligence, or do we go down the road of using the new technologies for the benefit of humankind, facilitating the dawning of a new era of human consciousness?

The plot is deep and has been planned for centuries, it has been a great secret. Now in 2020 the time has come to unleash their devastating plan to take control of the Earth.

At its core it is Shakespearian, with big egos and dastardly deeds. It is fundamentally about good versus evil on an apocalyptic scale. Who will be the victor? The genius of the play is that there are two possible endings. The audience is required to vote at the end of Act Three for which ending they want to happen, knowing the stark reality of their fate.

This play cannot be found in the theatres of London's West End, as currently, as I write this, they are closed. It is being played out in real time, it has already started, and we are all in it, and so is every single person on planet Earth. The finest actors in the world have been approached and have agreed to take part. You are going to have to wait until Chapter 2 for the introductions to the stars of the production.

What I want to do first is to further set the scene for you and show you how the power that controls the whole world is only in the hands of a very few people. The pandemic is highly involved and I need to give you the background. The Covid-19 virus is only a small part of the overall strategy that has been unleashed.

Why would Homo sapiens do this?

Homo sapiens is flawed

One thing I must insert into these pages at this point is 'human nature'. And the reason for this is that Homo sapiens have a predisposition to violence, power, and control. You may feel that you are a happy soul in the main, and that you would not hurt anyone. That is not what the history books tell us, with their timeline of 'man's inhumanity to man', on an industrial scale in many cases. Why do we keep making the same mistakes? Because fundamentally there is a flaw in the human psyche and until we face up to this, Homo sapiens will not be able to evolve to the next level of consciousness that awaits us. We are locked into a never-ending cycle of misery, negativity and selfishness. Hence all the problems we see around us today, would you not agree? We must awaken, to expand our awareness and see the possibilities for a new enlightenment of our species, otherwise we are finished as a species and we have less than 10 years to turn things around.

Human nature

So, we must consider this flaw in the human psyche when we discuss the next level of technology. The two words I am going to take from the previous paragraph are power and control, because if we continue to fail to understand our real purpose in life on this beautiful Earth then we will always revert to type. Consequently, we will use the new technology to gain power and control of the population and this time it will be without a gun needing to be fired. It is human nature. We know what is wrong, but we cannot do anything about it, it is in the program that controls our subconscious minds. We must change the program.

Homo sapiens have been on the Earth for approximately 200,000 years, and it is surprising we are still here considering our selfish attitude to how we treat everything. Up until today, humankind being a resilient species has overcome adversity and we have survived. However, as a direct consequence of our actions, other species are becoming extinct at an alarming and accelerating rate. We are still here, just.

The time has come

The plotline of our reality that is now unfolding is that humankind as we know it is in the process of being changed forever. There is no coming back, there is no overcoming adversity. The reason that the plot has been unleashed now in 2020 is that the technology is finally ready to enact the complete control of humankind.

As we are all aware, there has been an explosion of technology in the last 50 years and the final pieces of the jigsaw are falling into place as I write. George Orwell saw the future in 1984, Aldous Huxley also saw it in Brave New World - a future that became possible because of the acquiescence of humankind. These are prophetic novels and in the case Orwell's 1984, the future was a dystopian world completely controlled by a totalitarian state. What is happening now is not a book, it is not a dream that we are going to wake up from any time soon, it is real.

Controlling technology is here now and ready to be deployed. If you understand that Homo sapiens is flawed, then you will realise that as soon as the technology became available the final solution will be enacted. It is human nature.

The new technology - opportunities

Communication and technology have come together to produce a heady mix of possibilities for the future of humankind as we know it.

A simple example: when you return from work, the camera on the gate will recognise your number plate and automatically open the gate and garage door. The facial recognition camera on your front door opens the lock for you to enter your house. The heating has been pre-programmed to come on, and the house has been cleaned by your very own robot you call R2D2. The kettle has just boiled. Your 50-inch comms screen in your 'information relaxation area' (lounge, old word) kicks into life, as it has heard you entering the house. Giving you and your family all the news you need to know about and any messages that have been left on your Alexa device. This is all relatively simple stuff in the scheme of things and is available now if you can afford it. Not sure if any of this is ultimately necessary but we seem to need to do something constantly with the technology we are inventing.

Let us look at the bigger picture of what is going on behind this new utopian suburbia and discuss the next level of technology that sits behind what we have just outlined.

Here are just a few of the new technologies that are coming our way:

- 5G Smart Grid – the internet of everything
- Artificial Intelligence (AI)
- Human cloning
- Space travel

Faced with all this, and more, the question in the 21st century has now become, "We have all this mind-blowing technology - can we use it to alter the course of history?"

Let us look at the bigger picture here and discuss the memes that are exercising most people in the 21st century. Here is a list, in no particular order:

1. Overpopulation
2. Climate Change - Global warming
3. Border control - nationalism
4. Health – mental and physical
5. Security – Jobs, pensions
6. Surveillance

For the general population I would suggest that health and security were the top two, followed by border controls, climate change and finally overpopulation and surveillance, would you not agree?

We have been forewarned

I want to give you an insight from one of America's greatest presidents, Dwight D Eisenhower, who served as president for two full terms from January 1953 through to January 1961. In his farewell address to the nation he said the following:

"In the councils of government, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defence with our peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.”

He also expressed his concomitant concern for corruption of the scientific process as part of this centralization of funding in the Federal government, and vice-versa:

“Akin to, and largely responsible for the sweeping changes in our industrial-military posture, has been the technological revolution during recent decades.

In this revolution, research has become central, it also becomes more formalized, complex, and costly. A steadily increasing share is conducted for, by, or at the direction of, the Federal government.

The prospect of domination of the nation's scholars by Federal employment, project allocation, and the power of money is ever present and is gravely to be regarded.

Yet in holding scientific discovery in respect, as we should, we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that public policy could itself become the captive of a scientific-technological elite”.

My take on this speech

Eisenhower spent two years writing his farewell address and it went through 21 drafts. Eisenhower saw the future because he had seen for himself what was happening in the military establishments, the CIA, and the laboratories of the US. What he saw disturbed him profoundly. He realised that power was held by a small elite with a potential to corrupt. His message was a warning to mankind that if we do not see for ourselves what is going on then we will get the future we deserve. It is now 59 years ago when Eisenhower gave us this stark warning and, in my opinion, he was 100% right.

Find the whole speech and check it out for yourself. This phrase is chilling:

“...we must also be alert to the equal and opposite danger that public policy could itself become the captive of a scientific-technological elite”.

And this is a key paragraph for me:

“Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defence with our peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.”

So then let's become 'an alert and knowledgeable citizenry', otherwise we are sleep walking to extinction. Prepare to be disturbed.

In the intervening 59 years since this prophetic speech, technology has move on in leaps and bounds. After all, Silicon Valley did not even exist at that time. The six biggest US corporations in 1961 were:

1. General Motors
2. Exxon Mobil
3. Ford Motor
4. General Electric
5. U.S Steel
6. Mobil

By contrast, the top 10 biggest US Companies by revenue in 2019 were:

1. Walmart
Walmart earned $514.40 billion in revenue, of which $6.67 billion was profit.

2. Exxon Mobil
The only name to survive from the 1961 list. Exxon Mobil earned $290.21 billion in revenue, of which $20.84 billion was profit.
3. Apple
Apple earned $265.60 billion in revenue, of which $59.53 billion was profit.
4. Berkshire Hathaway
Berkshire Hathaway earned $247.84 billion in revenue, of which $4.02 billion was profit.
5. Amazon
Amazon earned $232.89 billion in revenue, of which $10.07 billion was profit.
6. UnitedHealth Group
UnitedHealth Group earned $226.25 billion in revenue, of which $11.99 billion was profit.
7. McKesson
McKesson earned $214.32 billion in revenue, of which $34 million was profit.
8. CVS Health
CVS Health earned $194.58 billion in revenue, of which -$594 million was profit.
9. AT&T
AT&T earned $170.76 billion in revenue, of which $19.37 billion was profit.
10. AmerisourceBergen
AmerisourceBergen earned $167.94 billion in revenue, of which $1.66 billion was profit.

Others

11. Alphabet - (Google, YouTube)
21. Microsoft
46. Facebook - (Instagram, WhatsApp, Messenger)

As an additional list, here are the top 8 richest people in the world. Note that 6 of the 8 are from the U.S.

- Jeff Bezos (U.S.) CEO, Amazon
- Bill Gates (U.S.) Co-founder, Microsoft.
- Bernard Arnault & family (France) Chairman and CEO, LVMH Moët Hennessy Louis Vuitton.
- Mark Zuckerberg (U.S.)
- Warren Buffett (U.S.) CEO, Berkshire Hathaway.
- Larry Ellison (U.S.)
- Amancio Ortega (Spain)
- Jim Walton (U.S.)

Hot off the press, Zuckerberg has just been promoted to 4th from 7th. And more widely, while millions around the world are being plunged into hardship and redundancy as a direct result of the pandemic, most of the world's billionaires are experiencing rather profitable 2020. According to a report in September 2020 by a US progressive thinktank, the Institute for Policy Studies, America's 643 billionaires have seen their fortunes leap by an average of 29% since the beginning of the pandemic. This represents an eye-watering total gain of $845bn in just six months, a nice little bonus if you can get it.

Some of the key players featured in this book have done particularly well so far. Jeff Bezos? Up $73bn to a record $186bn. Elon Musk? His estimated fortune has risen 274% to $92bn. Bill Gates? Up 19% to $116bn. Mark Zuckerberg? Up 84% to top the $100bn mark. These are staggering sums of money. Just the collective increases amassed in six months by these four individuals are greater than the GDP of several nations of the world.

The key question

Why would an elite few people that are controlling the world (in my opinion) want to expose the world to destabilization on a massive scale through a contrived coronavirus pandemic?

Surely, I hear you saying, it is not logical, and it is not possible that a tiny elite could orchestrate such a massive scam, therefore it's highly implausible, so you are probably thinking that I must just be a bonkers conspiracist.

Well, read on. Let's discuss why a few elites may want to control the world. I will reference other authors and books that will throw new light onto a subject that right now sounds wild and implausible, but there is a significant body of evidence supporting this theory.

September 1st, 2020

As I am finishing this book there will be a cut off from events that are continuing to unfold daily across the world. We continue to operate in a world of sudden local lockdowns, shifting travel quarantines and conflicting statistics on the success or otherwise of track and trace programmes in countries around the world. People are growing weary and more and more people are no longer understanding the logic (if there was ever any) of what the government is doing and dictating. People are seeing their lives and livelihoods being continually crushed, when the death rate, which is the key factor here, is at a level where in normal circumstances would be considered in the 'ball-park' for an annual infection. And the other key thing I have picked up is the people are telling me is we are not learning from the data, which I totally agree with. We have all this data and we are simply unprepared to change the dogma. Why is this?

The Cult

At this point I want to discuss a phrase that you may not have come across: 'The Cult'. The Cult are the people and the organisations that are widely believed to be at the very tip of the pyramid, who sit behind the limelight and are said to be pulling all the strings. Many books have been written about The Cult and who they are, the banking families and royal blood lines etc. I am not going there in this book because I have never read the books and I want to concentrate on those people who we can all see and whose motives will become clear once we have dissected their intentions. These intentions are not too difficult to tease out, because in most cases they have already stated what they are. I want to give you facts and not just opinions.

The people who are orchestrating the plandemic we are discussing sit below those who sit at the very top of the pyramid, but they have a plan which is working towards a clear outcome. I don't particularly like the title 'The Cult' as it sounds too theatrically sinister. I will use the word 'elites' to refer to these groupings. What we are discussing in this book is that it is elites which are influencing every event that is now unfolding, they are pulling all the strings on the plandemic.

The elites' three priorities are: Population control, surveillance, and destabilization. Man's inhumanity to man (remember Homo sapiens is flawed) has no bounds. If a company is developing the next mega social media algorithm that is going to make Facebook look like a children's tea-party, then what is going to happen? Facebook with their war-chest will buy that company, simple. The inventors will get millions (happy days) and Facebook will make billions and its control becomes even more complete (happy days). This, by the way, is how capitalism has worked since the dawn of time.

They are few

I have already referenced that the elites represent a tiny number of people when compared to the whole population. Total control of the population has been on their agenda for hundreds of years and now the time has come (because the technology is finally available) for them to show their hand. They have put it out there, their agenda, which we are seeing as the pandemic, but that is only a small piece of the puzzle that has been created.

Make no mistake, this is the critical time for the elites, as in the past they have been able to go about their business below the radar. Now they are in full view and this makes detection of their intentions more of a possibility than ever before. If enough of us see what the real agenda is here, then we can stop it dead in its tracks and we can change the world for the better. I can see what is unfolding, this bigger picture, and I want you to at least consider it.

The elites' agenda

Let's look at the three things that have become the overriding thought processes of the elites, now that the technology has caught up with their lifelong intentions: population control, surveillance, and destabilization.

Population control

When I say population control, I mean control, through algorithms and AI and vaccination, and I also mean reducing the human population of the Earth. The elites want to reduce the world population to more sustainable levels as they see it. The world population of 7.7 billion to them is too high. I will break these down as we go through the book.

Surveillance

5G Smart Grid – coming to a street near you asap. If you want to see how it operates check out what is happening in China at present and especially in Wuhan. If you think there are enough cameras about today you need to think again; there will be cameras virtually everywhere. If you are a burglar reading this you will have to find a new way of making a living, you heard it first from me. I would also suggest that in addition to being seen you will also be heard, just like your Alexa is doing now every minute of the day in your own home, which again you may think is OK, but maybe it's time to think again.

China is not only instituting a surveillance society, including a social scoring system for every resident, but it is investing heavily in the artificial intelligence needed to manage it all and make evaluations of what cameras, biometric readers and internet filters capture. According to US military estimates, China will be spending $70 billion in government funds on AI development in 2020 compared to $17 billion in 2017.

Destabilization

Driving people apart has been going on since the dawn of time but is now so much easier to do with social media. A divided and destabilised population is not a united population and therefore it is more difficult to come together in strength and purpose. We cannot have people agreeing with each other, can we? I have never seen so much anger as there is today in the population, all driven by deconstructing the fabric of society. And we all have all bought it, hook, line and sinker.

So, you can see the hand is being played. I am sure you are starting to think, OK I am starting to see it. Let's start putting some flesh on the bones and introduce you to the some of the main players.

"Those who tell the stories rule society" - Plato

It is already here

If you want to see for yourself how life in the West is going to look in the near future, all you need to do is get on a plane to anywhere in China. For the uninitiated, China is a 100% totalitarian state, with total control over everything and everybody. Total control of the media and therefore the agenda. It's a world of secret police, people disappearing, torture, executions, concentration camps, all the ghastly trappings you associate with a totalitarian state.

However, one thing that is different this time and it is perfectly described in Orwell's prophetic 1984, is that this time the regime has learned the lessons of the past where totalitarianism eventually failed, with Stalinism and Nazism being just two examples of this. This time they are making no mistakes; they want total control of their population and they have it now in the form of the 5G network which is being rolled out in China at a breath-taking pace. The 5G superfast network is now available in 50 Chinese cities, including Beijing and Shanghai. More than 130,000 5G base stations had already been activated by the end of 2019. "Telescreens" everywhere. You must check this out for yourself.

George Orwell's 1984

Why is George Orwell's 1984 so quoted today, given that it is a book published back in 1949? People often use the phrase 'Orwellian dystopia' to describe what is coming down the line. The first question I have for you, is have you read 1984? If you haven't, or you last read it decades ago in school, you must read it as soon as possible. I have read it recently and here is my synopsis.

The hero, Winston Smith, lives in a world of total totalitarian control, hence Big Brother is Watching You. Everything he does, says, thinks is monitored by the 'Thought Police' through visible screens and listening devices hidden everywhere. Winston does not believe what he is being told. He has clear evidence of this as his day job is to falsify actual events so that they did not exist. Remember, 'He who controls the present controls the past, he who controls the past controls the future'. Winston meets a female who thinks as he does, and they fall in love. And that is all you are getting from me, as that should be enough to whet your curiosity to want to read how it pans out. You will also get to know the original meaning of 'Room 101'. You must read what happened to Winston Smith, our hero, as it the story of humanity in the 21st century.

The 'telescreen' is here

Orwell conceived of a telescreen that listened to everything as well as transmitting propaganda programmes, with the Thought Police monitoring every movement of every citizen. We now know that the Stasi in East Germany did just that right up until the fall of the Berlin Wall. However, now, instead of neighbours spying on neighbours and swarms of secret police, technology has taken over, much of it willingly and unwittingly adopted by every citizen. The 5G network and the internet of everything just completes the success of a Trojan horse of surveillance we have installed for ourselves in our homes, our cars and in our pocket. All this is potentially the final nail in the coffin for humankind. You are thinking of download speeds, better connectivity, and driverless cars, but you are not getting what they have in store for all of us.

Hong Kong

Now China has taken back control of Hong Kong, this is what the Chinese leadership have in store for Hong Kong, and the savvy inhabitants of Hong Kong know this. You need to follow this closely. You should be very worried for your fellow man as what is about to happen in Hong Kong is going to happen in the West as sure as night follows day.

The West's response to Chinese aggression?

We buy their stuff, because it is cheap, and so we do not seem to care that we are facilitating the perpetuation of their entirely corrupt system. Those that control China do not care in the slightest if a few million of their population die in the process of achievement of the greater good of the party/state. And what do we also do? We buy their 5G technology from Huawei, (because it is the cheapest) who want to install its equipment in a street near you as soon as possible. You cannot believe this stuff. The UK government has just woken up to this and put a stop to it. But the fundamental question is why did they think it was secure in the first place to allow Chinese technology to be integrated with the UK network? It is obvious that Chinese intentions are sinister - they are a totalitarian state for goodness sake.

The template has been created

Check out the Tiananmen Square massacre if you want to know how China deals with democratic movements: thousands massacred. You know this. The new Chinese template for total control is up and running and working and that is what our world will look like by 2030, if we allow it to happen. It would be interesting to speculate who is pulling the strings of the Chinese leadership. Are they the same people who are giving the green light for this to happen throughout the rest of the world? This is scary stuff, right?

The West - following in the wake

The elites' plan for the 'West' is for it to also (like China is today) become a totalitarian state, where the population is completely controlled by the 21st century technology that is now available. The 5G network and the AI chipping of every human being are the final pieces of the puzzle. This is less than 10 years away, and because we have all been so compliant with Pandemic 1 and Lockdown 1 (others are coming down the pipeline in the next 12 months I guarantee), then this has emboldened and empowered the elites to drive and implement these last two developments even quicker than 2030. By even 2024 it may be too late to reverse this tsunami that is now overwhelming the whole planet. We should all be extremely concerned, and this is an understatement.

I do not write to scare you; I write to inform you that this is going to happen unless we wake up to what is going on.

Chapter Overview

- Homo sapiens is flawed - we have a pre-disposition to violence, power and control, and until we face up to this, we will not be able to move forward as a species and be a force for good in the universe.
- The power that controls the world is held within a small group of elites that sit above governments and corporations.
- Most of all media throughout the world is being controlled by 6 powerful US corporations controlling everything you read, hear, or watch, including now the recent addition of Facebook and Alphabet.
- The technologies that are now available at the beginning of the third decade of the 21st century have come together to facilitate the perfect storm to control Homo sapiens finally and irreversibly.
- The elites have shown their hand, but savvy people are finally realising what is going on.
- What China has done already is what is going to happen to all of us.
- Do not allow this to happen! We have a window of 12 - 24 months to AWAKEN before it is too late.

Chapter 2: Introducing the main players (front of house)

---

Here are the key players we can all see that sit just below the all-controlling elites:

In no particular order, Bill Gates, Mark Zuckerberg, Larry Page, Jeff Bezos, Elon Musk, Anthony Fauci, China, World Health Organisation, United Nations plus all media. Note, I am leaving out governments at this stage as they are only bit-part players who have been played at their own game by the media - I will explain shortly. There you have it, less than 10 individuals and a few organisations with massive power, influencing and controlling virtually everything you do.

The following are facts and are openly discussed by the players.

Bill Gates US - Lead Actor

William Henry Gates III, better known as Bill Gates, co-founder of Microsoft, was born in Seattle, Washington, to wealthy and successful parents. Originally, his parents wanted him to be a lawyer – like his father – but they were supportive of his interest in computers. His father William Henry Gates II (born November 30, 1925), better known as Bill Gates Sr., is an American attorney and philanthropist, and author of the book Showing Up for Life: Thoughts on the Gifts of a Lifetime.

At the time of writing, Bill Gates is the second wealthiest person in the world and has a net worth of approximately $91.3 billion. Gates says if Microsoft hadn't worked out, he would probably have been a researcher for artificial intelligence. In more recent times Gates, through his philanthropic projects, has been positioned as a likeable, mild-mannered figure, who expresses his ambition to improve the health of the world through new vaccine development and technological innovation.

It is interesting to note that the Gates family has documented ties to reinvented eugenics movements of the modern age and the work carried out by their organisation shows ulterior motives contrary to saving lives.

Why is Gates centre-stage currently? Is it because he is simply a philanthropist with billions of dollars to spare and likes giving his money away through the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation? Or instead of just contributing he now believes that it gives him the right to save the world by telling everyone they need to be vaccinated. He has no medical qualifications.

And better still, (which has been openly discussed) they can at some point in the future put a 'tattoo' marker in the vaccine so we can see the people who have had it and those that haven't. So, in the future you cannot travel, send your kids to school, go to football matches and the rest unless you have been vaccinated. Really! Watch this space on that one. Gates is the lead actor here and is influencing virtually all events that are unfolding as we shall see. I will give you more information on Gates later in the book.

Elon Musk US

The enigma that is Elon Musk. Musk is obviously a highly intelligent person and is in great demand with his thoughts and wisdom. "What do you see happening with AI in the future Elon?", some hapless media presenter will ask. Elon replies. "Proactive on regulation re AI and not reactive" and "AI is a fundamental risk to human civilization."

My take on Elon Musk

He talks in double-speak, in that on the one hand he is warning us all that AI is a “fundamental risk to humanity” which is what people probably want to hear. On the other hand, his companies are personally responsible for putting most of the satellites in orbit to bathe the planet in 5G, (see article later). He talks in riddles, warning all of us of the impending Orwellian takeover; it is as if he is going along with it but doesn’t really agree with what he has been told to do by the elites above him. Or he thinks we are all so stupid he can get away with saying anything he likes, because he is ‘cool’ and we love hanging onto every word that cool people say, even if we actually know it doesn’t add up. Musk is a very scary person in my opinion.

Mark Zuckerberg US

Less than 20 years ago Zuckerberg was a poor college student who with a mate designed a simple online social media (dating) platform for his friends at college. Please watch the film The Social Network. 20 years later he now knows you better than you do. Have you watched and listened to him speak? It is clear to me he is just a figurehead for the company, making him another one of the cool people we are supposed to like. He looks completely out of his depth; you can literally see the strings being pulled when he opens his mouth. We have all helped to make Zuckerberg the fourth richest man in the world, breaking through the $100bn barrier - not bad for a 36-year-old.

Facebook has become the most powerful platform in the world in its ability to influence and at the same time manipulate gullible human beings. It now influences election outcomes, helping Trump to come to power, and it had possibly a deciding influence in swinging the Brexit vote to leave the EU. Check out Cambridge Analytica, a great Netflix documentary on what happened in relation to this.

So, Zuckerberg is front of house for a platform that has enormous influence, therefore Zuckerberg must have a starring role in our production. We will have to make sure we keep his speaking parts to an absolute minimum. Note here: Gates openly calls Zuckerberg “his friend”, I wonder why?

Jeff Bezos US

The accolade of wealthiest person in the world, according to Forbes now goes to Jeff Bezos who owns Amazon the e-commerce giant, for the third year in a row. This is despite giving $36 billion worth of his Amazon stock to his ex-wife MacKenzie Bezos as part of their divorce settlement in 2019.

Bezos’s fortune has been swelled by Amazon’s soar away share price as hundreds of millions of people trapped at home by coronavirus lockdowns around the world turn to the online delivery giant to keep themselves fed and entertained. Bezos’s fortune is now estimated by Bloomberg Billionaire Index to be worth $189bn. It is reported that during the pandemic, Amazon hired 100,000 full and part-time workers to help meet increased demand from consumers staying home and shopping online.

Bezos is also using his billions to invest in the space race via his Blue Origin rocket company. In April 2019, Bezos also unveiled a plan, known as Project Kuiper, to launch its own constellation of satellites and enter the 5G space race.

Larry Page US

Wikipedia - He is best known as one of the co-founders of Google along with Sergey Brin.

Page is an investor in Elon Musk's Tesla Motors. He has invested in renewable energy technology, and with the help of Google.org, Google's philanthropic arm, promotes the adoption of plug-in hybrid electric cars and other alternative energy investments. He is also a strategic backer in the Opener start-up which is developing aerial vehicles for consumer travel.

Page is also interested in the socio-economic effects of advanced intelligent systems and how advanced digital technologies can be used to create abundance, as described in Peter Diamandis' book Abundance, provide for people's needs, shorten the working week, and mitigate the potential detrimental effects of technological unemployment. Page also helped to set up Singularity University, a transhumanist think-tank. Google is one of the institution's corporate founders and still funds scholarships at Singularity University.

Anthony Fauci

Wikipedia - Anthony Fauci (born December 24, 1940) is an American physician and immunologist, who has served as the director of the National Institute of Allergy and infectious Diseases (NIAID) since 1984. Since January 2020, he has been one of the lead members of the Trump administration's White House Coronavirus Task Force addressing the COVID-19 pandemic in the US. Fauci is one of the world's leading experts on infectious diseases, and during the early stages of the pandemic The New Yorker and The New York Times described Fauci as one of the most trusted medical figures in the United States.

As a physician with the National Institutes of Health (NIH), Fauci has served American public health in various capacities for over 50 years and has been an advisor to every U.S. president since Ronald Reagan. He has made contributions to HIV/AIDS research and other immunodeficiency diseases, both as a scientist and as the head of the NIAID at the NIH. From 1983 to 2002, Fauci was one of the world's most-cited scientists in scientific journals.

This guy has some power and influence, whatever he says goes, right? It seems like everyone thinks he is the greatest thing since sliced bread, especially when the media say it (alarm bells). 50 years is a long time, it should allow you enough time to have a real positive impact on the health of the American people, would you not think? It just so happens that the US is the sickest nation on the planet bar none, not a very good CV in my opinion.

As front of house authority on all things health and wellness for the US, Fauci has been promoting draconian lockdown as the response to the pandemic. Trump has tried to challenge the dogma coming out of Fauci's mouth. Trump tries to protect the people by wanting to keep the economy open for business thereby ensuring his second term and Fauci wants to destroy it. Again, another very scary operator in my opinion, with so fingers in so many pies.

China

I have already referenced what China is doing to their own population and that the totalitarian society that they have created is now the template that the elites have in store for the rest of the world. China are therefore complicit in the great deception and have already lied and contrived for the virus to spread very quickly off the Chinese mainland.

World Health Organisation

From Wikipedia - The World Health Organization (WHO) is a specialised agency of the United Nations responsible for international public health. The WHO Constitution, which establishes the agency's governing structure and principles, states its main objective as "the attainment by all peoples of the highest possible level of health." It is headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, with six semi-autonomous regional offices and 150 field offices worldwide.

Why have I included the WHO as part of the co-conspiracy, as they should be beyond reproach, protecting the world's subjects, totally impartial and have everyone's best interests at heart, literally? You must realise, and this is key, whatever utterance the WHO makes on 'new science' is then translated into every language and becomes the next dictate for every government to impose, without question, totally believing the integrity of that new edict and of course the WHO itself.

The WHO should be a fountain of wisdom and up-to date knowledge on all thing's health and wellbeing. If only it was, it would not be on this page and would not therefore have a starring role in our production. THE WHO IS BELIEVED BY EVERYONE AS THE NUMBER 1 SOURCE OF ALL THINGS HEALTH AND WELLBEING, AND THE KEY SOURCE FOR THE LATEST SCIENCE AND CONSEQUENTIAL RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ACTION REGARDING THE PANDEMIC. So, let's look at this.

Follow the money - remember, who benefits? Or should that be, WHO benefits. A key question is who funds the WHO?

Where does WHO get its funding?

WHO gets its funding from two main sources: Member states paying their assessed contributions (countries' membership dues), and voluntary contributions from member states and other partners.

Assessed contributions (AC) are a percentage of a country's Gross Domestic Product (the percentage is agreed by the UN General Assembly). Member states approve them every two years at the World Health Assembly. They cover less than 20% of the total budget.

The remainder of WHO's financing is in the form of voluntary contributions (VC), largely from member states as well as from other United Nations organizations, intergovernmental organizations, philanthropic foundations, the private sector, and other sources.

The top 10 contributors to the WHO for the 2018/2019 biennium, in million dollars:

1. USA $851.6
2. UK $463.4
3. Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation $455.3
4. Gavi Alliance £388.7 (Gates is a massive contributor to GAVI)
5. Germany $358.8
6. UNOCHA (United Nation's Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs) $285.9
7. Japan $233.9

8. European Union $213.3
9. Rotary International $168.0
10. National Philanthropic Trust $115.9

China's WHO contributions have grown in recent years, rising by 52% since 2014 to approximately $86 million.

Another WHO organisation

Here are details from the WHO website of a different, but allied, WHO organisation, the Who Foundation. It claims to be independent, but how can it be?

The WHO Foundation was launched in May 2020. It is legally separate from WHO and it will facilitate contributions from the public, individual major donors, and corporate partners to WHO and trusted partners to deliver on high-impact programmes. The WHO Foundation is an independent grant-making foundation focused on addressing the most pressing global health challenges of today and tomorrow.

By funding high-impact initiatives and advancing strategies of innovation, effectiveness, and rapid response, it will support the global health ecosystem. Headquartered in Geneva and legally independent from the WHO, the Foundation will work responsibly with individual donors, the public and corporate partners to strengthen health systems globally. Specifically, the WHO Foundation will support global public health needs, from prevention, mental health, and non-communicable diseases to emergency preparedness, outbreak response and health system strengthening.

“Health is a global good, and I believe we can create a world in which everyone can live a healthy and productive life regardless of where we live, WHO is dedicated to this goal and the creation of the WHO Foundation is an opportunity for a seismic shift in global health, redoubling our efforts toward this goal” Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, WHO Director-General.

So, is the WHO totally independent?

What do you think? If you are a major benefactor to any organisation you are going to get a say in how that organisation operates, it is as simple as that. As you can see, Gates is popping up again and again, with his billions, giving him the right as he sees it to have a major impact on the health of the planet, not good in my opinion. The Gates Foundation has pumped more than $2.4 billion into the WHO since 2000, as countries have grown reluctant to put more of their own money into the agency, especially after the 2008 global financial crisis. Dues paid by member states now account for less than a quarter of WHO's $4.5 billion biennial budget.

With voluntary funding of the type Gates gives, the donations are overwhelmingly specified for a particular purpose by the donor. In 2018, Gates was again one of the top three contributors of voluntary funds to the WHO's general fund.

According to a report by Global Justice Now, the Gates Foundation has considerable access to the WHO leadership and much of its funding is tied to particular projects it wishes to support, helping to secure influence over the organisation's direction.

“Gates is treated liked a head of state, not only at the WHO, but also at the G20” — Geneva-based NGO representative

In a 2017 interview with the right-wing 'Spectator' magazine, Gates warned: "If people aren't worried about pandemics coming to Britain then they should be... If you asked what in the world is most likely to jump out and kill an extra 10 million people, it is absolutely a pandemic."

Bill Gates is the world's most powerful doctor, who is not a doctor.

Remember, Gates has said, 'Basically the whole country (America) has to do what was done in the part of China where they had the infections.' The story that has been promoted from the WHO is that China has dealt with the 'health disaster' very effectively and so that is how the rest of the world has to respond when it came their way. This is what the WHO Director General Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus said:

"The Chinese government is to be congratulated for the extraordinary measures it has taken to contain the outbreak. China is actually setting a new standard for outbreak response and it is not an exaggeration".

If this were true it would be laudable. However, what happened China has just happened to us all:

The Chinese government is to be congratulated for the extraordinary measures it has taken to lockdown the rest of the world and devastate their economies without a shot being fired.

Who is Dr Tedros Ghebreyesus, WHO Director-General?

From Wikipedia: The member states of WHO elected Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus as the new Director-General of WHO and he began his five-year term on 1 July 2017. Prior to his election as WHO's next Director-General, Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus served as Minister of Foreign Affairs for Ethiopia from 2012–2016 and as Minister of Health for Ethiopia from 2005–2012. He has also served as chair of the Board of the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria; as chair of the Roll Back Malaria (RBM) Partnership Board; and as co-chair of the Board of the Partnership for Maternal, Newborn and Child Health.

Great CV you may think?

He is the first director-general in the WHO's 72-year history not to be a medical doctor.

Tedros, as he is commonly referred to as, has close links to Gates and the Chinese government and is seen by many as a front for the global agenda and in this case destabilization of the world through a pandemic, therefore coining the new word, PLANDEMIC.

Tedros' link to Gates

From 2009 to 2011, Tedros was also the Director of the Global Fund, a program to fight AIDS, tuberculosis, and malaria, initiated by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, as well as the head of the UNAIDS Program Coordinating Board.

A member of the Board of the GAVI Alliance for Immunization, Tedros was further closely associated with the Clinton Foundation and the Clinton AIDS Initiative (CAI).

For your information - When as Minister of Health for Ethiopia from 2005–2012 Tedros was also known for covering up several cholera outbreaks in Ethiopia (2006, 2009, 2011), by relabelling them “Acute Watery Diarrhoea” (AWD).

So, did Gates get him the job as Director General at the WHO? As I said, a great CV!

Hobbies of the mega billionaires

It is quite amazing what you can do when you become a mega billionaire. In the past, if you had a bit of excess cash, you might buy an island in the Bahamas, or perhaps a super yacht or two, which is the penchant of Russian oligarchs. But now, the prize has increased - such money and power allow you to play and experiment with the human race.

Ask yourself the question, which are the top five companies that have benefited from Lockdown? The more they lock you down the more these corporations have benefitted: Amazon, Apple, Facebook, Google, Microsoft.

And there you have it.

These people are the main players in our production, the ones everyone knows, and everyone sees. These are the people who have manipulated us all into believing the world has just been invaded by an unseen vicious disease that is going to kill you. They have frightened you to death in the process that you are all going to die. At the same time if you are 100% perfectly healthy, we are going to put you under house arrest (and your business is going to go down the tubes). And the only remedy for the world to get back to some sort of normality is to be injected with an untested (no double-blind placebo studies) vaccine. And they are doing this because they care about the human race and because they are worth squillions of dollars - they have a purely philanthropic bent to help out, really?

Chapter Overview

- We have named the players who are responsible for enacting the plan for the total control of the human race through technocracy. The great experiment is now out in the open for all to see and the final pieces of the jigsaw are being put in place as I write.
- Governments do not have the power (or are gutless) to challenge the new technocracy. Governments change every 4-7 years and yet the elites have not changed for hundreds of years.
- Whether you like it or not we are all part of this play that is playing out in real life. At some point we are all going to have to decide what we are going to do about it.
- The elites have created an “incestuous cesspool of corruption” the like of which is going to have catastrophic consequences for humankind.
- Gates has been priming the world for a pandemic for years; he has said it on numerous occasions. His wish has now come true.
- Gates has a massive influence on the narrative coming out of the WHO, because of his massive financial contribution to it.
- The bottom line here is the WHO, who are dictating the narrative are fundamentally not independent.
- Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, WHO Director-General is in the pocket of Gates and China, he has known Bill and Melinda Gates for years.
- This should all start to worry you.

Chapter 3 - Social Media

---

Here are my thoughts on social media.

I believe the key to all of this is that social media is driving all decision making across the world, it certainly is in the UK. Those that control the social media companies are setting the agenda and are subtly and not so subtly controlling the narrative and ultimately what actions governments take on the back of public opinion, which has been manipulated.

Social media in my opinion is having such a massive and powerful impact on the ‘narrative of everything’ and on how we now operate as a species in the third decade of the 21st century, so let’s discuss it.

Question, how long has it been since social media been around, and the answer is, forever. People have always talked to people, gossiping, and criticizing as we do, this is just human nature. So, what happened to change it? And you all know this, the world changed in 2004 when a fresh-faced geek in the US by the name of Mark Zuckerberg popularised a social media platform for the internet. And that is the date when everything changed. Roll on 16 years and what has evolved, and again you know the answer.

Consequences of social media as we know it in 2020

1. Your individual algorithm has been created through your social media activities, shopping and purchasing, viewing in general, (including all those dodgy sites you may choose to check out), and including all your friends. Bottom line here is that your algorithm knows you better than you do, because you might forget, your algorithm never will.
2. What is the most valuable asset in the world? Your data and the best bit, you have given it away for free and have given permission to companies who want to sell you stuff, or manipulate you in different and subtle ways, which we will talk about later.
3. Our attention spans have shortened dramatically
4. We have become angrier and less tolerant and fundamentally more divided
5. We will post on social media without impunity, i.e. Do not say anything on social media you would not say to someone’s face. But we do it all the time, hence fuelling 4 above
6. All this is subliminally affecting your perceptions, i.e. you do not even know it is happening to you
7. It is closing down free speech, with the two new words and phrases that have been added to the 2020 social media lexicon, ‘Woke’ and ‘Cancel culture’.

That is a quick overview of how I see social media has insidiously infected society in the third decade of the 21st century and if you do not realise the above you have not been paying attention. Now, let’s go one level deeper.

So, the question now becomes (and remember the flaw in the human psyche), now we have everyone’s algorithm can we use this information to subtly manipulate people in making decisions other than just purchasing a new Dyson? And this is the scary bit. And this is where I am in speculation mode. I am not a scientist and I do not know what is going on in the psychological departments of Facebook et al. Just allow me to put a few things out there.

Your data

OK then, you have my information, what could you do with my information that I may not be aware of, or would have not considered for even a second? And the simple answer is, virtually anything.

No Peter, you are wrong, I would know if someone was trying to manipulate me. No, you would not, because it would be so subtle you would not notice it for one second. There are probably scientists working at Facebook who understand how to do this without you knowing. So why would they want to manipulate you? And again, we have already discussed this, power and control, a very vicious circle we have locked ourselves into. Locked out, locked down, the keys have been turned on you. Why? Because of the flaw in the human psyche.

So, the bottom line here is, whoever controls Facebook (Zuckerberg is just front of house) controls you. When you put this into words it is quite a logical process. In 16 years, the course of human perception has been changed; we are being subtly manipulated ever second in my opinion. To know this is happening is the first step to taking back control on your journey to enlightenment.

Fear

One of my contentions in this book is that social media has driven the narrative for this pandemic. Why was the lockdown so successful? Because of fear, fear that was spread at warp speed through every social media channel. The Facebook memes drove all mainstream media. The mainstream media who we should expect to challenge the narrative are but a mouthpiece of government. Investigative journalism is dead and there can only be one reason for this and that is, they are all in it together. Look behind the global media corporations, BBC, NBC, ABC, CNN, Fox et al and ask, who is pulling their strings? It is obvious, the media is so sanitized and so on script that I find it too hard to watch.

So, mass media (all social media plus all mainstream media) now creates the agenda. All governments know this, all intelligence agencies know this, all social media corporations, and any other corporation for that matter, know this. I am observing this from the perspective of an open mind which will challenge anything, especially if I am told it is true by the BBC.

This is the saddest thing in my opinion, in that in a time of global information and communication, (like never before), instead of becoming more enlightened and conscious human beings we have become less tolerant and more aggressive. This should not be the case - you would expect with more knowledge that we should be more tolerant and accepting of other people's opinions. I would also suggest that if we are more knowledgeable we should be also be happier and more content. The very opposite has happened, and this is something we should all be very worried about.

I am putting this change down to social media and how our perceptions are being subtly manipulated through the algorithms that are now controlling us. Why is it that we can no longer accept that other people will have their own opinions that just may differ from ours, so what? That is called healthy debate in my opinion and is a fundamental right of the individual. Why is it then we now must shout down and shut down other people who are not deemed to be following the mainstream (therefore correct) narrative? We now have a new name for this: 'Cancel culture'. This is happening now across all social media. Social media is being censored massively now. Do you realise this, even though it is not even subtle and we the masses are accepting this? This is fundamental and this is serious. You have just lost your right to free speech in 2020 and this is the precursor to censorship of everything, all controlled by the people who sit behind the media corporations. This is one of the main tenets of the Orwellian dystopia that awaits us all. As I say in the title we are "sleepwalking to extinction". If you take away only one thing from this book it must be this paragraph.

YouTube recently made a public statement where the head of YouTube said they will be censoring anything on YouTube with reference to Covid-19 that does not agree with the World Health Organisation. Yes guys, this is really happening. To me this is modern day book burning, here is the article:

YouTube bans content that contradicts WHO's Covid-19 advice. By E&T (Engineering and Technology) editorial staff. Published - Thursday, April 23, 2020

YouTube has decided to remove any content relating to the coronavirus pandemic which directly contradicts advice from the WHO. In her first interview since the world went into lockdown in an effort to contain the coronavirus pandemic, YouTube CEO Susan Wojcicki said that the platform would stamp out “problematic” claims on the platform, including anything “medically unsubstantiated”.

“People saying “Take Vitamin C, take turmeric we’ll cure you”, those are the examples of things that would be a violation of our policy,” Wojcicki said, speaking on CNN’s Reliable Sources. “Anything that would go against [WHO] recommendations would be a violation of our policy.”

The decision to base judgements on WHO recommendations could cause some confusion and controversy, given inconsistencies in public health advice between the WHO and national governments. For instance, while the WHO has said that there is little evidence that non-medical masks act as a useful preventive measure to infection, some American and German citizens are required to wear masks in public places. The WHO has also faced accusations of geopolitical bias after a top WHO official appeared to avoid questions about the self-governing state of Taiwan in a television interview. Taiwan – which is locked out of the WHO on account of China’s membership – is widely acknowledged as one of the few places which has successfully contained the spread of Covid-19.

Social media platforms have been promoting authoritative information from generally trusted organisations like the WHO, NHS, and CDC (Centre for Disease Control). Wojcicki said that YouTube had seen a 75 per cent increase in demand for news from “authoritative sources”.

Social media platforms including YouTube, Twitter, and Facebook are under increasing pressure to clamp down on misinformation and disinformation amid the coronavirus pandemic, which has so far resulted in more than 185,000 confirmed deaths (note: this was at the time of this article, it is now 950,000 as we go to press) around the world. The pandemic has led to an “infodemic” of false – sometimes dangerous or incendiary – claims spread by various groups.

For instance, a recent spate of attacks on mobile masts and telecommunications engineers in the UK – including at least 20 arson attacks against mobile masts during the four-day Easter weekend – forced YouTube to slap a ban on all videos promoting unfounded conspiracies linking 5G technology with the pandemic. An interview with conspiracy theorist David Icke, livestreamed on YouTube, in which he linked Covid-19 with the rollout of the next-generation wireless technology, was credited with fuelling interest in the 5G theory.

Facebook has also made efforts to prevent the spread of 5G conspiracies and other disinformation by promoting WHO information about Covid-19 to users who have interacted with deceptive content about the disease, and by limiting message forwarding on encrypted messaging app WhatsApp.

The culture secretary Oliver Dowden has welcomed the efforts of social media platforms: “I pay tribute to the work they have done,” he commented, addressing the Digital, Culture, Media, and Sport Select Committee this week. However, he called on the companies to speed up their response to false information during evenings and weekends in order to “nip this kind of stuff in the bud”.

During his appearance before the committee, Dowden said that the Cabinet Office is rebutting approximately 70 false claims about the coronavirus pandemic every week.

Wow! So here you have it in one article.

So, the social media companies are taking the lead from the World Health Organisation, (also CDC and NHS). This is important to understand because the WHO are dictating the agenda here, which the social media companies and all governments are miraculously aligning up with. I am just joining the dots.

Some extra Facebook stats

- At the time of the IPO, Facebook had approximately 845 million users world-wide, the current figure stands at 2.7 billion.
- Rounding up 845 million to a billion users, we could say that every user was worth $100 to Facebook at the time of the IPO. According to Axios, Facebook will generate about $226 per user in the U.S. in 2021.
- Worldwide, 28.5% of the online population use Facebook. Of the total population of the UK, 66 percent of people are Facebook users (Jan 2020)
- 48,268 full-time employees as of March 31, 2020

Sphere of influence

Along with other tech and social media companies, Facebook's market capitalisation has leapt during the 2020 pandemic. It has jumped from $500 billion in March 2020 to $800 billion in September 2020. In the same period, Zuckerberg's wealth has increased from $46bn to burst through the $100bn barrier. With this massive capitalisation, Facebook can buy any company it wishes to further enhance its 'sphere of influence'. Facebook bought Instagram in 2012 for $1bn, and WhatsApp in 2014 for $19bn. In addition, Facebook now owns the 4 most downloaded Apps: Facebook, Facebook Messenger, WhatsApp, and Instagram. These apps have more than one billion users each.

It is quite clear that today, Facebook is much more than a social media company. It has become the ultimate news organisation and has the ability through using the algorithms that it has on every single one of its 2.7 billion users to manipulate any scenario it wants to, and you won't even know that it is happening to you. This is quite amazing when you think about it, particularly as this has all happened in just 16 years.

They are all in it together

The social media platforms Facebook, Twitter and YouTube and the CDC and the WHO are inextricably linked. They are all working together, there is one narrative and anyone who dares to challenge the narrative will be removed from all social media. Wojcicki said, "Anything that would go against [WHO] recommendations would be a violation of our policy." She also said that YouTube had seen a 75 per cent increase in demand for news from "authoritative sources".

Consequences of censorship

Right now, any alternative view has been removed from the internet. As I will say many times through this book, what is the problem with people making up their own minds from checking out a wide variety of information from different sources? The answer is simple: there is not any problem with that if you have nothing to hide. The more they censor, the more it is obvious there is something they do not want people to know. This is not me being a conspiracist. In my 18 months of writing two books I have noticed a complete transformation of how social media is now operating. To me it is clear there is an agenda and therefore it is also clear there is a narrative, Wojcicki has said it. And dumb old us believe this stuff and that we must be protected from hearing potentially naff stuff, (or not) as the case may be.

If you believe the Earth is flat, then you can still find the sites that cater for the 'flat earthers' as they are called. They have not taken those sites down, why is that? Again, it is obvious, they are not a threat, and therefore are allowed to exist. If some people believe the Earth is flat, that is fine by me and the key thing here is, that is what they believe, and they have the right to say it. You do not have to believe it, but they do have the right to say it. And if you take away that right then you are facilitating for the totalitarian control of all media which is happening before your eyes. It's time for all of us to open our eyes.

Virtually every site that I have been following which has provided an alternative view, has been de-monetised or taken down completely in the last 18 months. This has accelerated since the start of the pandemic, with most of them having been removed since February 2020.

These were not nutters (can I say that?), they were investigative researchers seeking the truth. They were not advocating social unrest or anything close to that. All they were doing was putting out an alternative opinion for you to then appraise and for you to make up your own mind. FREEDOM OF SPEECH. Gone, all gone. They were providing the job that mainstream media should be doing but have abdicated from doing.

So, what is left for you to digest is a sanitised version of what they (the elites) want you to believe, and being compliant sheep as we are, we believe their narrative, hook, line and sinker.

Driving people apart

Another key use of social media manipulation, if you are that way inclined and if you have an agenda to destabilize and undermine society, is to create or subtly enhance the memes that could potentially drive peoples apart. Instead of bringing people together we deliberately drive them apart and causing instability within and between different ethnic groups. This is a great tactic to provide further proof to governments to add extra controls on its unruly population, which everyone will agree with because it enhances their illusion of security.

Just look around now, we have had the killing of a black person by a white US police officer, who was videoed in the act. This goes viral in a nanosecond, causing black unrest across the world resulting in the pulling down of statues and the like, demanding street names are changed, as just one demand by certain groups etc.

The destabilization of society by driving people apart goes under numerous names, transgender agenda, racism, wokeism as I call it. Have you noticed how if you do not agree with someone (their agenda) you are now an outcast and are not tolerated? What happened to free speech and having an open debate on any topic? Even the universities which were the melting pot of free speech in my day are now woke, and if the potential guest speaker does not agree with the student agenda then that person is not given a platform to speak. Really, ridiculous. All of this is initiated and perpetuated by social media, in my opinion. The label given to this type of politicisation of the agenda is the liberal left and that is undermining the very history of societies. And this is the agenda of the social media companies, with their sole intention of driving us apart, fracturing the population into small warring entities, thereby usurping the power of the collective. Because the more we fall out and alienate each other then we can have the excuse to put more controls in place to re-stabilize the population.

All I am doing here is to show you the unbelievable power of social media, that creates the narrative. And what it is doing is driving people apart as I am suggesting and that is exactly what the elites want because it then requires governments to put further 'Big Brother' systems in place to protect the people. And by doing so it further restricts the rights of the individual. And like sheep we are allowing this to happen in front of our eyes. Is it all contrived? What do you think? As the pandemic wanes, people are starting to ask relevant questions as to the handling of the pandemic by the government, so what better way to deflect the narrative onto a new topic? Am I just being cynical here?

Your perceptions

So, you can see I am not a fan of social media because of its ability to corrupt. Your thoughts and therefore your perceptions are being manipulated by persons unknown who live in Silicon Valley in the United States and work for the social media companies. Facebook, YouTube, Instagram, Twitter, Google, Amazon. What do they all have in common and yes, they are all US corporations and companies (should that worry you from the start?) They all have made a fortune out of the pandemic while the rest of us have been locked down and decimated. And the best bit that is only a by-product of their insatiable and remorseless goal of total control. It's human nature. What do you think, are Homo sapiens in the 21st century "out-sheeping the sheep", as one alternative commentator has called it. I wish I could say no, I thought we were savvier than that.

Chapter Overview

- Social media algorithms are now so sophisticated that they know everything about you and are able to subtly manipulate your thought processes and decision making and therefore your behaviour
- It is clear that Facebook has become much more than a social media company. It has become the ultimate news organisation and has the ability through using the algorithms that it has on every single one of its 2.7 billion users to manipulate any scenario it wants to
- Those that control the social media companies are setting the agenda and narrative for the whole world
- All mainstream and social media has fallen in line with the WHO, this is not being challenged
- Investigative journalism is dead and there can only be one reason for this and that is, they are all in it together
- In the West we are heading for an Orwellian dystopia, as is happening already in China, we have 5 years to stop this madness otherwise humanity as we know it is finished

Chapter 4 - Where did it all begin?

A synopsis of the Covid-19 pandemic

---

Let us look in a logical order at what is happening. Before we start, I would like to make a point. We have all been primed for scary stuff to happen via the films you have watched for the last 20 years or more. There are many films I could reference: Contagion, The Matrix, Hunger Games, Bird Box are just a few.

It is as if the elites are priming all of us for the future, to desensitise us, so that when it happens it does not come along as too shocking. Except this time, we are all in it.

1. A new strain of flu, a coronavirus, named Covid-19 erupts, apparently emanating from the wet markets in Wuhan China
2. The new virus is highly virulent, and a limited number of people are reported as dying from it, especially the old with co-morbidities
3. China does not lockdown initially and allows the virus to get out of the country, through air travel in the main
4. Spreads to northern Italy, where many people die from it, with health service in northern Italy overwhelmed
5. Virus spreads quickly to the UK, France, Spain, plus other European countries + jumps to the US, initially focused on New York
6. China lockdown
7. Italy lockdown
8. UK scientists 'modelling' predicts that as many as 500,000 people in the UK will die if suppressive measures such as lockdown are not imposed
9. UK lockdown due to lack of any coherent strategy and consequential media storm caused by social media
10. UK totally unprepared for lockdown
11. All schools closed, even knowing that children are unaffected, massive disruption to the education of our children
12. Massive fear factor spread by all media
13. Furloughing of 5 million people, with the potential for huge job losses as the economy tanks, millions of people to lose their jobs, causing financial meltdown
14. Social distancing at 2 metres, face masks now compulsory in many settings
15. Care homes become infected massively due to NHS sending untested positive Covid-19 people from hospitals into the care sector. 40% of all Covid deaths from care home sector
16. Massive mental health issues because of a prolonged shutdown and suicide rates are predicted to double
17. There will be a significant increase in the number of cancer and other deaths, because of missing out on an early diagnosis. The numbers here could be a lot higher than the deaths due to Covid-19, (500 people die each day from cancer)
18. Everything changes - 'The new normal' coined to describe the future

Would you agree that would seem to be a simple synopsis of what happened between March and August of 2020?

Did we all really just allow this to happen?

The one word here that comes to mind is catastrophic, and the second word that come to mind is insanity.

Note: Did you know there were 50,000 extra winter deaths in 2017/18 and that in 1969 the Hong Kong flu accounted for an extra 80,000 deaths.

Extra deaths

The number of extra deaths from normal is the only way we can get a gauge of the pandemic, as many of the deaths have been misreported as Covid-19 deaths when it was clear that they died from other co-morbidities. As we go to press the scientists have re-evaluated the data and are now saying there have been approximately 42,000 deaths attributed to Covid- 19 as I write in October 2020. It is certainly not going to be 500,000!

Background

The story so far, so we are led to believe, is that a new strain of highly contagious coronavirus has originated in Wuhan China, which emanated from the live animal street markets. The virus was not contained by the Chinese and has spread around the world very quickly due in part to people travelling around the world in planes. The name of the strain of coronavirus is Covid-19. As a new strain of a virus there is no vaccine currently available, with the usual time for successfully developing a vaccine being 3-5 years. China's eventual response to the virus was 'lockdown'.

Italy was the first European country to be infected very quickly, followed by Spain and France. Italy went into lockdown mode. In the UK we were originally informed by scientists advising the government, such as Professor Ian Ferguson that between 250,000 – 500,000 people would potentially die if we did not lock down, as other countries had already done. This became the number one news story. People were dying in large numbers in Italy and you might get it, was the meme. The key word that emanates from this statement is fear. Fear was driven into people by all mainstream media and more importantly social media, which now drives the mainstream media, as we discussed.

Johnson in the beginning was not in favour of a lockdown as I am sure he was aware of the consequences to the economy if he did. Johnson delayed a lockdown. He was soon forced to change his mind as the fear factor was now raging across media and social media and also how the NHS would become overwhelmed if lockdown was not initiated. People were looking at the growing death rates in Italy (who according to the scientists were three weeks ahead of us). Without a coherent plan Johnson's hand was forced, and lockdown initiated.

Lockdown and self-isolation

Most countries across the world have now followed the lockdown scenario, with notable exceptions being Sweden and Japan. It is interesting to note as soon as lockdown was announced the figure of 250,000 – 500,000 deaths was downsized to 20,000 – 40,000 deaths.

Initial observations

The mass media narrative has worked, they have managed collectively to frighten the living daylights out of people. I have never seen people so fearful as they are today. As I am sure that you understand, fear leads to stress which leads to a suppressed immune system, which is exactly what the Covid-19 strain is looking for. Fear has grown massively because of lockdown and during the months that have followed.

The economy has just been trashed, millions of people have been laid off and potentially made redundant when we eventually return to work. Potentially 4-5 million unemployed.

Current cost to the Treasury is £4 billion per day. Whole industries have been decimated: entertainment, events, air travel, all sports are just four examples. You may work for an industry that is equally affected, a self-inflicted economic depression. It is also clear that mental health problems, suicide rates and domestic violence are going through the roof already.

Are lockdowns the new norm?

The lockdown has been implemented so successfully that we have set a precedent, making it easy for the government to do it again in the future.

The conundrum the government faces - September 2020

The government cannot be that stupid that they don't know that lockdown (or the threat of it) can only go on for so long before the economy is so crippled that the whole capitalist economic system completely crashes. The fear has been so complete, and the media so driven to encourage people to 'grass up your neighbours' that people are now completely risk averse to going back to work (if they have a job to go back to). We are getting back to work very slowly, many restrictions are still in place for people entering shops, masks, social distancing, etc. When I anecdotally talk to shopkeepers, landlords, business owners and ask them what their turnover now, the answer varies between 40 -70%. That is not a profitable business.

There will inevitably be a second spike (it's obvious) and how the government responds to this is going to have a massive impact on this country. So, what is the government going to do? This is the time when we need real leadership, like no other. Currently the scientists are running the agenda and not the government. We are dithering, we are being treated like schoolchildren, we are not included in the conversation and we are all waiting for what happens next. That is how I see the current situation, what do you think, are you with me so far?

Consequences of LOCKDOWN

- Millions of people across the world have lost their jobs and livelihoods
- Massive increased dependence on the state as a result
- Mental health problems 'through the roof'
- Suicides dramatically increased
- Increased death rates from other illnesses and diseases that were not diagnosed early enough, due to people being too scared to see their doctor, e.g. cancer, heart disease
- Lost education for all children, traumatised children
- Family breakdown
- Social unrest
- The 'new normal' has been created
- The precedent of Lockdown has been created and can be re-introduced at a 'drop of the hat' at any time in the future.
- Vaccination (if a vaccine has been produced by the time you read this) will be promoted as a way of achieving protection from the deadly disease

These are just some of the facts, which you cannot argue with, even if you do not agree with my analysis of them. They are scary, and we have all just allowed this to happen.

Let me pick up on the first thing you are already thinking. Peter is heartless, people are dying in large numbers, doesn't he care? Yes, I do care, I care very much. Let us look at several key factors.

One of the main reasons for lockdown was that if we did not lockdown the NHS would be overwhelmed very quickly. One thing we are still good at in the UK is reacting to a crisis once it has happened, even if we are no longer equipped to be proactive. We mobilised resources such as the flatpack extra Nightingale Hospitals, ventilators, PPE etc, (at great expense by the way). We shut down the private sector to also create additional bed spaces for the masses of infected people that were coming their way.

The outcome was that in the UK the NHS never became overwhelmed, in fact quite the opposite happened. Hospitals coped perfectly, plenty of spare capacity, and the NEC, Excel, and Manchester Arena Nightingales were not called into use. Plenty of ventilators available. This was all very commendable and was an appropriate response in the circumstances in that we did not have any great idea as to the ratio of infection to hospitalisation in the beginning. We now have a clearer picture.

Foreseen consequences

Critically, most of all other NHS operations were cancelled or postponed. People were not going (and are still not going) to their doctors with lumps etc, because they are too scared and also do not want to be a burden on an 'overstretched' NHS, which it clearly wasn't. Thousands upon thousands are missing out on the diagnosis of cancer! 75% drop in urgent cancer referrals from GPs. Cancer death rates will shoot up as we are not now diagnosing early enough for patients to have a chance of survival. Many other conditions will have the same outcome. Private hospitals empty!

Until relatively recently we had no idea what the true level of the virus infection is in the community, and therefore the real death rate, because we were not testing. A study out of Germany using antibody testing in one of the hardest hit regions showed that 15% of the population had antibodies for the virus suggesting they have already had the disease, with an associated death rate for that population of 0.37%!

This means it is likely that millions of people may have already had Covid-19 and yet we have locked them away for nothing, probably putting them out of work. Conversely, if it is not yet in the population to any large extent, because we have 'lockdown' then obviously there is no 'herd immunity' being built up. Bottom line here is that whatever happens there will be a second spike in positive cases as we un-lockdown, and as at September 2020 this is gradually coming to pass.

Total worldwide deaths from Covid19 as of 17.9.2020 is 946,665 people in 7.7 billion people (7,700,000,000) which is 1.2% of the world population. Pandemics are 'out of control' mass worldwide infections/deaths.

A past pandemic

The 1918 Spanish flu pandemic, which lasted 3 winter seasons, infected 500 million people, about a third of the world's population at the time. The death toll is estimated to have been anywhere from 17 million to 50 million, and possibly as high as 100 million. Now that was a pandemic.

Sweden (we must mention Sweden)

Sweden was the only country in Europe to not put their population under house arrest and therefore avoided crushing their economy as we have done in the UK. I wonder why the media have been so fixated on Sweden's coronavirus policy, and for the media to be determined to prove it a failure, what difference does it make? The reason is obvious really. Every other country has gone down the lockdown route. They want to prove that the Swedish route was wrong so they can vindicate their own draconian measures to their thankful masses. Sweden settled on a policy that they thought was both sustainable and would save as many lives as possible, (and their economy). They were not trying to 'show anyone up' or 'prove how smart they were'. They simply took a more traditionalist approach that avoided a full-scale lockdown. That is all, simple.

And that's why Sweden has been so harshly criticized in the media because they refused to do what everyone else was doing. They refused to adopt a policy that elites now universally support, a policy that scares people into cowering submission. The Swedish model is a threat to that approach because it allows people to maintain their personal freedom even in the midst of a global pandemic. Ruling class elites do not want that, that is not in their interests. What they want is for the people to meekly accept the rules and conditions that lead to their eventual enslavement. That is the real objective, complete social control, saving lives has nothing to do with it. Sweden opposed that approach which is why Sweden must be denigrated.

Of course, none of this has anything to do with Sweden's fatality rate, which is higher than some and lower than others. (Sweden has 543 deaths per million as I write, which means roughly 1 death in every 2,000 people.) But like every other country, the majority of Swedish fatalities are among people aged 70 years and older with underlying health conditions. "90% of the country's deaths have been among those over 70."

Sweden also failed to protect its elderly care sector just like most other countries, especially the UK, so large numbers of elderly people died because of the outbreak. Sweden failed in that regard and they have admitted they failed. Even so, the failures of implementation do not imply that the overall policy was wrong. Quite the contrary. Sweden settled on a sustainable policy which keeps the economy running, preserves an atmosphere of normality, and exposes its young, low-risk people to the infection, thus moving the population closer to the ultimate goal of "herd immunity".

Note here: The data is not yet confirming herd immunity for Sweden. Epidemiologists estimate that at least 70% of the population attaining immunity is necessary to achieve herd immunity. This is difficult to quantify.

The bottom line is that Sweden has maintained its dignity and freedom while the rest of the world acquiesced. They will not have to reopen their primary schools because they never shut them down in the first place. Numerous reports are now showing that young children are neither at risk nor do they pass the virus to others (sorry, teachers). What was the first thing the UK did? You will remember, they shut down the schools, genius. And they knew children were not infected. As I write, the UK government is mandating that school children over the age of 11 wear masks in school corridors and communal spaces. This is now almost 6 months after lockdown was initiated.

The UK strategy

The UK government was totally unprepared for it, totally. Even after they had run a wide-ranging pandemic simulation in October 2016 that was codenamed 'Exercise Cygnus'. Cygnus was set seven weeks into a severe pandemic outbreak and was designed to test the NHS's response when its service was being overwhelmed and staff numbers were being depleted because they too were falling ill. Also included in Exercise Cygnus were all major government departments and local authorities across Britain. The only significant difference between the test drill and the pandemic we have been facing is that Cygnus was assumed to be the H2N2 influenza virus, while Covid-19 is a coronavirus. Both spread rapidly and kill by causing acute respiratory illness.

There is one other difference. While the real Covid-19 epidemic is being played out in public, the report detailing the findings of Exercise Cygnus have never officially seen the light of day. A senior former government source with direct involvement in the exercise said they were deemed "too terrifying" to be revealed. Others involved cited "national security" concerns.

The final report showed gaping holes in Britain's Emergency Preparedness, Resilience and Response (EPRR) plan. Exercise Cygnus identified the lack of all the things that would be associated to a full-blown pandemic, e.g. a lack of PPE, ventilators, beds, and morgue facilities. The report contained 26 key recommendations, including boosting the capacity of care homes and the numbers of staff available to work in them. It also warned of the challenge facing homes asked to take in patients from hospitals.

The report has now been leaked, and The Guardian has published a lightly redacted version of the Public Health England report on the 2016 Exercise Cygnus pandemic exercise. Just Google 'Exercise Cygnus report' and you will find it.

The bottom line here is that the government sat on this report and did nothing, and consequently, the UK was totally unprepared, and because they were totally unprepared, and had no coherent strategy and so, coinciding with the raging media storm, they had no choice but to instigate the draconian lockdown.

Other countries were prepared and were able to take evasive action quickly, with track and trace and isolation of infected individuals. The UK could not even do that, all they could do was to put the country under house arrest to protect them from the "vicious disease".

What would I have done?

Hindsight is a wonderful thing and it is the easiest thing in the world to criticise after the event, but incompetence is incompetence and we cannot let the government off the hook for the breathtakingly incompetent way they have handled the pandemic.

1. We had ignored the recommendations of the pandemic 2016 simulation, so the UK had no strategy for a pandemic when it happened. We also had no idea of the virulence and potency of the virus at that time, so we should have locked down immediately, as soon as we saw what was happening in Italy, knowing the virus had escaped from China. This would have been weeks before we locked down on the 23rd March.
2. A lockdown was necessary to assess the situation and for scientific community to come together quickly with a consensus and a strategy. The aim of that strategy should have been to protect the vulnerable and put in place measures to reopen the economy as soon as possible.

3. Track and trace should have been implemented from day one of the decision to lockdown, yet the UK government dropped track and trace at the beginning.
4. We knew at the beginning that the people most affected were elderly people with co-morbidities. School children were not being infected. Therefore, I would not have shut down the schools, there was no reason for this whatsoever. We have now damaged the education of our most vulnerable children, which is shameful, and we have since had confusion and U-turns over exam results.
5. We should have protected the elderly from day one and focused resources on the care home sector. And yet, we did the opposite, allowing infected people to move back into the care home system from the NHS, causing thousands of avoidable deaths - completely scandalous and incompetent.
6. I would have implemented an information portal to educate the population on best practice and just as importantly to educate people on proper healthy eating, with the fundamental aim of boosting people's immune systems which would then protect them from the virus. One of the reasons why we have had so many deaths in comparison to other countries is that we are so unhealthy as a nation, with high levels of obesity and diabetes. None of this was put in place, with little sign of activity in this area even now.
7. There was one country in Europe that bucked the trend and did not lock down and that was Sweden, as we have discussed. We should have quickly learnt from the Swedish strategy that their regimes were not creating a higher death rate and that indeed herd immunity was going to be the way to get through the pandemic, as has in fact been the case, looking back at other pandemics, for thousands of years.
8. The UK death rate peaked by the end of April 2020 and therefore the economy could have been restarted by mid-May and not July 4th. More of the economy could and should have been opened earlier and therefore would have been salvaged.
9. By July 4th 2020, back to normal. By normal I mean as it was on July 4th, 2019.
10. Instead of accepting their errors, the government has fiercely stood by their draconian measures and compounded the problems for themselves, in that many more people are now going to die as a result of the lockdown while at the same time trashing the economy – the worst of all worlds.
11. People look to the UK for leadership and best practice, and yet we are now a laughing stock.
12. If we had had a proper pandemic strategy in place, drawn up and implemented through an independent body not influenced by big pharma, then I would have implemented the Swedish strategy while also protecting care homes from day one.

Note that I have not mentioned face masks. They are a side show and some scientists are saying that they offer little protection, while at the same time inhibiting the wearer from breathing properly. See the article below from Dr Russell Blaylock for your consideration.

The debate about face masks

"By wearing a mask, the exhaled viruses will not be able to escape and will concentrate in the nasal passages, enter the olfactory nerves and travel into the brain".

Russell Blaylock, MD

Blaylock outlines in detail his views on the negative effects of using face masks:

As for the scientific support for the use of face masks, a recent careful examination of the literature, in which 17 of the best studies were analysed, concluded that, “None of the studies established a conclusive relationship between mask/respirator use and protection against influenza infection.” Keep in mind, no studies have been done to demonstrate that either a cloth mask or the N95 mask has any effect on transmission of the COVID-19 virus. Any recommendations, therefore, must be based on studies of influenza virus transmission. And, as you have seen, there is no conclusive evidence of their efficiency in controlling flu virus transmission.

It is also instructive to know that until recently, the CDC did not recommend wearing a face mask or covering of any kind, unless a person was known to be infected, that is, until recently. Non-infected people need not wear a mask. When a person has TB, we have them wear a mask, not the entire community of non-infected. The recommendations by the CDC and the WHO are not based on any studies of this virus and have never been used to contain any other virus pandemic or epidemic in history.

Now that we have established that there is no scientific evidence necessitating the wearing of a face mask for prevention, are there dangers to wearing a face mask, especially for long periods? Several studies have indeed found significant problems with wearing such a mask. This can vary from headaches, to increased airway resistance, carbon dioxide accumulation, to hypoxia, all the way to serious life-threatening complications.

There is a difference between the N95 respirator mask and the surgical mask (cloth or paper mask) in terms of side effects. The N95 mask, which filters out 95% of particles with a median diameter  $>0.3 \mu\text{m}^2$ , because it impairs respiratory exchange (breathing) to a greater degree than a soft mask and is more often associated with headaches. In one such study, researchers surveyed 212 healthcare workers (47 males and 165 females) asking about presence of headaches with N95 mask use, duration of the headaches, type of headaches and if the person had pre-existing headaches.

They found that about a third of the workers developed headaches with the use of the mask, most had pre-existing headaches that were worsened by the mask wearing, and 60% required pain medications for relief. As to the cause of the headaches, while straps and pressure from the mask could be causative, the bulk of the evidence points toward hypoxia and/or hypercapnia as the cause. That is, a reduction in blood oxygenation (hypoxia) or an elevation in blood CO<sub>2</sub> (hypercapnia). It is known that the N95 mask, if worn for hours, can reduce blood oxygenation as much as 20%, which can lead to a loss of consciousness.

A more recent study involving 159 healthcare workers aged 21 to 35 years of age found that 81% developed headaches from wearing a face mask. Some had pre-existing headaches that were precipitated by the masks. All felt like the headaches affected their work performance. Unfortunately, no one is telling the frail elderly and those with lung diseases, such as COPD, emphysema, or pulmonary fibrosis, of these dangers when wearing a facial mask of any kind—which can cause a severe worsening of lung function. This also includes lung cancer patients and people having had lung surgery, especially with partial resection or even the removal of a whole lung.

While most agree that the N95 mask can cause significant hypoxia and hypercapnia, another study of surgical masks found significant reductions in blood oxygen as well. In this study, researchers examined the blood oxygen levels in 53 surgeons using an oximeter. They measured blood oxygenation before surgery as well as at the end of surgeries. The researchers found that the mask reduced the blood oxygen levels ( $\text{paO}_2$ ) significantly. The longer the duration of wearing the mask, the greater the fall in blood oxygen levels.

The importance of these findings is that a drop in oxygen levels (hypoxia) is associated with an impairment in immunity. Studies have shown that hypoxia can inhibit the type of main immune cells used to fight viral infections called the CD4+ T-lymphocyte. This occurs because the hypoxia increases the level of a compound called hypoxia inducible factor-1 (HIF-1), which inhibits T-lymphocytes and stimulates a powerful immune inhibitor cell called the Tregs. This sets the stage for contracting any infection, including COVID-19, and making the consequences of that infection much graver. In essence, your mask may very well put you at an increased risk of infections and if so, having a much worse outcome.

People with cancer, especially if the cancer has spread, will be at a further risk from prolonged hypoxia as the cancer grows best in a microenvironment that is low in oxygen. Low oxygen also promotes inflammation which can promote the growth, invasion and spread of cancers. Repeated episodes of hypoxia have been proposed as a significant factor in atherosclerosis and hence increases all cardiovascular (heart attacks) and cerebrovascular (strokes) diseases.

There is another danger to wearing these masks on a daily basis, especially if worn for several hours. When a person is infected with a respiratory virus, they will expel some of the virus with each breath. If they are wearing a mask, especially an N95 mask or other tightly fitting mask, they will be constantly rebreathing the viruses, raising the concentration of the virus in the lungs and the nasal passages. We know that people who have the worst reactions to the coronavirus have the highest concentrations of the virus early on. And this leads to the deadly cytokine storm in a selected number.

It is evident from this review that there is insufficient evidence that wearing a mask of any kind can have a significant impact in preventing the spread of this virus. The fact that this virus is a relatively benign infection for the vast majority of the population and that most of the at-risk group also survive, from an infectious disease and epidemiological standpoint, by letting the virus spread through the healthier population we will reach a herd immunity level more quickly, which will end this pandemic faster and prevent a return next winter. During this time, we need to protect the at-risk population by avoiding close contact, boosting their immunity with compounds that boost cellular immunity and in general, care for them.

One should not attack and insult those who have chosen not to wear a mask, as these studies suggest that is the wise choice to make.

Important

Dr Blaylock's claims are refuted by other scientists and 'fact checkers' as they are called, and I quote from their site

"Blaylock produces no evidence for his claim that wearing a face mask increases the risk of SARS-CoV-2 infection in the brain. His statement that the use of face masks leads to serious health risks is also unsupported. While face masks and cloth face coverings do not provide 100% protection from infection, they still play an important role in reducing the risk of disease transmission by reducing the dispersal of infectious droplets containing the virus, which is the main mode of COVID-19 transmission".

So, what is going on, one scientist says one thing and the next scientist says something completely different. This has been a pattern on many issues throughout this pandemic. Where does that leave me and you? Who do we believe? All I am asking for is the truth. Why can we not have consensus on a simple thing like a face mask, to wear or not to wear is the question.

Latest from Sweden (25.8.20) on face masks

Here is a recent article:

Sweden's senior epidemiologist: Wearing Face Masks Is "Very Dangerous"

Sweden's top expert on the coronavirus Anders Tengell has warned that encouraging people to wear face masks is "very dangerous" because it gives a false sense of security but does not effectively stem the spread of the virus.

"It is very dangerous to believe face masks would change the game when it comes to COVID-19," said Tengell, who has overseen Sweden's response to the pandemic while resisting any form of lockdown or mask mandate.

"Face masks can be a complement to other things when other things are safely in place," Tengell added.

"But to start with having face masks and then think[ing] you can crowd your buses or your shopping malls — that's definitely a mistake," he further urged.

Tegnell has consistently spoken out against the use of masks, last month (July 2020) declaring that, "With numbers diminishing very quickly in Sweden, we see no point in wearing a face mask in Sweden, not even on public transport."

"The findings that have been produced through face masks are astonishingly weak, even though so many people around the world wear them," Tengell has urged.

"I'm surprised that we don't have more or better studies showing what effect masks actually have. Countries such as Spain and Belgium have made their populations wear masks, but their infection numbers have still risen," the epidemiologist also declared.

Sweden, which didn't enforce any mandatory lockdown order, has seen its coronavirus cases and deaths slow to a trickle.

"That Sweden has come down to these levels is very promising," Tegnell has said, adding "The curves are going down and the curves for the seriously ill are beginning to approach zero."

Sweden's COVID-19 death rate is lower than those of Spain, the UK and Italy, countries which all imposed lockdowns.

Sweden's GDP fall of 8.6 in Q2 2020 is also significantly less severe than the 12.1 average experienced in the Eurozone, leaving the Scandinavian country in "much better shape than the rest of Europe."

Another view on face masks

World-renowned neurologist Margareta Griesz-Brisson warns: Masks cause oxygen deprivation and permanent neurological damage, especially in the developing brains of children

Dr. Margarite Griesz-Brisson MD, PhD is a Consultant Neurologist and Neurophysiologist with a PhD in Pharmacology, with special interest in neurotoxicology, environmental medicine, neuroregeneration and neuroplasticity. This is what she has to say about face masks and their effects on our brains. Dr Griesz-Brisson is making a passionate plea to the German government to re-consider their policy on face-mask wearing:

"The re-inhalation of our exhaled air will without a doubt create oxygen deficiency and a flooding of carbon dioxide. We know that the human brain is very sensitive to oxygen deprivation. There are nerve cells for example in the hippocampus that can't be longer than 3 minutes without oxygen – they cannot survive.

The acute warning symptoms are headaches, drowsiness, dizziness, issues in concentration, slowing down of reaction time - reactions of the cognitive system.

However, when you have chronic oxygen deprivation, all of those symptoms disappear, because you get used to it. But your efficiency will remain impaired and the under-supply of oxygen in your brain continues to progress.

We know that neurodegenerative diseases take years to decades to develop. If today you forget your phone number, the breakdown in your brain would have already started 20 or 30 years ago.

While you're thinking that you have gotten used to wearing your mask and rebreathing your own exhaled air, the degenerative processes in your brain are getting amplified as your oxygen deprivation continues.

The second problem is that the nerve cells in your brain are unable to divide themselves normally. So, in case our governments will generously allow us to get rid of the masks and go back to breathing oxygen freely again in a few months, the lost nerve cells will no longer be regenerated. What is gone is gone.

I do not wear a mask; I need my brain to think. I want to have a clear head when I deal with my patients, and not be in a carbon dioxide-induced anaesthesia.

There is no unfounded medical exemption from face masks because oxygen deprivation is dangerous for every single brain. It must be the free decision of every human being whether they want to wear a mask that is absolutely ineffective to protect themselves from a virus.

For children and adolescents, masks are an absolute no-no. Children and adolescents have an extremely active and adaptive immune system and they need a constant interaction with the microbiome of the Earth. Their brain is also incredibly active, as it has so much to learn. The child's brain, or the youth's brain, is thirsting for oxygen. The more metabolically active the organ is, the more oxygen it requires. In children and adolescents every organ is metabolically active.

To deprive a child's or an adolescent's brain from oxygen, or to restrict it in any way, is not only dangerous to their health, it is absolutely criminal. Oxygen deficiency inhibits the development of the brain, and the damage that has taken place as a result CANNOT be reversed.

The child needs the brain to learn, and the brain needs oxygen to function. We don't need a clinical study for that. This is simple, indisputable physiology. Consciously and purposely induced oxygen deficiency is an absolutely deliberate health hazard, and an absolute medical contraindication.

An absolute medical contraindication in medicine means that this drug, this therapy, this method or measure should not be used, and is not allowed to be used. To coerce an entire population to use an absolute medical contraindication by force, there must be definite and serious reasons for this, and the reasons must be presented to competent interdisciplinary and independent bodies to be verified and authorised.

When, in ten years, dementia is going to increase exponentially, and the younger generations couldn't reach their god-given potential, it won't help to say "we didn't need the masks".

How can a veterinarian, a software distributor, a businessman, an electrical car manufacturer and a physicist decide on matters regarding the health of the entire population? Please, dear colleagues, we all have to wake up.

I know how damaging oxygen deprivation is for the brain, cardiologists know how damaging it is for the heart, pulmonologists know how damaging it is for the lungs. Oxygen deprivation damages every single organ.

Where are our health departments, our health insurance, our medical associations? It would have been their duty to be vehemently against the lockdown and to stop it and stop it from the very beginning.

Why do the medical boards issue punishments to doctors who give people exemptions? Does the person or the doctor seriously have to prove that oxygen deprivation harms people? What kind of medicine are our doctors and medical associations representing?

Who is responsible for this crime? The ones who want to enforce it? The ones who let it happen and play along, or the ones who don't prevent it?

It's not about masks, it's not about viruses, it's certainly not about your health. It is about much much more. I am not participating. I am not afraid.

You can notice, they are already taking our air to breathe. The imperative of the hour is personal responsibility. We are responsible for what we think, not the media. We are responsible for what we do, not our superiors. We are responsible for our health, not the World Health Organisation. And we are responsible for what happens in our country, not the government."

My take on face masks

It is great to have the views from Sweden on masks as they have a totally different take on how to handle the pandemic. Mask wearing must require a significant benefit in my opinion to use one, because there are also the psychological implications of wearing a mask, i.e. how they are perceived by other people and young children. People look like bandits, muzzled-up, head down, monosyllabic, miserable, scurrying around like zombies, desperate to take it off or leave it on, perpetuating a false sense of security, and wishing death on those who are not wearing one. What do they do with the mask when they are not using it? They leave it hanging around their neck or scrunch it up and put it in their pocket next to their dodgy handkerchief, until they need it again.

Where is the vaccine?

We are going to talk at length about vaccines in the next chapter, but in the context of the Covid-19 pandemic it is the one thing that is being promised as the panacea for returning to normality once again. We see, hear and read this every day. My point of mentioning it here is that we are all waiting for it, the economy is waiting for it. What are we going to do in the meantime while we are all waiting? As we shall discuss, it takes a long while to properly develop a vaccine, especially a new virus of which we know little about.

So, what are we going to do? Scientists are now saying that the virus is going to be lurking in the population forever, sitting there waiting for the bad weather to kick in again (or not) and take out a few more thousand people. So, what do we do? This is the conundrum that the government must face up to and make bold strategic decisions. While the scientists say we must continue to have economically damaging local lockdowns when the infection rates go above a certain figure, what is the government going to do? We all need to know. I hope by the time you read this the government will have taken the bold and decisive step to return to normality. Anything else will be further undermining the economy, which it cannot endure.

I do not understand

As we head into autumn 2020, we are imposing local lockdowns and are still far from achieving normality. The economy teeters on the brink. We all know there are going to be spikes and hot spots because of people coming together for the first time in months and there is no herd immunity (because we were all locked away). At the same time, we also know the virus is not killing people in the numbers it once was.

We are testing more people finally, great, so one would expect (it's obvious) you are going to find lots more people testing positive for Covid-19. But these positive people have no symptoms, are perfectly healthy, they are not rocking up at hospital and fundamentally are not dying, which is absolutely fantastic. The simple question is how infectious are these people who have had a positive test? It would appear not very, scientists please explain!

Something is fundamentally wrong

In the early days of the pandemic the narrative was being driven by the number of daily deaths which was causing the main fear factor. This I can understand, and the actual death rate is hard to argue with. As the death rate reduced significantly and as we went into July to September the new narrative became "positive cases" and how the numbers of positive cases was starting to get out of control as we started to unlock became the meme being driven by all of the media outlets. So, the fear was no longer deaths, understandable, but now was 'positive cases' which is totally not understandable.

So, we are now relocking down whole communities again on the back of positive cases. These people are not showing any signs of symptoms are not going to hospital and are not dying, as was totally proven in the case of the relocking down of Leicester. Something is very wrong here and again it is not being challenged by mainstream media. I heard one scientist say that up to 60% of the population could be asymptomatic, so then how does that work? It brings the whole value of testing into question, and fundamentally the consequences of positive testing that is being re-imposed onto society.

There is also another obvious question we can ask now, what exactly is the test looking for?

PCR test stands for polymerase chain reaction.

The PCR test is looking for the presence of genetic material from the COVID-19 virus within a swab or saliva sample. Remember, viruses are dead bits of genetic material, the DNA/RNA sequences of the virus. So, you may have a lot of bits and you will get a positive test result. You may also have minute levels of the DNA/RNA sequencing, that has been hanging around in your body for years that is just there and causing no problems whatsoever and this is the key here, you will also get a positive result. One way of having these bits in your body in the first place is to have received the flu vaccine in previous years. The PCR test also amplifies the level of dead DNA/RNA to a point where it causes a positive test result. This is all explained in Dr Andrew Kaufman's video which can be found at www.freedomplatform.tv.

Information you need on testing

The PCR test was invented by biochemist Kary Mullis and his invention got him the Nobel prize in chemistry in 1993, excellent you may think. FYI Mullis died in 2019 aged 74, I wish he was still alive today to see how his invention was being used. However, Mullis said that the PCR test was inappropriate for the detection of a viral infection. The reason is that the intended use of the PCR test was, and still is, to apply it as a manufacturing technique, being able to replicate DNA sequences millions and billions of times, and not as a diagnostic tool to detect viruses.

So, we are using a diagnostic test kit to seek out the Covid-19 virus which is fundamentally not fit for purpose? I rest my case.

Have you been quarantined yet?

Also at the same time we require people returning from all parts of the world (new countries being added on a daily basis) to quarantine for 14 days when they return to the UK, forcing holiday companies to go bust and for airlines to have no idea what is going on. Perfectly healthy people under lockdown again. We are not testing people as we should be at airports when they return because we do not have the infrastructure in place to handle that yet, which is scandalous. So, we lock them down instead, they are used to that. It is like death by a thousand cuts. What do you think, isn't this insanity?

Why haven't we learnt from the data?

This is a great question! We now have 6 months of data, every scientist in the world has an opinion, and yet they are all different. What have we learnt, what is the consensus? So, four months in we are told to wear masks. And that we must relock down people because we have more positive tests in a specific town or city, as was the case in Leicester. Why are we perpetuating this bonkers situation, putting people out of work by the thousands, with a non-existent death rate? It really does make you ask the question, what is really going on?

On the battlements

I do have to mention journalist and columnist Peter Hitchens here for sticking his head above the parapet. Hitchens has from day one challenged the narrative and has been highly critical of the whole debacle, as it is fast becoming. Hitchens is one of the few journalists who is on the pulse of this in my opinion. Hitchens is also scathing of his profession for their acquiescence.

An alternative view of lockdown

Here is another article for you to ponder:

A scientific advisor to the UK government says the coronavirus lockdown was a “panic measure” and a “monumental mistake on a global scale.”

Infectious diseases expert and University of Edinburgh professor Mark Woolhouse acknowledged that the decision to lockdown in March was a “crude measure” that was enacted because “we couldn't think of anything better to do.”

“Lockdown was a panic measure and I believe history will say trying to control Covid-19 through lockdown was a monumental mistake on a global scale, the cure was worse than the disease,” said Woolhouse, who is now calling on the government to unlock society before more damage is done.

"I never want to see national lockdown again," he added. "It was always a temporary measure that simply delayed the stage of the epidemic we see now. It was never going to change anything fundamentally."

The professor asserts that the impact of the response to coronavirus will be worse than the virus itself.

"I believe the harm lockdown is doing to our education, health care access, and broader aspects of our economy and society will turn out to be at least as great as the harm done by COVID-19," said Woolhouse.

Richard Sullivan, professor of cancer at King's College London, previously warned that there will be more excess cancer deaths over the next 5 years than the number of people who die from coronavirus in the UK due to the disruption caused by the coronavirus lockdown, which is preventing cancer victims from getting treatment.

Figures also show that there were more excess deaths during the 2017-18 flu season (around 50,000) than the total number of people in the UK who have died from coronavirus (41,433).

Other examples of sanity are finally coming out of the woodwork. Why didn't they all come together 6 months ago to provide a coherent strategy and save the economy?

Governments, do something

Governments of the world, please make a decision for goodness sake, to return the world back to normality. If the virus is going to be around for ever and the vaccine is not going to be ready any time soon, which it never was going to be, unless they have rushed any safety testing. We must take the route that humankind has taken for 200,000 years and is the reason we are still on this planet and that is RISK. Yep a simple four letters. Some people are going to die, it's called risk, it is life, get over it and get on with living it, because one thing is certain we are not living it now.

Some of the issues that need to be resolved in the public inquiry

- When exactly did the virus first appear and from where? There are some reports that the virus was in the population from the autumn of 2019. Many scientists are saying it started in the wet markets of Wuhan, and a few are saying it was released intentionally or inadvertently from the bio-weapons establishment in Wuhan, so the next question becomes:
- Is the virus manmade and was it deliberately released? I am not going to speculate on whether it was deliberately released into the population; that will come out eventually hopefully. The bottom line is that it was a new strain of a virus different from the normal influenza strains that occur annually.
- Complete detailed breakdown of death rates due to Covid-19
- Complete assessment of the concept and consequences of 'lockdown' i.e. higher associated death rates, cancer
- Traumatising of society – the effects of lockdown on the mental health of society

More info on China's ambivalence

According to Taiwan's Central Epidemic Command Centre (CECC), Taiwan warned the WHO about the possibility of human-to-human transmission of the coronavirus as early as December 31, 2019. However, the WHO merely acknowledged that the information had been transferred to the relevant department. The WHO didn't take the information provided by Taiwan seriously, and is another example of the lack of a delayed global response to a potential COVID19 pandemic. Why was this?

The pandemic is just part of a plan

Please also remember that the pandemic as it is called is only a small part of the plan for humankind, as we are discussing. The pandemic has gone so well that the elites cannot believe our acquiescence (and the incompetence of governments to not realise what is going on) and this is the reason they are bringing forward the timescale they have planned for, from 2030 to 2024. Happy days.

As I go to press October 2020

I have found the following information which you need to be aware of, and it could answer the question above, is the virus manmade and was it deliberately released?

Dr Li Meng Yan is a Chinese Virologist and a whistle-blower and is claiming that the coronavirus was created in a laboratory in Wuhan. Dr Yan became an MD after graduating from the Xiangya Medical College and earned a PHD from the Southern Medical University.

In December 2019 Dr Yan was requested to investigate a series of pneumonia cases that had arisen in the Wuhan district. Through her research Dr Yan believed that a highly mutated virus was in circulation, ultimately the coronavirus. Dr Yan was told to stay silent by the Chinese authorities.

She made this information public and as soon as she did she was hunted down by the Chinese authorities and was forced to flee from China to the US, where she was interviewed and debriefed by the FBI and is currently in protection of the FBI.

Dr. Yan is making 5 claims:

1. There is a cover up in China about the Sars Covid-2 outbreak
2. There is already human-to-human transmission
3. This is a highly mutant virus
4. There is no intermediate host. The Wuhan seafood market is just a smokescreen from the Chinese government.
5. This virus is not from nature, it is a lab modified virus

Dr Yan states that all of these claims can be verified.

Please watch the video interview between Patrick Bet-David and Dr Yan and then you can come to your own conclusions, here is the link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xJxIOgC9Yr0>

Censorship across the world

Dr Yan has been widely criticised by the Chinese government, which you would expect. However, she is also being criticised by the WHO. Oh, I wonder why, another nail in the coffin of the Chinese government and WHO collusion). And because Dr Yan is being censored by the WHO then she is also being censored by the US social media behemoths, with all her social media accounts suspended, irony or what? Not only censored by the Chinese totalitarian state but also the new totalitarian state now being implemented on Western culture. I bet that was a shock to Dr Yan.

As I have said, make up your own mind. In the era of 'Fake News' which has been given a heightened meaning in the third decade of the 21st century it is very difficult to distil the real truth from information that is put into the mainstream because of the variety of agendas that are being promoted by the big players we are discussing that are being played out in real time. I would also ask another question. Why haven't Dr Yan's revelation been discussed on mainstream media in the UK and for people to make up their own minds?

As we are discussing, there are fundamentally two independent narratives happening simultaneously, the one you see that has been censored for you to believe, and the alternative one that is challenging the mainstream narrative and is asking the relevant questions that people are finally asking.

The Great Barrington Declaration

The Great Barrington Declaration is a proposal written and signed at the American Institute for Economic Research in Great Barrington, Massachusetts on 4 October 2020. It proposes a libertarian policy for the COVID-19 pandemic, under which only people who are personally at high risk of dying from coronavirus disease would be protected from infection.

The declaration advocates that individuals at high risk of death from infection should continue staying at home, and that people at low risk resume their normal lives, by working away from home and attending mass gatherings. They hope that as a result most of these lower-risk people will contract the infection but not die, and that the resulting immune response will prevent the SARS-CoV-2 virus from spreading to higher-risk people. The declaration makes no mention of social distancing, mask, contact tracing, nor of COVID-19 testing.

Here is the declaration:

The Great Barrington Declaration

The Great Barrington Declaration – As infectious disease epidemiologists and public health scientists we have grave concerns about the damaging physical and mental health impacts of the prevailing COVID-19 policies and recommend an approach we call Focused Protection.

Coming from both the left and right, and around the world, we have devoted our careers to protecting people. Current lockdown policies are producing devastating effects on short and long-term public health. The results (to name a few) include lower childhood vaccination rates, worsening cardiovascular disease outcomes, fewer cancer screenings and deteriorating mental health – leading to greater excess mortality in years to come, with the working class and younger members of society carrying the heaviest burden. Keeping students out of school is a grave injustice.

Keeping these measures in place until a vaccine is available will cause irreparable damage, with the underprivileged disproportionately harmed.

Fortunately, our understanding of the virus is growing. We know that vulnerability to death from COVID-19 is more than a thousand-fold higher in the old and infirm than the young. Indeed, for children, COVID-19 is less dangerous than many other harms, including influenza.

As immunity builds in the population, the risk of infection to all – including the vulnerable – falls. We know that all populations will eventually reach herd immunity – i.e. the point at which the rate of new infections is stable – and that this can be assisted by (but is not dependent upon) a vaccine. Our goal should therefore be to minimize mortality and social harm until we reach herd immunity.

The most compassionate approach that balances the risks and benefits of reaching herd immunity, is to allow those who are at minimal risk of death to live their lives normally to build up immunity to the virus through natural infection, while better protecting those who are at highest risk. We call this Focused Protection.

Adopting measures to protect the vulnerable should be the central aim of public health responses to COVID-19. By way of example, nursing homes should use staff with acquired immunity and perform frequent PCR testing of other staff and all visitors. Staff rotation should be minimized. Retired people living at home should have groceries and other essentials delivered to their home. When possible, they should meet family members outside rather than inside. A comprehensive and detailed list of measures, including approaches to multi-generational households, can be implemented, and is well within the scope and capability of public health professionals.

Those who are not vulnerable should immediately be allowed to resume life as normal. Simple hygiene measures, such as hand washing and staying home when sick should be practiced by everyone to reduce the herd immunity threshold. Schools and universities should be open for in-person teaching. Extracurricular activities, such as sports, should be resumed. Young low-risk adults should work normally, rather than from home. Restaurants and other businesses should open. Arts, music, sport and other cultural activities should resume. People who are more at risk may participate if they wish, while society as a whole enjoys the protection conferred upon the vulnerable by those who have built up herd immunity.

On October 4, 2020, this declaration was authored and signed in Great Barrington, United States, by:

Co-signers

Medical and Public Health Scientists and Medical Practitioners

Dr. Rajiv Bhatia, physician, epidemiologist and public policy expert at the Veterans Administration, USA

Dr. Stephen Bremner, professor of medical statistics, University of Sussex, England

Dr. Anthony J Brookes, professor of genetics, University of Leicester, England

Dr. Helen Colhoun, professor of medical informatics and epidemiology, and public health physician, University of Edinburgh, Scotland

Dr. Angus Dalglish, oncologist, infectious disease expert and professor, St. George's Hospital Medical School, University of London, England

Dr. Sylvia Fogel, autism expert and psychiatrist at Massachusetts General Hospital and instructor at Harvard Medical School, USA

Dr. Eitan Friedman, professor of medicine, Tel-Aviv University, Israel

Dr. Uri Gavish, biomedical consultant, Israel

Dr. Motti Gerlic, professor of clinical microbiology and immunology, Tel Aviv University, Israel

Dr. Gabriela Gomes, mathematician studying infectious disease epidemiology, professor, University of Strathclyde, Scotland

Dr. Mike Hulme, professor of human geography, University of Cambridge, England

Dr. Michael Jackson, research fellow, School of Biological Sciences, University of Canterbury, New Zealand

Dr. Annie Janvier, professor of pediatrics and clinical ethics, Université de Montréal and Sainte-Justine University Medical Centre, Canada

Dr. David Katz, physician and president, True Health Initiative, and founder of the Yale University Prevention Research Center, USA

Dr. Andrius Kavaliunas, epidemiologist and assistant professor at Karolinska Institute, Sweden

Dr. Laura Lazzeroni, professor of psychiatry and behavioral sciences and of biomedical data science, Stanford University Medical School, USA

Dr. Michael Levitt, biophysicist and professor of structural biology, Stanford University, USA. Recipient of the 2013 Nobel Prize in Chemistry.

Dr. David Livermore, microbiologist, infectious disease epidemiologist and professor, University of East Anglia, England

Dr. Jonas Ludvigsson, pediatrician, epidemiologist and professor at Karolinska Institute and senior physician at Örebro University Hospital, Sweden

Dr. Paul McKeigue, physician, disease modeler and professor of epidemiology and public health, University of Edinburgh, Scotland

Dr. Cody Meissner, professor of pediatrics, expert on vaccine development, efficacy, and safety. Tufts University School of Medicine, USA

Dr. Ariel Munitz, professor of clinical microbiology and immunology, Tel Aviv University, Israel

Dr. Yaz Gulnur Muradoglu, professor of finance, director of the Behavioural Finance Working Group, Queen Mary University of London, England

Dr. Partha P. Majumder, professor and founder of the National Institute of Biomedical Genomics, Kalyani, India

Dr. Udi Qimron, professor of clinical microbiology and immunology, Tel Aviv University, Israel

Dr. Matthew Ratcliffe, professor of philosophy, specializing in philosophy of mental health, University of York, England

Dr. Mario Recker, malaria researcher and associate professor, University of Exeter, England

Dr. Eyal Shahar, physician, epidemiologist and professor (emeritus) of public health, University of Arizona, USA

Dr. Karol Sikora, physician, oncologist, and professor of medicine at the University of Buckingham, England

Dr. Matthew Strauss, critical care physician and assistant professor of medicine, Queen's University, Canada

Dr. Rodney Sturdivant, infectious disease scientist and associate professor of biostatistics, Baylor University, USA

Dr. Simon Thornley, epidemiologist and biostatistician, University of Auckland, New Zealand

Dr. Ellen Townsend, professor of psychology, head of the Self-Harm Research Group, University of Nottingham, England

Dr. Lisa White, professor of modelling and epidemiology, Oxford University, England

Dr. Alexander Walker, principal at World Health Information Science Consultants, former Chair of Epidemiology, Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health, USA

Dr. Simon Wood, biostatistician and professor, University of Edinburgh, Scotland

Observations on the Declaration

Finally, there are parts of the scientific community waking up and coming out of the woodwork to challenge the lockdown dogma - this is fantastic news. 'Lockdown hypnosis' has been entrenched across the world for the last 7 months and first and foremost is completely crushing people's lives and devastating the economies of the world.

This declaration is not in the mainstream narrative and is being trashed as I write. It is not backed by the WHO or the UK government, with Matt Hancock in particular deriding it in the House of Commons. This document has been signed by 35,000 doctors and scientists around the world. It can also be signed by the general public who agree with its intentions. I have personally signed the declaration.

Chapter Overview

- The pandemic has happened. Whether it was released intentionally by the Chinese or escaped inadvertently from the bio-weapons facility in Wuhan, that is for worldwide investigation should there be one, that is totally independent and transparent which is what is required.
- UK government was totally unprepared for the pandemic, even with a 2016 influenza simulation.
- The WHO is a political organisation backed by China and Bill Gates.
- Gates pops up everywhere (which should be starting you to twitch a bit).
- Gates has said that the entire world population of 7.7 billion people should be vaccinated. He is now saying that it will not be one vaccine but may require an annual inoculation.
- Clearly a safe vaccine will not be available anytime soon. The government needs to step up to the plate and make bold decisions to get the country back to normality urgently. Hopefully by the time you read this we will be.
- If Dr Yan is proven correct in her assertions and Covid 19 is man-made and is a product of the weapons facility in Wuhan then this has extremely serious implications.
- When people awaken around the world and realize they have been duped and lied to there will be hell to pay!

Chapter 5 – Vaccines

---

To vaccinate or not to vaccinate is one of the biggest questions in health and wellness today. People have fixed views one way or the other, they are entrenched, and they are not for changing. This is human nature and is exactly what I would expect. So why is there such a heated debate on this, and yes, it is very heated.

Reason for vaccine debate

As an adult you want to do the best for your children; you would literally die to save them if you had to make that choice, God forbid. That instinctive bond between parent and child is what has allowed humanity to thrive. When your child is vaccinated you are putting your total faith into the medical system who are telling you that the vaccine is 100% safe, you do not need to worry. You believe them and because you love your child more than anything in the world you have allowed your child to be injected, to protect them from a deadly disease. And if someone like me says, hold on a minute have you personally checked this out for yourself, looking at all the science from every angle? And because you haven't (because you believe what you are being told by the medical establishment so why should I need to research it further?) you will get very defensive and protective. This is human nature and I 100% accept that point of view. The difference between me and you is I don't always believe what I am being told by the scientists, because scientists do not have a good track record: anybody including all scientists can be coerced with money to say or manipulate anything and that, sadly, is also human nature.

Why is there a problem with vaccines?

I have been researching this for years and it one of the most contentious subjects you can delve into. It immediately gets people's attention, because you are challenging people's deep-rooted convictions concerning the safety of their children. If you are going to challenge that then you are going to have to come up with scientific proof to the contrary that is irrefutable.

The established narrative on vaccination is that it is a good thing, that they are safe and protect people from infections and possible life-threatening consequences. This is the overwhelming view of the mainstream scientific community, obviously the media, and therefore governments. Therefore, anyone who says anything to the contrary, that indeed they are not safe, you are branded as an anti-vaxxer and that you are basically a liar.

In the context of the plandemic, the subject of vaccination has become a central tenet of getting people protected and getting them back to work without the risk of death from Covid-19. So that is as much as most people think: if the government says vaccines are safe then that is good enough for me. So, we must discuss this subject in detail because it is my assertion that vaccination is one of the key drivers of the whole plandemic.

To challenge or not to challenge?

When you challenge the established narrative, because it doesn't quite stack up, you become a conspiracist, which immediately puts you in the bonkers category. As with any other conspiracy, if that is the word we need to use here, it has only become to be seen as this because there is sufficient evidence and a growing number of prominent scientists saying that there is a problem. Even though there are scientists now challenging the narrative, the public is not hearing about it. Why is that?

Censored

As we have already discussed, all social media has lined up behind the WHO, and anyone who says otherwise is censored. For example, any YouTube channel questioning the accepted narrative is being taken down. So, you may think, if it goes against what the WHO is saying then it should be taken down. However, challenging WHO is simply healthy scientific debate, and something more fundamental than that, freedom of speech. What have they got to hide?

Did you know that:

- Most vaccines are not safety tested against any placebo.
- Animal testing would be skipped for the future COVID vaccines.
- There are 30+ ingredients used in vaccines, including neurotoxic aluminium and mercury molecules.
- The pharmaceutical companies are not liable for damages from vaccine induced injury: I bet you did not know that.

Do these four things worry you?

Pharmaceutical companies' indemnity from prosecution

Here is the relevant Act:

Wikipedia - The National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act (NCVIA) of 1986 was signed into law by US President Ronald Reagan as part of a larger health bill on November 14, 1986. NCVIA's purpose was to eliminate the potential financial liability of vaccine manufacturers due to vaccine injury claims in order to ensure a stable market supply of vaccines, and to provide cost-effective arbitration for vaccine injury claims.

The pharmaceutical companies had said to the US government that they would stop making vaccines (as they were having to pay out billions in compensation for vaccine-damaged children) if the government did not indemnify them. That is powerful stuff. The Act got passed in the US. You need to realise that the pharmaceutical cartel is probably the most powerful lobby in the US, with billions of dollars at its disposal. The U.S. government has, over the past three decades, paid more than $4 billion to people who claim to have been harmed by vaccines. According to its public record, from 2013 to 2017 alone, the program paid out an average of $229 million a year to patients and their families. The average payment was about $430,000.

What about the UK?

In the 1970s, the Pearson commission recommended that the Government should accept liability to pay full compensation for vaccine injury on the basis that it is the very occasional price that society pays for the benefit of defeating disease through national vaccination programmes. At that time, vaccines were not such a major part of the public health programme as they are today. During the intervening years, vaccines have greatly grown in importance and use.

Today, the compensation award in the UK is just £120,000. Yes £120,000: totally inadequate compensation for someone who could be seriously and profoundly disabled.

It is not adequate to say that, as an alternative, consumers should sue. No civil claim has ever succeeded for vaccine injury in this jurisdiction and this reflects the fact that the UK legal system is not claimant friendly. The situation has become much worse since legal aid has been abolished. It is now impossible to take on a multinational pharmaceutical corporation, as the costs of a claim are so high that no one could possibly afford it. It can cost £10,000 just to issue a claim!

Here is what the Gov.UK site refers to with regard to its Vaccine Damage Payment, its tax-free one-off payment of £120,000. The following is taken from the Gov.UK website:

Eligibility

You could get a payment if you are severely disabled and your disability was caused by vaccination against any of the following diseases:

- diphtheria
- haemophilus influenzae type B (HIB)
- human papillomavirus
- influenza, except for influenza caused by a pandemic influenza virus
- measles
- meningococcal group B (meningitis B)
- meningococcal group C (meningitis C)
- meningococcal group W (meningitis W)
- mumps
- pandemic influenza A (H1N1) 2009 (swine flu) - up to 31 August 2010
- pertussis (whooping cough)
- pneumococcal infection
- poliomyelitis
- rotavirus
- rubella (German measles)
- smallpox - up to 1 August 1971
- tetanus
- tuberculosis (TB)

You may have had a combined vaccination against a number of the diseases listed. For example, you might have been vaccinated against DTP (diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis) or MMR (measles, mumps, and rubella).

You may also be able to get a payment if you are severely disabled because either:
your mother was vaccinated against one of the diseases in the list while she was pregnant you have been in close physical contact with someone who's had an oral vaccine against poliomyelitis

What counts as 'severely disabled'

Disablement is worked out as a percentage, and 'severe disablement' means at least 60% disabled.

This could be a mental or physical disablement and will be based on medical evidence from the doctors or hospitals involved in your treatment.

When and where the vaccination must have taken place

You must normally have been vaccinated before your 18th birthday, unless the vaccination was during an outbreak of disease in the UK or the Isle of Man, or it was against:

- poliomyelitis
- rubella
- meningococcal group C
- human papillomavirus
- pandemic influenza A (H1N1) 2009 (swine flu)
- meningococcal group W before your 26th birthday

The vaccination must have been given in the UK or the Isle of Man, unless you were vaccinated as part of your armed forces medical treatment.

The deadly virus

The fundamental question we all need to know regarding the 'coronavirus outbreak' is: Have we isolated the actual virus that is causing the vicious disease? This is the point where we need to detail some science.

Koch's Postulates

It was Robert Koch, a German physician, who in 1884 (yes 136 years ago) produced the four criteria for proving that a particular microorganism is the cause of a given disease. These criteria have been used ever since by mainstream scientists as the 'gold standard' to test for a particular disease. They are called Koch's Postulates:

1. The microorganism must be found in abundance in all organisms suffering from the disease but should not be found in healthy organisms.
2. The microorganism must be isolated from a diseased organism and grown in pure culture.
3. The cultured microorganism should cause disease when introduced into a health organism.
4. The microorganism must be re-isolated from the inoculated, diseased experimental host and identified as being identical to the original specific causative agent.

This is all very logical and easily understood.

Viruses are not living organisms; they are dead pieces of DNA/RNA so they cannot be grown in a pure culture. Koch's Postulates have been taken to provide the basis of a revised sequence of testing for Viruses and are called Rivers Criteria (1937), after virologist Thomas Milton Rivers, the 'father of modern virology', and they differ from Koch's in key respects.

Rivers' Criteria

1. Isolation of the virus from the diseased host
2. Cultivation of the virus in host cells
3. Proof of filterability
4. Produce the same disease in the host
5. Re-isolation of the virus
6. Detection of a specific immune response to the virus

So, how does Covid-19 stack up against The Koch/Rivers criteria. And the answer is that it does not.

Dr Andrew Kaufman (censored) www.andrewkaufmanmd.com. Please watch Koch's Postulates Have They Been Proven for Viruses? from Dr Kaufman. Search online for 'Kaufman Koch's Postulates and you will find the video.

Dr Kaufman has analysed all of the studies that have been carried out to date that were conducted on the Covid-19 virus and concludes that no studies have met the first three Rivers' Criteria and no studies have addressed criteria 4 or 5 (4-Produce the same disease in the host and 5-Re-isolation of the virus). So, what Kaufman is fundamentally saying is that the scientific community has not yet properly isolated the virus and proved it by following the scientific establishment's gold standard criteria for identifying a new virus.

---

Please also watch Brian Rose's discussion with Dr Kaufman at the London Real freedom platform titled Unmasking the lies around Covid -19: Facts vs Fiction of the Coronavirus Pandemic at www.londonreal.tv/kaufman. I believe Dr Kaufman is highly credible.

This is a must watch video!

What then is Covid-19? And where did it come from?

This is the $64,000 question. Some say it came from the wet markets of Wuhan, some say it came from the bioweapon's facility in Wuhan, released by accident or released deliberately, and some say it does not exist at all.

So, what is the Covid-19 test testing for if we cannot even isolate the virus? Kaufman explains this in his video. What they have isolated is DNA and RNA sequences from the lung fluid of ill patients in Wuhan, which has then been replicated in other laboratories around the world from the lung fluid of other ill patients.

It is Kaufman's belief that many normal healthy people will also have these same genetic sequences (especially if they have had flu vaccines in the past) because we do not know that what they have isolated is actually a virus. Therefore, when you test for this DNA/RNA sequence and you are positive, but show no symptoms, it is possible that the DNA/RNA sequence is actually part of you and is causing no harm, and fundamentally is not a virus. People are not dying of Covid-19 virus (or whatever it is) they are dying with it, and there is the difference.

As you would expect, Dr Kaufman has been vilified by mainstream scientists, the media and big pharma for speaking out of turn and is very much on the naughty step. He also says he has lost many friends, but also says he now has gained many new friends from doctors he did not know before who endorse his findings. However, these doctors are scared to put their heads above the parapet and join him because they fear retribution and possibly losing their livelihoods.

Dr Rashid Buttar (censored)

I want to introduce you to another one of my superheroes, Dr Rashid Buttar and I am going to point you again to London Real and Brian Rose's discussion with him. You will find it on the Freedom Platform at www.londonreal.tv/roundtable

The key feature of this video is that there are also 150 doctors on the call in a Zoom room. Dr Buttar has been vilified by the Wikipedia people who have created a page about him. They say he "is an American conspiracy theorist, anti-vaccine proponent": welcome to the club.

The 'anti-vaccine' phrase above is a link to vaccine hesitancy and this is what it says:

Vaccine hesitancy, also known as anti-vaccination or anti-vax, is a reluctance or refusal to be vaccinated or to have one's children vaccinated against contagious diseases despite the availability of vaccination services. It is identified by the World Health Organisation as one of the top ten global health threats of 2019. The term encompasses outright refusal to vaccinate, delaying vaccines, accepting vaccines but remaining uncertain about their use, or using certain vaccines but not others. Arguments against vaccination are contradicted by overwhelming scientific consensus about the safety and efficacy of vaccines.

Please keep an open mind, especially when it says, "overwhelming scientific consensus". Remember, Wikipedia is not independent, so you can get lost in a warren of rabbit holes. Go with your instincts, what your gut is telling you. You will know the truth when you see it because you have opened your heart to it.

I believe Dr Buttar is totally sincere. I ask the question, why would you go to the lengths he has in the last 6 months to warn us all if he was lying? It makes no sense. You decide once you have watched the video. The video lasts 2 hours and during it 31 questions are asked on key questions, which the other doctors voted on. So, this is not merely a video interview between two people but reflects a consensus of opinion of the 150 doctors on the video.

The Covid-19 vaccine story so far

Gates, the visionary

In 2015, Gates gave a TED Talk titled, The next Outbreak? We're not ready, where he explains that while the greatest threat to humanity when he was growing up was nuclear war, the greatest threat now is a virus. To view this online, just search for 'Next outbreak Bill Gates and you will find the video.

"If anything kills over 10 million people in the next few decades, it's likely to be a highly infectious virus rather than a war. Not missiles, but microbes."

Gates' intention was to position himself in a positive light to connect with the public psyche. If something were to happen, "Gates would know the solution!", they will cry. Did Gates know something? Something you cannot deny is that Gates is front of house now.

Gates has gone on record that he wants to vaccinate every man, woman and child on planet Earth against Covid-19. There is no mention of safety, informed consent, or the right to refuse unwanted medical interventions. Remember, as this book goes to press, there is no COVID-19 vaccine. There has never been a vaccine for a coronavirus in 50 years because the nature of the virus makes it impossible to date to vaccinate against. Again, people do not know this simple bit of science - it is out there if you go looking for it.

Event 201

On October 18, 2019, the Johns Hopkins Centre for Health Security, the World Economic Forum and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation hosted Event 201, which was described "a high-level pandemic exercise" carried out in New York.

The exercise illustrated areas where public/private partnerships will be "necessary" during the response to a severe pandemic to diminish large-scale economic and societal consequences:

"Experts agree that it is only a matter of time before one of these epidemics becomes global — a pandemic with potentially catastrophic consequences. A severe pandemic, which becomes 'Event 201', would require reliable cooperation among several industries, national governments, and key international institutions."

Coincidence or what?

The group claims they did not "predict" the coronavirus, despite modelling their pandemic under the same name. There are striking similarities:

"Event 201 simulated an outbreak of a novel zoonotic coronavirus transmitted from bats to pigs to people that eventually becomes efficiently transmissible from person to person, leading to a severe pandemic. The pathogen was modelled largely on SARS, but it is more transmissible in the community setting by people with mild symptoms.

There is no possibility of a vaccine being available in the first year."

Furthermore, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation funded a research centre in the UK called the Pirbright Institute, which specialises in the study of viruses that affect farm animals, and viruses which transfer from animals to people. They own a similar patent for a type of coronavirus affecting animals.

October 18th 2019: this date is not a coincidence in my opinion. Event 201 proved they were ready to enact the greatest deception on humanity and the green light was pushed. How do these people sleep at night?

The world has fallen for the deception, hook, line and sinker. Now, nations are crying out for a 'solution' to the growing COVID-19 'crisis' and good old Bill Gates, as a knight in shining armour, has come to the rescue.

Gates has said that broad vaccination for COVID-19 will need to become available "before you can be completely safe". Until then, according to his claims, there is a risk that communities could rebound unless they continue to practise strict social distancing and quarantines to see case numbers level off.

Gates said he does not think large gatherings will be able to resume until widespread vaccination has taken place, as the "risks would outweigh the benefits" of such events.

World leaders agree with Gates' timeline and perspectives.

Gates has also called for a "national tracking system, similar to South Korea", saying that "In Seattle, the University of Washington is providing thousands of tests per day, but no one is connected to a national tracking system". He has said that whenever there is a positive test, it should be used to understand where the disease is and whether we need to strengthen social distancing.

For the future, he has also floated the idea of 'vaccine certificates' to show proof-of-vaccination following the widespread rollout of COVID-19 products, which will also make squillions of dollars for the pharmaceutical companies. This would be a new requirement for international and domestic travel and is tipped to further expand to all facets of life. Take the COVID-19 vaccine or refuse and be denied basic services and risk being labelled as a 'health threat'. To put it bluntly: take the jab or be targeted.

Gates has slammed Donald Trump's handling of the pandemic, saying "serious mistakes" have been made by the White House, as he predicted schools could be closed until autumn 2021. Speaking during an interview with Norah O'Donnell on CBS News, Gates said he had faith in the development of a coronavirus vaccine. However, he warned it could take an "unbelievably big number" of doses to beat the virus. He said: "None of the vaccines at this point appear like they'll work with a single dose. That was the hope at the very beginning."

However, he said the solution will "improve over time" even though there will be "a lot of uncertainty" about the vaccine.

So, the question you need to answer is, are you are going to hold out your arm in limp submission to be pierced with a needle that has who knows what in it? Remember, this vaccine will probably not have been double blind placebo tested to prove that it actually works and that is proven that there are no horrific side effects.

A new arms race, literally

A vaccine under normal circumstances would take 3 – 5 years to bring to market and would include several levels of safety testing. Instead, now we have a race between competing companies and countries around the world to 'fast-track' or 'warp-speed' a new 'all singing and dancing' vaccine in 12 months max. As John McEnroe once said, "You cannot be serious". I am a layman; I am not a scientist. To me this is a beyond belief that anyone would want to be injected with a vaccine that has not been adequately safety tested; a vaccine where we do not know the side effects and because we have not safety tested the vaccine we will have no idea what those side effects are going to be. Genius.

If it were not so incredibly serious it would be comical. That Joe Public would believe that a fast-tracked, inadequately tested vaccine for a virus that, at the end of the day, is only slightly worse than the annual flu epidemic, is going to save them from catching the 'deadly' Covid-19 disease.

Please, do not believe me, research it for yourself and then come to your own conclusion. All I am doing is giving you more information so you can make a more informed judgement before you get vaccinated or not.

Would you buy a car that was not fully safety tested? "Oh sir/madam, we have just fast-tracked this new Porsche 2021. You will be the first to get it, it looks stunning and you can be one up on the neighbours. The engine is to die for, 0-60mph in 2 seconds. The reason we have got it to market so quickly is that our engineers think that it doesn't need a braking system. They haven't tested it, but they still think it should be OK".

That is what you are doing when you get in the queue to be vaccinated. I want to shock you; this book needs to be hard-hitting because we must take back control of our bodies and minds. Please do not read this book and forget about what you have read and then send it to the charity shop. Give it to the person you love the most and you ask them to do the same when they have read it. If you think I am bonkers I do not care. If I have pricked your consciousness to research this properly and research the scientists and people I am recommending to you then I have done my job; my conscience is clear.

By law, every vaccine must have a patient information leaflet, and this leaflet must have a list of adverse events, i.e. side effects. If you or as the parent do not have this information, then you are not going to make the connection; this is called informed consent. 99.9% of people will not read the small print on a leaflet that has a list of side effects that could profoundly change their health. They are blindingly believing that the vaccine is 100% safe and that the authorities have their best interests at heart.

Here is what one Italian doctor thinks in a letter to Robert Kennedy.

A letter to Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. by Dr. Antonietta M. Gatti, reproduced in full:

Dear Robert,

I don't know if you are completely aware of the Italian situation. Summarizing everything in a few words, Italy was sold to Big Pharma and has become a huge laboratory where experiments are carried out on the population: adults, children, old, healthy, sick people... it makes no difference, we are all guinea pigs. Now the business, and not just an economic one, is to force 60 million Italians to get vaccinated against COVID, so much so that tens of millions of doses of a product have already been purchased, a product that, in fact, is unknown both in terms of effectiveness and, above all, in terms of side effects. In the meantime, while waiting to receive the goods, a law is being passed according to which everyone, including children, must be vaccinated against the flu (why?), and this in addition to the 10 vaccines that are already mandatory.

As if that were not enough, many personal freedoms, although guaranteed by the Constitution, have been brutally cancelled.

As you know, for years we have been analysing vaccines, finding them always dangerously polluted and we are contacted daily by families of children damaged by vaccines.

Now, in our parliament there is no longer any difference between majority and opposition and, if the situation remains that of today, we will have no escape.

For some months, a group of highly educated people has formed a political party called MOVIMENTO 3 V (Movement We Want the Truth about Vaccines). Neither Stefano nor I are members of the party, but we have been asked to help them from a scientific point of view, and this is what we are doing.

We would all be very grateful if you could inform your people of what is happening in Italy and if you could write an appeal to encourage the Italians to support the party which, at the present time, is the only possibility of making a voice heard that is different from that of the regime.

Thank you very much and best regards,
Antonietta

P.S. During the lockdown we had no “sudden infant death syndromes”. After the lockdown, baby vaccination started again, and we had a dead baby in Turin and another child in two twins died and the girl survived but she is an emergency therapy.

Dr. Antonietta M. Gatti

International Fellow USBE

Visiting Professor to Int. Clean Water Institute (Washington, USA),

President of Health, Law and Science Association

Past-Consultant to the Governmental Commission on the depleted Uranium (XVI legislatura)

Wow! Let that sink in a bit. If that does not make you sit up and say, “Oh shit, we really do have a problem,” then my friend we are not on the same wavelength.

More information on vaccines

Please remember, I am given you the alternative view which you must consider as part of your assessment of all the information. As additional information, I am now pointing you to a movie called Vaxxed the Movie and you can find it at www.Vaxxedthemovie.com

In 2013, biologist Dr Brian Hooker received a call from a senior scientist at the U.S. Centres for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), who had led the agency’s 2004 study on the Measles-Mumps-Rubella (MMR) vaccine and its link to autism.

The scientist, Dr William Thompson, confessed that the CDC had omitted crucial data in their final report that revealed a causal relationship between the MMR vaccine and autism.

Over several months, Dr Hooker recorded the phone calls made to him by Dr Thompson who provided the confidential data destroyed by his colleagues at the CDC.

Dr Hooker enlisted the help of Andrew Wakefield, the British gastroenterologist who was accused of starting the anti-vax movement when he first reported in 1998 that the MMR vaccine may cause autism (for which you will remember he was ‘struck off’ being a doctor).

In his ongoing effort to advocate for children's health, Wakefield directs this documentary, examining the evidence behind an appalling cover-up committed by the government agency charged with protecting the health of American citizens.

Interviews with pharmaceutical insiders, doctors, politicians, and parents of vaccine-injured children reveal an alarming deception that has contributed to the skyrocketing increase of autism and potentially the most catastrophic epidemic of our lifetime.

I want you to come to your own conclusion on vaccines and whether they are safe to inject into your children (and you for that matter).

VAXXED II the Movie

In 2016, a media firestorm erupted when Tribeca Film Festival abruptly censored its documentary selection, Vaxxed: From Cover-up to Catastrophe, amid pressure from pro-pharmaceutical interests. In response to media silence on the CDC whistle-blower, Dr William Thompson, who admitted to fraud on a pivotal vaccine safety study, Vaxxed catapulted to notoriety and became a worldwide trending topic, opening to sold-out theatre audiences nationwide. Stunned by the immense volume of parents lining up outside the theatres with vaccine injury stories to share, Vaxxed producer Polly Tommey began to livestream worldwide reaching millions, and a community that had once been silenced was empowered to rise up.

In Vaxxed II: The People's Truth, Tommey and the team travelled over 50,000 miles in the USA and around the world. Interviews of parents and doctors with nothing to gain and everything to lose exposed the vaccine injury epidemic and asked the question on every parent's mind, "Are vaccines really as safe and effective as we've been told?"

1986 The Act

2020 - A new film has just been produced and released by Andrew Wakefield called 1986 The Act. This tells the story of vaccination in a highly thought-provoking way. In it, a pregnant woman, with the help of her husband, are having to decide whether to vaccinate their new baby or not when it is delivered. They investigate the history of vaccines and how the Act in 1986 has turned the vaccine industry from a $170 million to a $70 billion industry.

This film can be found at www.1986TheAct.com. I highly recommend you watch it, even though it will cost you $9.99 to access it.

Plandemic Indoctrination

This is another recommended film, released on London Real in August 2020. This film is free to view and can be found at www.freedomplatform.tv/plandemic

The film has been created by the team behind the game-changing Plandemic video segment from Mikki Willis which featured Dr Judy Mikovits. This went viral and was banned on every major social media platform for exposing the truth about Covid-19. This completely new feature length piece is the most revelatory film yet on what is driving the vaccine agenda. It outlines the various roles of the WHO, Bill Gates, Tedros Adhanom, Anthony Fauci and others.

Plandemic Indoctrination goes deep into what is happening with mainstream media, Silicon Valley tech giants, big pharma and our health protection agencies. Willis's new film connects the dots of the conspiracy and features Dr David E Martin who's research on vaccine patents and the role of companies such as Moderna and how by following the money you can see clearly what is really going on during the Coronavirus crisis.

Here is some of the information in the film that will shock you.

- 1999 patents on coronavirus showed up for the first time
- March 2003 coronavirus outbreak in Hong Kong: The US Centre for Disease Control (CDC) saw this as a virus they knew could be easily manipulatable and could be used to make money. In 2003 the CDC filed a patent for the coronavirus transmitted to humans. Patent numbers 7220852B1 and 7776521B1
- Here is the text of the patent abstract: “Disclosed herein is a newly isolated human coronavirus (SARS-CoV), the causative agent of severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS). Also provided are the nucleic acid sequence of the SARS-CoV genome and the amino acid sequences of the SARS-CoV open reading frames, as well as the methods of using these molecules to detect a SARS-CoV and detect infections therewith. Immune stimulatory compositions are also provided, along with methods of their use.”
- Anything coming from nature is prohibited from being patented. The opposite of that, if it is manufactured i.e. developed in a laboratory it can be patented and potentially produce a vaccine gold-rush
- National Institute of Health in the US, in 2013 starts to question federal funding in this area, and as result stated: “Gain of function research on coronavirus should be suspended in the US”. As the discussion hotted up in 2014/15, research was eventually offshored to the Wuhan Institute of Virology for them to carry on with the further gain of function edgy research, but the key here, it is still being funded by the US.
- There have been many potentially catastrophic leaks from the laboratories of the CDC over the years
- Fauci has been one of the main players in the development of the corona vaccine gold rush.

CORONAVIRUS HAS BEEN PATENTED: the evidence is right in front of our faces.

As part of your research I implore you to watch Plandemic Indoctrination.

Another must-watch videocast between Rose and Dr David Martin called Exposing Moderna, also available to view on the Freedom Platform. A key revelation in this video relates to Moderna, (a US company that is being promoted by Fauci and Gates as being at the forefront of the race to get a Covid-19 vaccine into the marketplace and into your bloodstream). On the 28th March 2019, as part of a Moderna patent application, this was written:

“Because of a concern for re-emergence or a deliberate release of Sars Corona virus, vaccine development WAS initiated”

Now read that again.

WOW! WOW! A deliberate release was being contemplated and the vaccine development was already initiated.

The patent application was first submitted in 2015 and was continually refused on many occasions by the patent office, but on 28.3.19, suddenly it was given approval.

So, there we have it. Someone who was associated with Moderna knew that there was going to be a deliberate release of a Sars Corona virus. Only 9 months after the patent application was approved the pandemic or plandemic was initiated.

Since 2003 there have been over 1,400 patents have been approved on the Sars Corona Virus vaccines and vaccine related technology. The industrial complex of the coronavirus.

Oh, and guess who is a former board member of Moderna? None other than Moncef Slaoui, who has been appointed by Trump as his administration's vaccine czar. Slaoui is the top scientist on Operation Warp Speed, the administration's quest to develop a coronavirus vaccine in record time. Like the title given to this initiative, it sounds science fiction, but this is all too real - yet another piece of evidence pointing to a cosy conspiracy to create a vaccine for the benefit of a few, not the many. And Slaoui has refused to give up investments worth millions of dollars which he holds in GlaxoSmithKlein, who, oh look, is another protagonist in Operation Warp Speed. The overseeing czar will directly and flagrantly benefit from decisions he makes on granting vaccine licenses.

“There is no bigger issue in world health today, than vaccine safety and efficacy”. Peter Ragg

(I thought I should create my own statement)

The World Health Organisation has said that vaccine hesitancy is one of the greatest threats to human health on this planet. They are at war with those that question the safety and efficacy, so you are not allowed to question it. It has become a religion which must be followed and not questioned.

Here is what one US doctor has found out and the questions he is now asking:

Vaccines... Don't be me. I am an M.D. but let me tell you what you do not know about vaccines and what I didn't know and what 90% of all M.D.'s do not know and what no politician knows.

I did not know that vaccines have not been tested against any placebo (ever).

I did not know that animal testing would be skipped for the future COVID vaccines.

I did not know the 30+ ingredients used in vaccines.

I did not know that there are neurotoxic aluminium and mercury molecules in vaccines.

I did not know enough to research vaccines before vaccinating my own children.

I did not know that vaccines were given a blanket indemnity from liability in 1986 and now total immunity for all COVID vaccines for the future.

I did not know that we gave more vaccines (US) than any other country, starting on day #1.

I did not know that we have the highest rate (US) of sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS) of the top 35 industrialized countries.

I did not know that we had more autism than any other country.

I did not know that vaccines could injure an infant's brain.

I did not know that vaccines can result in autoimmunity and neurological damage.

I did not know that herd immunity does not apply to vaccines and is a myth created by the CDC.

I did not know that vaccines have almost no effect after about four years.

I did not know how emotional the topic would be and how angry people would be at me for just asking questions about vaccine safety.

I did not know that paediatricians were paid to give vaccines.

I did not know that the CDC owned the patents on so many vaccines.

I did not know that the NIH stands to make billions of dollars on a COVID vaccine.

I did not know how angry at myself I would be for not knowing.

I did not know that the CDC committed fraud and destroyed their evidence in their vaccine safety studies when it showed vaccines can cause autistic neurological changes.

I did not know that a whistle-blower came forward with all the evidence, but he was silenced. (Note: The scientist, Dr William Thompson, confessed that the CDC had omitted crucial data in their final report that revealed a causal relationship between the MMR vaccine and autism).

I did not know that Merck committed fraud in their vaccine research repeatedly.

I did not know that aluminium molecules in the vaccine ingredients is connected to brain inflammation and brain inflammation has been proven to be connected to autism.

I did not know that vaccines contained human cells from aborted fetuses.

I did not know how much mainstream media would censor the independent research that showed these facts.

I did not know that 90% of all vaccine research that the CDC and FDA use to "approve" vaccines are done by the scientists hired by vaccine makers.

I did not know if we were alone.

I did not know how many other millions of parents and families in the world have been affected by vaccine reactions.

I did not know how many would find, join, and share the Facebook help group = Vaccine Support Group on Facebook.

I did not know that FB would delete the scientific medical research that had been suppressed, deleted, or censored until it happened to us.

You now must take this information and research it for yourself.

For your information, the CDC (Centre for Disease Control) in the US calls the shots. Did you know, it is not an independent government agency? It is a privately owned subsidiary of Big Pharma. Robert Kennedy Jnr claims the CDC owns patents on at least 57 different vaccines and profits by $4.1 billion/year in vaccination sales.

Guess what has just happened in the UK - Public Health England (PHE) is to be replaced with a newly formed organisation responsible for dealing with pandemics to be called the National Institute for Health Protection (NIHP). This is a rip-off of the US version NIH (National Institutes of Health).

Public Health England was formed in 2013 as part of a series of government health reforms. An 'executive agency' of the Department of Health and Social Care, PHE "was ultimately under the direct control of ministers" and was intended to "protect and improve the nation's health and well-being and reduce health inequalities". The government is now using the PHE as the scapegoat to blame for its failings in poor coronavirus death data and ambiguous information.

What will the new UK agency do?

According to health secretary Matt Hancock, NIHP will have "a single and relentless mission - protecting people from external threats to this country's health". Hancock also said that the new body will be "dedicated to the investigation and prevention of external threats such as pandemics, infectious diseases and biological weapons".

In my view, this will be a US-style agency controlled directly or indirectly by Big Pharma probably (we will have to watch this space on that one), perpetuating the Armageddon agenda and putting the fear of god into people, if we could do it anymore. The key effect of this change will be to change the governing authority of this new NIHP from ministers to technocrats.

Google's role as censor

Here is an article by Robert F Kennedy Jr, titled Another alternative researcher bites the dust, which outlines Google's motives for censoring debate on vaccines:

On July 29, YouTube terminated Del Bigtree's "The Highwire" account after he posted a video of Del and me discussing my debate with Alan Dershowitz on vaccine mandates. YouTube also purged hundreds of other truthful videos on vaccines.

YouTube's owner, Google, is effectively a vaccine company. Two subsidiaries of Google's parent company, Alphabet, market and manufacture vaccines: Calico and Verily. Arthur Levinson, Genentech's former CEO, runs Calico, an anti-aging drug company while Verily teams with Pharma to conduct drug and vaccine clinical trials.

In 2016, Alphabet inked a $715 million deal with GlaxoSmithKline to create Galvani, another venture to develop bioelectronic medicines and vaccines and to mine medical information from Google customers. Google's Customer Services President, Mary Ellen Coe, sits on Merck's board.

In 2016, Google partnered with Sanofi, launching Onduo, a virtual diabetes clinic and in 2018 in another business that uses analytics to develop new drugs and vaccines.

In 2018, Google invested $27,000,000 in Vaccitech to make vaccines for flu, MERS, and prostate cancer. Vaccitech calls itself "the future of mass vaccine production." In 2020, Vaccitech started work on a COVID vaccine. Google claims to provide politically and commercially neutral searches, but it systemically manipulates search results to suppress accurate vaccine safety and efficacy information and steers users toward deceptive and fraudulent Pharma propaganda.

Google's algorithms censor negative information about COVID vaccines and positive information about therapies like hydroxychloroquine that compete with the vaccines in development. Google censors reports that diminish public panic about COVID-19. Google's definition of "misinformation" is "any information, even if accurate and true, which criticizes vaccination products." Facebook and Google hired "FactChecker" (Politifact) to censor vaccine misinformation.

Politifact was launched by a grant from the Gates Foundation, the world's largest vaccine promoter. Google's orchestrated censorship across social media is crippling legitimate debates over international vaccination policies. This is a crisis for liberal democracies.

So, there you have it. Google is more powerful than any government, as it can decide what people can and cannot search for. Del Bigtree is one of the good guys, please engage with him.

Observations so far on vaccines

We are at war. It is quite incredible that in an age of information, something as important as vaccine safety cannot be aired freely. There is a war going on behind the scenes and in the open between vaxxers and anti-vaxxers. You would expect open unbiased debate on a subject that is so important to the integrity of new-borns and for adults. And that informed debate involving scientists from across all aspect of research and front-line health care workers, paediatricians and doctors could come to a consensus as to the safety or otherwise of vaccines.

I hope you would agree. This is logical and is needed urgently, especially in the 'new normal' world where ramping up vaccination programs is very much on the agenda. I am labelled an anti-vaxxer and therefore I must be silenced. All I seek is the truth; if vaccines can be shown to be 100% safe and I can see the proper safety testing that has been carried out. This should include double blind placebo testing and immunity from prosecution should be removed from the pharmaceutical companies. If all that was clearly established, I would be happy to hold my arm out to be vaccinated, but not until that has been set in place.

It is depressing to hear as I did yesterday (10.8.20) a popular female radio presenter on Talk Radio, when discussing the latest situation with a potential new vaccine live on radio said, that “anti-vaxxers were idiots”. OK so I am an idiot, sorry about that. The only thing I seek is the truth, please, please understand that. When neighbours and friends of mine and my sons one day are having children and they are being vaccinated from birth, and where the companies who make them have immunity from prosecution, it makes me feel sick. I pray for their children that they will not be compromised.

Two things I am not: I am not stupid, and I am not an idiot. I will say again, I just seek the truth. Show me the truth, show me, I want proof.

Vaccines: proof required

The best way to prove this one way or the other is for scientists to do the research and compare the results for vaccinated children versus unvaccinated children for autism, autoimmune disease and any other potential vaccine-induced injuries.

Go on, do it. It will not take long as the data will be out there. It just requires a body of totally independent scientists to answer this fundamental question once and for all: are vaccines safe, and if they are not, what is going to be done about it? Or do the pharmaceutical companies have something to hide, because the studies have already been done and we have not been allowed to see the results? To me, it is obvious the studies must have been done and that there is something to hide. This now becomes a conspiracy and I can also be labelled a conspiracy theorist as well as an anti-vaxxer and an idiot. This is pretty good, Peter.

A US statistic on vaccination

In 1985/86, 12.8% of US children had chronic life-affecting illnesses. Vaccination levels at that time were 11 vaccines for children. In 2020 this figure has mushroomed to a staggering 54% have chronic life affecting illnesses from 54 different vaccines and 72 doses in total. Most of these cases are autoimmune diseases.

Autism

Let us look at the key issue of the prevalence of autism. Recent US Statistics - The Centres for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) own statistics (26.3.20). One in 54 children had a diagnosis of autism by age 8 in 2016, a nearly 10 percent increase over 2014 when the estimate was 1 in 59. Wide variation, these range from a low of 1 in 76 in Colorado to a high of 1 in 32 in New Jersey. In 2004 it was 1 in 166. Boys are four times as likely to be diagnosed as girls. You might like to know in the 1980s autism prevalence was reported as 4 in 10,000. In the nineties, prevalence was 1 in 2500.

UK data on autism

A new report on autism in U.K. schools from the National Council on Severe Autism indicates sharp increases in prevalence rates over a nine-year period through 2019. The report saw autism rates climbing in all four countries of England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

Northern Ireland had the highest prevalence throughout, reaching 3.20% of all students by 2018/19, more than double 1.41 nine years prior). The lowest rate in 2019 was 1.92% in Wales, a number that aligns with the rate seen in a recent study of U.S. children by the CDC. England, which has by far the largest population of schoolchildren (8,180,469 in 2019) had a rate of 2.25%, with Scotland seeing a slightly higher rate of 2.51%

The mainstream narrative states that a combination of genetic and environmental factors influences the development of autism. They do not associate autism to the much higher levels of vaccinations now taking place. My question would be, why in a world where we are supposed to preventing disease and things like autism why are we not stopping this in its tracks? This is a staggering state of affairs; this data is horrific; did you know this? Check out the data and graphs for yourself, then you decide.

Safety testing of vaccines

As I have said, vaccines are not adequately safety tested and they have not been for 50 years. You would expect wouldn't you, what is called a randomised 'double blind placebo test' where a sample population would be injected with a trial and that double blind means that some people would get the test vaccine while the rest would be injected with a placebo, such as sugar water, but fundamentally not the vaccine. And from a study point of view, all subjects including the testers doing the study, would not know which person had the vaccine or the sugar water placebo. This would only be revealed at the end of the study when the comparisons between the two groups can be made. This is what you would expect, as it is common practice in other areas of medicine testing. In this way you would know conclusively and statistically that the vaccine was effective or not as the case may be. However, this is not done with vaccines. To me this is insane, and it means:

You are allowing you and your children (if you have any), to be injected with a vaccine that has not been adequately safety tested and will have a list of side effects as long as your arm, and many of these side effects will be autoimmune diseases.

Holding people to account

People and public officials who contribute to unnecessary deaths can be held to account and can be personally liable. It is called malfeasance, the definition of which is: Intentional conduct that is wrongful or unlawful, especially by officials or public employees. Malfeasance represents a higher level of wrongdoing than nonfeasance, which is a failure to act where there was a duty to act, or misfeasance, which is conduct that is lawful but inappropriate. Wrongdoing or misconduct, especially by a public official; commission of an act that is positively unlawful.

Trump's outlook

I watched the early US briefings on Covid-19, where you had Trump and Fauci next to each other. It was clear if you read the body language that there were two different agendas at play. I don't care what you think about Trump. However, he is not totally stupid, as he appears to know that the WHO and the CDC and Fauci (their lap-dog), and not forgetting Gates, have an agenda to destabilise and destroy the economy through fear, lockdowns, social distancing, masks etc and that the only panacea is to get yourself vaccinated.

Trump also knows the pharmaceutical cabal are also in on it and are driving the vaccination agenda. Why? Because they will make squillions of dollars and their share prices will go through the roof. You must remember the adage that determines life as we know it: "It's all about the money". Anybody can be bought off if you pay them enough money, including scientists who we all think have our best interests at heart. It's the fundamental flaw in the human psyche.

Vaccine gold rush

Covid-19 vaccines are being developed and taken to market at breakneck speed. In August 2020, Russia obtained approval for its version of the vaccine, with Putin's daughter reputedly having the obligatory injection on camera to placate the masses. Yes, Russia is the first. This will be putting the fear of God into the rest of the pharmaceutical companies, not because the Russians have been the first but because it exposes the real agenda. And this should be the final thing that awakens you to the conspiracy, and it is this.

The $64,000 question

There is no way a safe vaccine is available now, how can it be? Coronaviruses have been around for 50 years and we have yet to come up with a vaccine. On average it takes between 3-5 years to develop a reliable vaccine. Yet the Russians have done it in less than 6 months, genius. What about long-term side effects of vaccination? How about the risk of a life-threatening cytokine storm (overreaction of the body's immune system) after being exposed to the natural virus? This is a fundamental question, as the result could be catastrophic! How long are the antibodies going to be effective for? So many questions, I could go on. And the Russian government is wanting every single person in the country to be vaccinated. My question to you - if you were a Russian today would you seriously take it in your arm?

And you would be quite right to challenge the Russian data, anyone would. The pharmaceutical companies in the West know this and this is the reason they are holding fire on releasing their vaccines, because they know if they also did it too quickly we would be asking them the same questions as the world is of the Russians and would start, hopefully, to smell a rat.

The smoking gun?

I have recently come across a document that is proof of the vaccine agenda. This document is on the UK Department of Health and Social Care website for all to see, and it is called:

Consultation document: changes to Human Medicine Regulations to support the rollout of COVID-19 vaccines, published 28 August 2020.

This is a 12-page document which it is essential to read. Here are some extracts:

Introduction

COVID-19 is the biggest threat this country has faced in peacetime history, which is why the UK government is working to a scientifically led, step-by-step action plan for tackling the pandemic – taking the right measures at the right time.

Effective COVID-19 vaccines will be the best way to deal with the pandemic. Any vaccine must first go through the usual rigorous testing and development process and be shown to meet the expected high standards of safety, quality and efficacy before it can be deployed.

So far so good; however, the document has been written for the following purposes which are laid out in these extracts.

However, if there is a compelling case, on public health grounds, for using a vaccine before it is given a product licence, given the nature of the threat we face, the JCVI may take the very unusual step of advising the UK government to use a tested, unlicensed vaccine against COVID-19, and we need to make sure that the right legislative measures are in place to deal with that scenario.

Yes, unlicensed vaccines

‘Unlicensed’ does not mean ‘untested’: this temporary authorisation process exists to address the possibility that, in certain situations of public health need, the licensing authority may consider that the balance of risk and benefit to patients justifies the temporary supply of the relevant vaccine pending the issue of a product licence.

However, even after the consultation has finished and amendments have been made, the UK government will remain open to the possibility of making further changes – very rapidly, if need be.

If the need arises, regulation 174, in its present form, could be used to authorise nationwide distribution and supply of an unlicensed COVID-19 vaccine (or treatment) in the UK, as well as other potential products. In practice, this means that, if a suitable COVID-19 vaccine candidate – with strong supporting evidence of safety, quality and efficacy – became available before the end of the transition period but it had not yet been licensed by the European Medicines Agency, regulation 174 could be used to enable temporary UK-only deployment. For these purposes, it makes no difference whether the vaccine had been developed in the UK, elsewhere in the EU/EEA or completely outside UK/EEA.

Note in particular this phrasing: “with strong supporting evidence of safety, quality and efficacy – became available”

Civil liability and immunity

Any decision to roll out mass vaccination programmes for unlicensed COVID-19 vaccines, or indeed any pandemic disease treatments, will be taken nationally, not by the individual companies manufacturing or marketing the product.

The current legal framework already recognises that if manufacturers or healthcare professionals are asked to supply an unlicensed medicine in response to a public health threat, it is unfair also to ask them to take responsibility for the consequences of the use of that medicine in the way that they normally would.

Malfeasance, remember

Vaccinators who are not registered healthcare professionals

It will also be apparent in what we say about workforce expansion that someone other than a registered healthcare professional may actually be administering unlicensed vaccines – and as a basic issue of fairness, we think they should benefit from the same immunity from civil liability as a registered healthcare professional who is performing the same role, if the person who is not a healthcare professional is following one of the proposed new protocols.

Proposed expansion to the workforce eligible to administer vaccinations

Currently, the HMRs require that only ‘appropriate practitioners’ administer vaccines, as they are a parenterally administered (for example by injection) prescription-only medicine. Appropriate practitioners are defined under regulation 214 as doctors and other qualified prescribers.

An expanded workforce is required to ensure that the COVID-19 vaccine can be safely deployed widely as soon as it should become available, given the capacity constraints of the current workforce that can administer vaccines.

Furthermore, an expanded workforce eligible for administering the flu vaccine may be required, given the recent announcement of an expanded flu vaccination program this winter. Millions more could receive the flu vaccine than received it last year, so there is a need to ensure the workforce comprises enough people to deliver these additional vaccinations.

There is a possibility that both the flu vaccine and the COVID-19 vaccine will be delivered at the same time, and we need to make sure that in this scenario there is sufficient workforce to allow for this.

Vaccine promotion

Currently there is a prohibition on promoting an unlicensed medicine to healthcare professionals and the public. The UK government is proposing that this prohibition is disapplied to allow (subject to the other restrictions in the HMRs) advertising of any temporarily authorised products under regulation 174, including a COVID-19 vaccine.

There will also be amendments to allow for some easements from the other restrictions in Part 14 of the HMRs – for example the prohibition on advertising prescription-only medicines. Some of these restrictions – which deal essentially with advertisements to the public, are already disapplied in the case of vaccination campaigns, and that approach is extended to all products given temporary authorisations under regulation 174. The disapplications would be restricted to advertising as part of a campaign approved by ministers and would permit the supplier to participate in any public or healthcare professional information campaign relating to the use of the medicine.

These amendments on the easement of advertising restrictions are not limited to unlicensed vaccines only, but are intended to apply to all the public health purposes that would justify temporary authorisation of the distribution of an unlicensed vaccine or other treatment listed in regulation 174.

This means that, in relation to medicines advertising, the permitted campaigns could relate to any medicinal product use in response to "...the suspected or confirmed spread of... pathogenic agents... toxins... chemical agents or...nuclear radiation...".

A number of changes have also been made to the special requirements for advertisements wholly or mainly directed at qualified prescribers. These have also been adapted to take into account the new arrangements for temporary authorisations.

Overall, the amendments proposed will ensure that the use of the vaccine and treatments that have been temporarily authorised for sale or supply can be promoted as part of national campaigns in each of the 4 countries of the UK.

So, you are going to be bombarded with vaccine advertising on all social and mainstream media. Remember, the only two countries in the world that currently allow the advertising of vaccines are the US and New Zealand.

Conclusion

This consultation document has laid out the proposals for changes to the Human Medicine Regulations 2012 to ensure that, in particular, the UK is able to administer a COVID-19 vaccine effectively once it is available, as well as support the upscaling of flu vaccination and providing in the future for the mass distribution of treatments for pandemic diseases.

Although the earliest date by which a COVID-19 vaccination programme could start is uncertain, preparations are underway. Therefore, there is a need to share information on how the necessary changes to medicines legislation to support the vaccination programme might look.

My summary of this consultation doc

- The UK government wants to have the ability to rush through unlicensed vaccines into the marketplace
- The UK government want to provide immunity from prosecution from vaccine damage for those that administer the injections, and also the pharmaceutical companies themselves
- A new vaccination injection force will be recruited to administer vaccines
- Vaccines will now be widely promoted in all media, including TV ads

You may think that this is all fine in the current unprecedented circumstances, but to me this is very scary indeed. The final nail in the coffin will be government legislation to mandate vaccines for the whole population (which is not in this consultation by the way), as that is what the elites have planned for all of us.

Please don't believe me, just research it further and come to your own conclusions.

Chapter Overview

- “There is no bigger issue in world health today than vaccine safety and efficacy”
- There is a massive disconnect currently on safety, an information war. Vaxxers vs anti-vaxxers. It is not surprising is it, when you have so many shenanigans going on
- Vaxxers and anti-vaxxers both 100% love and care for their children, so to that extent they are not at war with each other. They fundamentally want what is right for their children, but more importantly they need the truth so they can make a considered decision whether to vaccinate or not, it is that important
- It is my sincere belief that we have in Robert Kennedy a true solid gold advocate of the truth, and he has made it his vocation in life to seek the truth and inform the world of what is really going on with vaccines. I think he is absolutely brilliant, please check out his website <https://childrenshealthdefense.org/>
- We all need to see the data. Can I ask for the data please? A large, completely independent study of vaccinated children and adults vs unvaccinated children and adults, as the data will be out there, with the results put into the public domain in a simple format that is understandable to everyone
- Then and only then can we make an informed decision as to vaccinate our children or not
- I have hopefully piqued your interest enough for you to do your own research and come to your own conclusions and that we should not blindly keep believing the scientists, who probably have vested interests, often in the form of lots of money.

Chapter 6 – Technocracy: AI and 5G

---

Here is an article dated 1.8.2020 by Dr Anthony P Mueller – German professor of economics who is currently teaching in Brazil:

From Lockdowns to "The Great Reset"

The lockdown in the wake of the coronavirus pandemic has accelerated the implementation of long-held plans to establish a so-called new world order. Under the auspices of the World Economic Forum (WEF), global policymakers are advocating for a "Great Reset" with the intent of creating a global technocracy. It is not by coincidence that on October 18, 2019, in New York City the WEF participated in "Event 201" at the "high-level" pandemic exercise organized by the John Hopkins Centre for Health Security.

This coming technocracy involves close cooperation between the heads of the digital industry and of governments. With programs such as guaranteed minimum income and healthcare for all, the new kind of governance combines strict societal control with the promise of comprehensive social justice.

The truth, however, is that this new world order of digital tyranny comes with a comprehensive social credit system. The People's Republic of China is the pioneer of this method of surveillance and control of individuals, corporations, and socio-political entities.

For the individual, one's identity is reduced to an app or chip that registers almost any personal activity. In order to gain a few individual rights, and be it only to travel to a certain place, a person must balance such apparent privileges with his submission to a web of regulations that define in detail what is "good behaviour" and deemed as beneficial to humankind and the environment. For example, during a pandemic, this sort of control would extend from the obligation of wearing a mask and practicing social distancing to having specific vaccinations to apply for a job or to travel. It is, in short, a type of social engineering which is the opposite of a spontaneous order or of development. Like the mechanical engineer with a machine, the social engineer—or technocrat—treats society as an object. Different from the brutal suppressions by the totalitarianism of earlier times, the modern social engineer will try to make the social machine work on its own according to the design. For this purpose, the social engineer must apply the laws of society the way the mechanical engineer follows the laws of nature. Behavioural theory has reached a stage of knowledge that makes the dreams of social engineering possible. The machinations of social engineering operate not through brute force, but subtly by nudge.

Under the order envisioned by the Great Reset, the advancement of technology is not meant to serve the improvement of the conditions of the people but to submit the individual to the tyranny of a technocratic state. "The experts know better" is the justification.

The Agenda

The plan for an overhaul of the world is the brainchild of an elite group of businessmen, politicians, and their intellectual entourage that used to meet in Davos, Switzerland, in January each year. Brought into existence in 1971, the World Economic Forum has become a mega global event since then. More than three thousand leaders from all over the world attended the meeting in 2020.

Under the guidance of the WEF, the agenda of the Great Reset says that the completion of the current industrial transformation requires a thorough overhaul of the economy, politics, and society. Such a comprehensive transformation requires the alteration of human behaviour, and thus "transhumanism" is part of the program.

The Great Reset will be the theme of the fifty-first meeting of the World Economic Forum in Davos in 2021. Its agenda is the commitment to move the world economy toward "a more fair, sustainable and resilient future." The program calls for "a new social contract" that is centred on racial equality, social justice, and the protection of the nature. Climate change requires us "to decarbonize the economy" and to bring human thinking and behaviour "into harmony with nature." The aim is to build "more equal, inclusive and sustainable economies." This new world order must be "urgently" implemented, the promoters of the WEF claim, and they point out that the pandemic "has laid bare the unsustainability of our system," which lacks "social cohesion."

The WEF's great reset project is social engineering at the highest level. Advocates of the reset contend that the UN failed to establish order in the world and could not advance forcefully its agenda of sustainable development—known as Agenda 2030—because of its bureaucratic, slow, and contradictory way of working. In contrast, the actions of the organizational committee of the World Economic Forum are swift and smart. When a consensus has been formed, it can be implemented by the global elite all over the world.

Social Engineering

The ideology of the World Economic Forum is neither left nor right, nor progressive or conservative, it is also not fascist or communist, but outright technocratic. As such, it includes many elements of earlier collectivist ideologies.

In recent decades, the consensus has emerged at the annual Davos meetings that the world needs a revolution, and that reforms have taken too long. The members of the WEF envision a profound upheaval at short notice. The time span should be so brief that most people will hardly realize that a revolution is going on. The change must be so swift and dramatic that those who recognize that a revolution is happening do not have the time to mobilize against it.

The basic idea of the Great Reset is the same principle that guided the radical transformations from the French to the Russian and Chinese Revolutions. It is the idea of constructive rationalism incorporated in the state. But projects like the Great Reset leave unanswered the question of who rules the state. The state itself does not rule. It is an instrument of power. It is not the abstract state that decides, but the leaders of specific political parties and of certain social groups.

Earlier totalitarian regimes needed mass executions and concentration camps to maintain their power. Now, with the help of new technologies, it is believed, dissenters can easily be identified and marginalized. The nonconformists will be silenced by disqualifying divergent opinions as morally despicable.

The 2020 lockdowns possibly offer a preview of how this system works. The lockdown worked as if it had been orchestrated—and perhaps it was. As if following a single command, the leaders of big and small nations—and of different stages of economic development—implemented almost identical measures. Not only did many governments act in unison, they also applied these measures with little regard for the horrific consequences of a global lockdown.

Months of economic stillstand have destroyed the economic basis of millions of families. Together with social distancing, the lockdown has produced a mass of people unable to care for themselves. First, governments destroyed the livelihood, then the politicians showed up as the saviour. The demand for social assistance is no longer limited to specific groups but has become a need of the masses.

Once, war was the health of the state. Now it is fear of disease. What lies ahead is not the apparent cosiness of a benevolent comprehensive welfare state with a guaranteed minimum income and healthcare and education for all. The lockdown and its consequences have brought a foretaste what is to come: a permanent state of fear, strict behavioural control, massive loss of jobs, and growing dependence on the state.

With the measures taken in the wake of the coronavirus pandemic, a big step to reset the global economy has been made. Without popular resistance, the end of the pandemic will not mean the end of the lockdown and social distancing. At the moment, however, the opponents of the new world order of digital tyranny still have access to the media and platforms to dissent. Yet the time is running out. The perpetrators of the new world order have smelled blood. Declaring the coronavirus, a pandemic has come in handy to promote the agenda of their Great Reset. Only massive opposition can slow down and finally stop the extension of the power grip of the tyrannical technocracy that is on the rise.

Antony P Mueller

I 100% agree with Dr Mueller's assessment of the intention of the WEF. Please check out the WEF website at www.weforum.org. There can be no doubt of the Orwellian nature of what the WEF wants to pursue. All one needs to do is read the words on their website:

“A Great Reset is necessary to build a new social contract that honours the dignity of every human being,” added Schwab Founder and Executive Chairman of the World Economic Forum. “The global health crisis has laid bare the unsustainability of our old system in terms of social cohesion, the lack of equal opportunities and inclusiveness. Nor can we turn our backs on the evils of racism and discrimination. We need to build into this new social contract our intergenerational responsibility to ensure that we live up to the expectations of young people.”

That is nonsense - if you believe that you will believe anything. Any social contract that honours the dignity of every human being can only happen with the consent of the people. Who has given permission for a handful of elite technocrats to build such a contract themselves? This is, by its very nature, intrinsically disrespectful and dismissive of the individual humans whose dignity is supposedly being honoured.

The World Economic Forum ‘Great Reset’ announcement

Perhaps you are thinking Mueller is overhyping this and therefore cannot be believed. Sorry, but below is the press release which is on the WEF website. The announcement of the Great Reset was made by HRH The Prince of Wales and Klaus Schwab.

Geneva, Switzerland, 3 June 2020 – “The Great Reset” will be the theme of a unique twin summit to be convened by the World Economic Forum in January 2021. The 51st World Economic Forum Annual Meeting will bring together global leaders from government, business and civil society, and stakeholders from around the world in a unique configuration that includes both in-person and virtual dialogues.

“We only have one planet and we know that climate change could be the next global disaster with even more dramatic consequences for humankind. We have to decarbonize the economy in the short window still remaining and bring our thinking and behaviour once more into harmony with nature,” said Klaus Schwab, Founder and Executive Chairman of the World Economic Forum.

“In order to secure our future and to prosper, we need to evolve our economic model and put people and planet at the heart of global value creation. If there is one critical lesson to learn from this crisis, it is that we need to put nature at the heart of how we operate. We simply can’t waste more time,” said HRH The Prince of Wales.

“The Great Reset is a welcome recognition that this human tragedy must be a wake-up call. We must build more equal, inclusive and sustainable economies and societies that are more resilient in the face of pandemics, climate change and the many other global changes we face,” said António Guterres, Secretary-General, United Nations, New York.

“A Great Reset is necessary to build a new social contract that honours the dignity of every human being,” added Schwab “The global health crisis has laid bare the unsustainability of our old system in terms of social cohesion, the lack of equal opportunities and inclusiveness. Nor can we turn our backs on the evils of racism and discrimination. We need to build into this new social contract our intergenerational responsibility to ensure that we live up to the expectations of young people.”

“COVID-19 has accelerated our transition into the age of the Fourth Industrial Revolution. We have to make sure that the new technologies in the digital, biological and physical world remain human-centred and serve society as a whole, providing everyone with fair access,” he said.

“This global pandemic has also demonstrated again how interconnected we are. We have to restore a functioning system of smart global cooperation structured to address the challenges of the next 50 years. The Great Reset will require us to integrate all stakeholders of global society into a community of common interest, purpose and action,” said Schwab. “We need a change of mindset, moving from short-term to long-term thinking, moving from shareholder capitalism to stakeholder responsibility. Environmental, social and good governance have to be a measured part of corporate and governmental accountability,” he added.

This innovative summit will be a very different Annual Meeting, reflecting the spirit of the Great Reset. It will provide a unique opportunity at the beginning of 2021 to bring together the key global government and business leaders in Davos, yet framed within a global multi-stakeholder summit driven by the younger generation to ensure that the Great Reset dialogue pushes beyond the boundaries of traditional thinking and is truly forward-oriented.

To do so, the World Economic Forum will draw on thousands of young people in more than 400 cities around the world (the Global Shapers Community) who will be interconnected with a powerful virtual hub network to interact with the leaders in Davos. Each of those hubs will have an open house policy to integrate all interested citizens into this dialogue, making the Annual Meeting open to everyone. In addition, global media and social media networks will mobilize millions of people, enabling them to share their input while also providing them with access to the Annual Meeting discussions in Davos.

The announcement of the Great Reset was made by HRH The Prince of Wales and Professor Schwab during a virtual meeting, followed by statements by UN Secretary-General António Guterres and IMF Managing Director Kristalina Georgieva.

Their statements were supported by voices from all stakeholder groups of global society, including Victoria Alonsoperez, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, Chipsafer, Uruguay, and a Young Global Leader; Caroline Anstey, President and Chief Executive Officer, Pact, USA; Ajay S. Banga, Chief Executive Officer, Mastercard, USA; Sharan Burrow, General Secretary, International Trade Union Confederation (ITUC), Brussels; Ma Jun, Chairman, Green Finance Committee, China Society for Finance and Banking, and a Member of the Monetary Policy Committee of the People's Bank of China; Bernard Looney, Chief Executive Officer, bp, United Kingdom; Juliana Rotich, Venture Partner, Atlantica Ventures, Kenya; Bradford L. Smith, President, Microsoft, USA; and Nick Stern, Chair, Grantham Research Institute on Climate Change and the Environment, United Kingdom.

In the run-up to the Annual Meeting, the Forum will host a virtual series, The Great Reset Dialogues. These dialogues are a joint initiative of the World Economic Forum and HRH The Prince of Wales. Contributions to the Great Reset will also be invited through UpLink, the World Economic Forum's digital platform to crowdsource innovations for the Sustainable Development Goals.

Did you know any of this? That is the stark reality of the agenda at play. This is not set for 2030, but for just around the corner, in 2024.

The implications of AI

Let's explore this, so you are under no illusions as to what is being planned for us all. This will take us all to the next level of control, even more than George Orwell envisaged. AI is up and running and is being trialled in an African country near you, or anywhere else with an unsuspecting population. Once the trials have been completed, we are next.

Here is some info on the trials:

A biometric digital identity platform that "evolves just as you evolve" is set to be introduced in "low-income, remote communities" in West Africa, as the result of a public-private partnership between the Bill Gates-backed GAVI vaccine alliance, Mastercard and the AI-powered "identity authentication" company, Trust Stamp.

The program, which was first launched in late 2018, will see Trust Stamp's digital identity platform integrated into the GAVI-Mastercard 'Wellness Pass', a digital vaccination record and identity system that is also linked to Mastercard's click-to-play system that in turn is powered by its AI and machine learning technology called NuData.

Mastercard, in addition to professing its commitment to promoting "centralized record keeping of childhood immunization" also describes itself as a leader toward a "World Beyond Cash." Its partnership with GAVI marks a novel approach towards linking a biometric digital identity system, vaccination records, and a payment system into a single cohesive platform. The effort, since its launch nearly two years ago, has been funded via $3.8 million in GAVI donor funds in addition to a matched donation of the same amount by the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

In early June, GAVI reported that Mastercard's Wellness Pass program would be adapted in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Around a month later, Mastercard announced that Trust Stamp's biometric identity platform would be integrated into Wellness Pass. This is because Trust Stamp's system is capable of providing biometric identity in areas of the world lacking internet access or cellular connectivity and also does not require knowledge of an individual's legal name or identity to function. The Wellness Program involving GAVI, Mastercard, and Trust Stamp will soon be launched in West Africa and will be coupled with a Covid-19 vaccination program once a vaccine becomes available.

So, there is Gates again, caring about your wellbeing!

5G - The worldwide strategy

Robert F Kennedy Jr recently wrote this article on his website:

<https://childrenshealthdefense.org/>

Recently, Gates announced his financial support for a $1billion plan to blanket Earth in video surveillance satellites. This company is called EarthNow and plans to launch 500 satellites to live-stream monitor almost every "corner" of the Earth, providing instantaneous video feedback with only a one-second delay. According to Wikipedia, the company expects its customers to include "governments and large enterprises." 5G Antennas deploying a vast array of ground-based 5G spy antennas. Through his Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, Gates purchased 5.3 million Crown Castle shares currently worth a billion dollars.

Data Mining

Big Telecom, Big Data, and Bill Gates are baiting Americans into a digital tyranny-trap with million-dollar TV ads that pretend that their multi trillion-dollar 5G investment is about faster download speeds for video games and movies. But 5G has almost nothing to do with improving your lives; it's all about controlling your life, marketing products, and harvesting your data for Artificial Intelligence purposes.

The 21st century's "black gold" is data. 5G is the infrastructure for Gates' "Internet of Things"—a world where tens of billions of "smart" devices: cell phones, computers, automobiles, garage door openers, Apple watches, and even our living bodies—are wirelessly interconnected to enable Big Data to gather and sell our personal information.

Gates, Elon Musk, Amazon, Facebook, and Telecom are launching the flagships for the new Gold Rush, a teeming fleet of 50,000 satellites and a network of 2,000,000 ground antennas and cell towers to strip mine data from our smart devices. This microwave radiation-emitting spider web will allow Big Data/Big Telecom and Big Brother to capture what happens inside and outside every person at every moment of life. Gates will harvest, control, sort, characterize, analyse, and sell millions of terabytes of personal information from smart devices—private health data, medical records, our shopping habits, our biometric and behavioural responses to advertising, our children's ability to learn, our facial expressions, and conversations overheard by Siri, Alexa, and your open cell phone's microphones. His and other corporations will use these analytics to develop Artificial Intelligence (AI) and turn you into a predictable, easily manipulated consuming machine. Next time you buy a "smart" device, remember the device is not the product—you are.

Surveillance State & Transhumanism

Corporations will use Gates' 5G surveillance system to sell products and escalate AI capacity. Governments will use it to transition the globe to a totalitarian singularity more despotic than Orwell ever imagined. Silicon Valley titans like Elon Musk, Peter Thiel, and Google's Chief Engineer Ray Kurzweil talk longingly of "transhumanism," the process by which humanity will transition to become part-human, part-machine via genetic engineering and surgical implants.

Bill Gates is investing heavily to accelerate this altered reality. His ambition to tag us all with injected subdermal vaccine data chips seems to be merely a steppingstone toward an all-encompassing surveillance state.

Rewarding Compliance

Microsoft has patented a sinister technology that utilizes implanted sensors to monitor body and brain activity. It will reward compliant humans with crypto currency payments when they perform assigned activities.

The Patent, WO/2020/060606 has gained notoriety and the nickname “World Order 2020 666.” Microsoft describes this device as a “Crypto Currency System” and explains that it is “capable of” using body activity data to mine bitcoin in response to compliance with assigned tasks.

People who agree to install the Microsoft harmful wireless sensors will receive periodic “duty” smart phone instructions to watch a certain advertisement, listen to a specific song, walk down a specific grocery store aisle, or to take a certain vaccine. This chip will collect data from embedded sensors that monitor brain waves, blood flow, and other body reactions. The system will transfer cryptocurrency into the subject’s account after completion of the assigned task.

On the bright side, Microsoft’s dystopian invention should be a welcome source of income for the 40% of Americans put out of work by periodic COVID quarantines, by Musk’s self-driving electronic cars, which also rely on the 5G rollout, and by Artificial Intelligence, including robots. Will Gates sell the data we freely give him to companies that will take away our jobs?

Cashless Society

To consolidate global control, Gates has declared war on cash, and the COVID-19 lockdowns have provided governments a convenient pretext for scuttling cash as a health hazard. Gates and his foundation are spearheading the global shift from a cash economy towards digital transactions. Gates and Microsoft are perfectly positioned to profit from a digital payments system. By controlling digital transactions (and removing cash), Gates can control and monitor everything commercial that a country and its citizens do.

Western financial institutions—Mastercard, PayPal, Visa, eBay, and Citi—have long pushed for a cashless world. Electronic banking allows banks and financial consortiums to levy fees on every transaction.

The Digital Economy will allow the Government to monitor and scrutinize every transaction, to freeze digital accounts, and to block “financial flows” to punish disobedience. Operating in a public-private partnership with government, tech billionaires will not only control the nation but will be able to micromanage the worldwide population. Digitized currency is the ultimate instrument of social control. After all, in a cashless society, survival is impossible without access to the digitized economic system. The poor—lacking bank accounts—will suffer disproportionately.

Trillionaire Borg

While the lockdown is a cataclysm for the world economy, it is an opportunity of Gates. By purchasing our devalued assets at a penny on the dollar, Gates’ $100 billion might make him the world’s first trillionaire. But the quarantine is also an opportunity to enlarge his power and domination. Under Gates’ leadership, Microsoft became known as “The Borg” because of his appetite for total market control. Now, Gates seeks to bring all humanity under his boot. His worship of technology and his megalomania threaten our freedoms, our democracy, our biology, our planet, our humanity, and our souls.

The microwave radiation used for wireless surveillance of the world is not biologically tolerable, especially for developing children. Thousands of peer-reviewed, published studies abundantly document wireless technology’s profound, adverse, physical effects on humans, animals, and plants. Sickness and environmental degradation from wireless technology is already widespread. Big Telecom control of U.S. and global regulatory agencies and media and Gates’ financial control of the World Health Organization have allowed a few billionaires to propagate the patent lie that wireless is safe.

Gates' technological dreams are not biologically sustainable. His Tower of Babel is bound to collapse, with catastrophic impact for lesser humans. It's time to dismantle the Tower before it's too late".

So, what do you make of all that? A lot to take in, but I think we could now be on the same wavelength...

Stop this juggernaut

This is what is coming down the road and if we don't stop it, the human race as we know it is finished, completely. You now just need to take this in, please re-read the article so that it is clear in your mind what is going on. This is the overriding reason that we are experiencing a plandemic and not a pandemic. There is a massive difference between these two words. I thank Robert Kennedy for this article and the reason I have reproduced it here is that he is far more intelligent and eloquent than I am. As I have already discussed I am referencing the growing body of people and scientists who are fighting back.

This information cannot be ignored – please research it for yourself and come to your own conclusions and decide whether you agree with Kennedy. Someone said to me when I was discussing this, "People just want an easy life", which sort of sums it up where we are currently at.

We see but we do not see

Call it a form of myopia, something so obvious and in plain sight and yet we still cannot see it. We see what we want to see because we all want an easy life. The 'easy life syndrome', as you could call it, has been created by the 'nanny state' over the last 100 years. I am sure our hunter-gatherer ancestors would have loved a nanny state to protect them from the sabre-toothed tigers. The word here that describes our plight in the 21st century is acquiescence.

5G is not proven to be safe

5G operates on a different frequency range to 2, 3 and 4G. To put it simply, it is a microwave frequency range that is potentially harmful to cellular function in humans. Where are the long-term worldwide studies from independent sources to prove it is OK? Please show me the studies, I cannot find them. There is a complete lack of evidence one way or the other. There is already some evidence that plants and animals are being affected by the new frequencies. Bee populations are particularly affected.

5G frequencies can therefore potentially damage cells, thereby suppressing the body's immune system. Once that happens you are more susceptible to the virus, or anything else for that matter, because the virus seeks out people with suppressed immune systems. That is the link to coronavirus. Why are governments across the world facilitating such a fast roll-out at breakneck speed, during lockdown, without major studies being carried out?

More tech developments

Huge tech developments are being waived through, many of which will have significant long-lasting implications for all of us. Here is one from earlier in 2020 for you to ponder. This article, Amazon lines up $10 billion for satellite-based Internet project Kupier by Anusuya Datta lays things out in detail:

Amazon is getting serious about the space business. Coming shortly after Amazon Web Service's announcement last month to set up a new business unit dedicated to accelerating innovation in the global aerospace and satellite industry, it has now announced its intention to invest $10 billion for launching a low earth orbit (LEO) satellite constellation called Project Kuiper to eliminate Internet dark spots, specifically in the US.

The US Federal Communications Commission (FCC) last week unanimously voted in favour of Amazon's application to deploy and operate its constellation of 3,236 satellites.

Bezos vs Musk

With this announcement, Jeff Bezos is seen directly taking on Elon Musk in an effort to beam high-speed internet from networks of thousands of satellites in the LEO. Starlink is Musk's pet project to deliver high speed broadband Internet to locations where access has been unreliable, expensive, or completely unavailable. It has so far sent 500+ satellites in orbit with the latest batch of 60 launched in April this year, and 12,000 planned in the long run. Starlink, which is estimated to cost SpaceX $10 billion, is targeting service in the Northern US and Canada in 2020, rapidly expanding to near global coverage of the populated world by 2021. In February this year, SpaceX President Gwen Shotwell had talked about spinning off Starlink into a separate company and go the IPO route in the coming years.

London-based OneWeb, which was recently acquired by UK government and India's Bharti Airtel, after it filed for bankruptcy protection in March, also had plans to launch satellite-based Internet services, and had already sent 64 satellites into orbit which it continues to maintain.

Project Kuiper

But more about Kuiper. The satellites will be positioned in LEO between 590 and 630 km above the Earth's surface. Amazon has six years to launch the first half and nine years for the rest though precise launch dates are yet to be determined. The satellites will be designed and tested at Amazon's new research and development facility opening in Redmond, Washington.

Kuiper stated that its system, which will also include gateway earth stations, customer terminals, software defined network and satellite control functionality, satellite operations centre, telemetry, tracking and command (TT&C) earth stations, and other technologies, will be capable of providing continuous coverage to customers within approximately 56 degree N and 56 degree S latitude.

The service will be deployed in five phases and service will begin once the first 578 satellites are launched, according to the FCC report.

"We conclude that the grant of the Kuiper application will serve the public interest, subject to the requirements and conditions specified herein. The broadband services Kuiper proposes to provide will benefit American consumers," the FCC wrote in its July 30 order. However, upon finalization of its design and prior to initiation of service, Amazon must seek FCC's approval for a modification containing an updated description of the orbital debris mitigation plans for its system.

"There are still too many places where broadband access is unreliable or where it doesn't exist at all. Kuiper will change that. Our $10 billion investment will create jobs and infrastructure around the United States that will help us close this gap," Dave Limp, Senior Vice President, Amazon, said in a statement.

In addition to providing ground station service directly to customers, Project Kuiper will also provide backhaul solutions for wireless carriers extending LTE and 5G service to new regions.

While Internet satellite technology is extremely expensive to deploy, they could be critical for areas beyond the reach of traditional fibre or wireless networks, helping expand internet access to households and communities. They could also prove crucial when hurricanes or other natural disasters disrupts communication.

My observations on this article

"We conclude that the grant of the Kuiper application will serve the public interest... The broadband services Kuiper proposes to provide will benefit American consumers."

Who asked American consumers if they wanted their whole backyard including themselves to be bathed in 5G, 24/7? American consumers need to wake up, as we all do.

Imagine too, the night sky with thousands upon thousands of Elon Musk and Jeff Bezos satellites lighting up the sky.

Universal Basic Income

I want to introduce you to a concept that you may not have heard of until fairly recent times and that is Universal Basic Income (UBI). This is all part of the agenda; this is what Wikipedia says:

Basic income, also called universal basic income (UBI), citizen's income, citizen's basic income, basic income guarantee, basic living stipend, guaranteed annual income, or universal demogrant, is a theoretical governmental public program for a periodic payment delivered to all citizens of a given population without a means test or work requirement.

(Citizen's dividend is a proposed policy based upon the principle that the natural world is the common property of all persons. It is proposed that all citizens receive regular payments (dividends) from revenue raised by leasing or taxing the monopoly of valuable land and other natural resources (PR says, or mega rich corporations who currently pay very little tax)

In the UK and US, the idea can be traced back to Thomas Paine's 's essay, 'Agrarian Justice', which is also considered one of the earliest proposals for a social security system. Thomas Paine summarized his view by stating that "Men did not make the earth. It is the value of the improvements only, and not the earth itself, that is individual property. Every proprietor owes to the community a ground rent for the land which he holds."

Basic income can be implemented nationally, regionally, or locally. An unconditional income that is sufficient to meet a person's basic needs (i.e., at or above the poverty line) is sometimes called a full basic income; if it is less than that amount, it may be called a partial basic income.

You can hopefully see where I am going with this. If you deliberately trash the economy, as we are in the process of doing, then you need to have something you can put in place to placate a highly unhappy and stressed-out population, where getting a new job is virtually impossible. In the UK, and in other economies around the world, at the start of the recent Covid-19 lockdown, the concept of furloughing was introduced. The UK provision has been to pay initially 80% of furloughed workers' wages for the duration of the pandemic.

Note here: If you think the government introduced the furlough scheme because it cared about you then you need to wise up. Think about it. How can you lock up (literally) perfectly healthy people while their jobs go down the tubes and the businesses that they work for go to the wall, without a revolution? Answer - you pay them 80% of their salary and tell them to clean out the loft and redecorate their houses for 4 months. All the jobs you have been wanting to finish for 10 years, happy days, right?

The problem with the furloughing scheme from the government point of view is that you cannot afford to pay this indefinitely, otherwise the UK economy will ultimately go bankrupt. So, what does the government do?

It pays you a UBI, and when it says basic, it means it will just keep you just above the poverty line, so that you are grateful and not hateful.

The Great Reset - strings attached

You may think I am just speculating here as to where the whole world is heading and yes, it is not just the UK. This has been planned for decades by the elites who rock up at Davos every year, who are now salivating because they are seeing their master plan finally coming to fruition.

You may also be thinking that the concept of UBI is a good idea, and yes, I can agree with you on that, it does have merits in certain situations. However, why is this not being discussed in the public domain? It will be initiated as a fait accompli following on from the deliberate trashing the economies of the world.

These are the strings attached. If you comply with the T&Cs you will receive your UBI every month. If you do not comply, you do not get the UBI, leaving you probably destitute and homeless.

Here are my speculative terms and conditions which will be attached to the UBI. I reckon that somewhere in Davos is a document with something similar to this:

Vaccination passport – You will be mandated to have every vaccine shot that the pharmaceutical companies can deliver. These boys will be working overtime, creating vaccines which have not been tested properly, because they don't need to be, as they have immunity from prosecution remember. Your vaccination record is stored on a chip that is now inside your body. This allows you to be scanned to see if you have received the latest vaccination or not. These scanners will be part of the 5G network which is currently being rolled out. This chip is now your passport, allowing you to access everything from flights to football matches. No up-to-date passport chip, no UBI, no flights, no football. It is completely genius and it is completely Orwellian. This is planned for all of us and it has been in the planning for decades. That is, only if you allow it to happen.

What do you think, am I hyping this up? Please conduct your own research, it is all out there if you go looking for it.

Imagine being a fly on the wall at the Davos secret meetings in January 2021 and listening to the elites discussing with grave concern the demise of the world economy while drinking the most expensive champagne and slapping each other on the back, (they won't be social distancing). "We did it, guys!"

The great enigma who is Elon Musk has recently said he loves what China has achieved in the realms of technology. Here are his words when asked, "How about China as an electric vehicle strategy leader in the world?"

Musk replied, "China rocks in my opinion. The energy in China is great. People there – there's like a lot of smart, hard-working people. And they're really — they're not entitled, they're not complacent, whereas I see in the United States increasingly much more complacency and entitlement especially in places like the Bay Area, and L.A. and New York."

So, Musk thinks "China rocks", an Orwellian totalitarian state as we have discussed. It is my belief that the West is less than 10 years away from becoming an Orwellian totalitarian state, where everyone is completely controlled and anyone who dissents, as was the case with our hero Winston Smith, will be rooted out and sent to concentration camps, which is exactly what China does in 2020 .

“The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing.” -- Edmund Burke

Chapter Overview

- This is the scary chapter, the chapter that confirms you are part of an experiment to control the whole human population. Some of the things we have outlined you are probably aware of and maybe you were hoping weren't true and so was I. My research is telling me the opposite especially when, see next...
- It's that fellow Bill Gates again, he keeps popping up everywhere. Instead of having your best interests at heart he wants to completely control your life. He wants to control humanity, not protect it. There is a difference!
- AI and 5G are the final nails in the coffin of humankind
- 5G has not been satisfactorily safety-tested on humans
- Because of the acquiescence of humankind, we are allowing the agenda to be brought forward to 2024
- The ball is now firmly in our court, we must wake up
- Once 10% of the population realise and start questioning what is going on, things will start to happen. This I why I need you to pass this book onto a friend once you have read it.

Chapter 7 - Your health and wellness

---

This is the chapter that makes me so sad to write and makes me so angry at the same time. We live in the 21st century, when we supposedly know everything, yet at the same time we are sicker as a species than we have ever been. How could this possibly be? If you dissected a hunter-gatherer and a 21st century man, the difference would be amazing, in every respect. The hunter-gatherer would be leaner, healthier, fitter.

So, fundamentally, why are we sicker now than we have ever been? One-word answer: MONEY. How come? Our health is our responsibility, it always has been, and it always will be. However, we have allowed the sanctity of our bodies and therefore our health to be given away to the healthcare system, just like giving away our data to the social media companies.

Who supports our doctors and the healthcare system behind it? We all know the answer: it's the pharmaceutical companies. And what is their main raison d'être? To make squillions of dollars (other currencies are also available).

The world's biggest pharmaceutical companies are based in the US. So, why is it that the US features in the top 10 of the world's most unhealthy countries?

The catastrophic reality

The average US citizen is a chronic diseased ridden timebomb, completely controlled by big pharma, whose only reason for existence is to make money on the back of treating (and prolonging) the symptoms of sickness. Pharmaceutical companies are only interested in sickness; they do not make money from wellness.

What the pharmaceutical companies have done to the health of the planet is shameful, scandalous, criminal, unforgivable. And to your own children, it is absolutely disgusting. To all pharmaceutical companies, YOU HAVE DONE IT TO OUR CHILDREN, SHAME ON ALL OF YOU.

The last three decades have seen a catastrophic increase in childhood chronic diseases and infertility in young adults. The trajectory of these disease curves predicts the collapse of the human population and the likelihood of our own extinction within the century.

I am not pulling any punches here; this needs to stop. We need to awaken! We need to get our heads out of our smartphones and start caring about the future of children and grandchildren, otherwise we as a species are toast.

The number one reason for writing this book is that I care passionately about this beautiful planet and can see clearly what is happening all around us. Science is now beginning to highlight that our approach to the innate health and wellness that we are mostly all born to is fundamentally flawed and that a reliance on prescription medication is doing more harm than good.

So, if we know there is another way of achieving and maintaining innate health, why are we not re-educating doctors, healthcare practitioners and the public? You might be one step ahead of me by now... it is because the pharmaceutical companies control everything and they are not prepared to change the status quo. I mean why should they, it's all about the money, right?

There are only two countries in the world that I am aware of where pharmaceutical products are allowed to be advertised on television: the US and New Zealand. How do you get your advertises on TV? You pay a large advertising revenue to the broadcasting companies, NBC, Fox, ABC, et al. And when I say large, I mean hundreds of millions of dollars. So, what have we just done? We have just maintained the status quo, simple. The pharmaceutical companies are completely in control and have billions of dollars at their disposal to influence every eventuality. What do you think would happen to any hapless 'investigative' journalist who worked for one of the said companies, would want to challenge this status quo? Yep, they will be put on the naughty step or sacked. It is an unwritten rule in the US, you do not challenge the behemoths, unless you want to stop paying the mortgage. And this goes right to the top. There is more pharmaceutical lobbying (bribery) going on in Capitol Hill than any other place in the world. The larger pharmaceutical/health products industry, which includes medical devices and dietary supplement companies along with drug makers, spent $228 million through the third quarter of 2019, a record-breaking pace that is up $10 million from this time last year. This is almost twice the amount of any other industry.

So the sickest developed nation on the planet by a country mile is the US, with obesity, diabetes, heart disease, dementia, metabolic syndrome, (all these are related) and autoimmune diseases by the bucketload, along with a catastrophic explosion of autism. What was one of the things we learnt early on in the pandemic? That the virus was particularly attracted to people of any age with co-morbidities, with a penchant for old people who have them in abundance. The virus latched on to the spaces in the cells that had been left open for them by their weakened immunity.

So, you would expect the outcome of this then is that the pandemic death in the US from Covid-19 will be one of the highest in the world, which is exactly what has happened. There is an adage that what happens in the US will happen in the UK after a short lag, followed by many other parts (not all) of the world. Which is the fattest nation in Europe? Unfortunately, it is the UK. And so, we also have a high death rate, for exactly the same reasons as the US, as we have discussed.

We only have ourselves to blame because we have not taken personal responsibility for our health and have outsourced our innate wellness to an industry that does not care about your health, because it is all about the money.

Innate health

First, I want to challenge your belief systems about health and wellness. At the end of the day, it is your health, your life, your choice, you make the decisions. The reason there is a chapter on health and wellness is that I want to underline how you have been allowed to be controlled by the very people who are pulling the strings on the pandemic. There is nothing more important in your life than your health. If you do not have good health you are not going to enjoy life to its full potential. Would you agree? There are two routes that people can take regarding their health.

1. You can live your life oblivious of how your body functions from a biological point of view. And how what you eat may affect your health in the long run. And when you eventually get sick you go and see your doctor.

Or

2. You take personal responsibility for your health and you find out what are the key parameters that are going to affect your long-term health. And if you manage those properly then you may live a longer, healthier life.

There are now two industries that are tendering for your business depending if you are 1 or 2. These are completely different industries and have extremely different philosophies and agendas. Are you a 1 or a 2?

If you are 1 then you are part of the sickness industry. The sickness industry is the pharmaceutical industry and the NHS working together providing you with the necessary treatment, with pills and capsules that will help to remove the pain and in many cases will keep you alive longer- which is brilliant of course.

Pharmaceutical companies do not make money from well people and they have a vested interest in you being sick. They want you to be on long-term medication, as this means more profits for them. This is one of the reasons why there has been a lack of antibiotic development, in that antibiotics are usually prescribed for short periods, therefore providing less income for the pharmaceutical companies.

If you are 2 then you are part of the wellness industry. You have taken personal responsibility for your health and you are taking preventative measures to ensure good health. You follow the mantra of:

Awareness + Prevention = Wellness

Of course, what you eat will determine how healthy you are now or will become in the future. And processed sugar is the biggest problem in our diets today, potentially leading to obesity, diabetes, heart disease and finally dementia. All food companies know this, all pharmaceutical companies know this, they will design their products to contain as much sugar as they are allowed to get away with. Because sugar is addictive, it is the dopamine fix that leads you to want more. The more you want it the more you buy it. It's all about the money and nothing else.

What do I want you to do with health and wellness?

I want you to follow the mantra of: Awareness + Prevention = Wellness.

The number one way in life to stay healthy is to have a healthy immune system, as this will fight off any pesky viruses without the need for vaccination. And yet, that is not the message which is being promoted, because, guess what, vaccination is being seen as the priority instead.

You would have expected that in the middle of a pandemic the mantra being issued from all government departments, the NHS, the WHO and the CDC should be to boost your immune system and especially vitamins A, C and D (sunshine). Also, an essential medicine to fight off a virus which has been around for 55 years is hydroxychloroquine, with zinc together. This is cheap and effective; 20,000 doctors and 30 countries attest to this.

Instead, what happened was that both the WHO and the FDA said do not use it, it was not effective. WHAT? Why was this? This is another flashing light. Also, vitamin D is important to your immune system. So, what do we do instead? We shut people in their homes, restricting their level of sunshine. As the lockdown went on, the reasons became more sinister. Why did we continue with the lockdown when the data was saying that from the middle of April there was no need for the lockdown to continue?

The importance of your microbiome

Another of the major factors in improving, restoring and maintaining in your health is your microbiome.

The last 30 years of microbiome research necessitates a radical shift in our model of human health. This new science of bacteria, fungi, parasites and viruses necessitates a restructuring of our biologic models of genomics, proteomics, inflammation, carcinogenesis, immunity, and infectious disease. The simultaneous microbiome research in soil, water and air systems of the planet provide additional insights into the crisis that we are all facing that is undermining the very existence of Homo sapiens.

The microbiome story

So, what is the microbiome and why do we need to respect it?

What is the key thing we need to look after on a daily basis to ensure we are healthy? It is our immune system. Our immune system is an army defending our castle, our body. The army is on the battlements fighting off the hordes from invading your body. Like any other successful army, it needs to be well-fed and fighting fit at all times. Otherwise our drawbridge falls down and the invaders get in, bringing illness and disease.

A major part of our immune system is our microbiome which has become the latest buzzword in health and wellness, with many people hearing about it for the first time in the last couple of years.

It is an exciting area of science which over the last 10 years has made massive advances in understanding the science of the microbiome and how it impacts not only our physical health but also our mental health. A healthy microbiome is a healthy you, with the opposite also the case.

Your microbiome refers to all the organisms that live in or on your body. They include all the bacteria, viruses, fungi, protozoa, and even worms for those of us who have them. There are over 100 trillion of them and between 2,000 and 10,000 different species depending on the state of diversity/health of your microbiome. The greater the diversity of species the better from an immunity point of view.

The next revelation is that we are only 10% human, in the sense that only 10% of our cells contain our DNA. The rest of our cells are these 100 trillion microorganisms.

Our microbes are intimately involved with every aspect of our health – from ensuring our digestive well-being to influencing our likelihood of being obese and our risk of developing cancer or diabetes. The microbes also play a role in our brain chemistry and mental health, affecting our moods, our emotions and our personalities.

We are therefore a super-organism living in a symbiotic relationship with our microbiome. Once we know and understand this, we can start respecting it more, nurturing and harmonising with it. This leads to an improvement in our physical and mental health, which is exactly what we are looking to achieve. Bugs in the main part are great for you, so we could probably improve our immune system by becoming a bit dirtier.

Where is the microbiome?

There are billions of microorganisms on your skin, but the main part of your microbiome is found inside your gut. The gut goes from your mouth to your bottom and is approximately 30 feet in length. It zig-zags down your body. One of the main areas of your gut is the small and large intestine and this is where a major part of your microbiome resides.

Today's problem

Scientists are now discovering that if we upset the delicate balance of different species in our microbiome then we open ourselves up to a depleted immune system which in turn will reduce the body's defences to infection and disease.

All these different species are living together harmoniously, each responsible for different functions. It's probably the most cosmopolitan place on earth, working together for the good of the whole. Now, doesn't that sound like a good idea?

Depleting your microbiome is like having only 9 players in your football team. Your goalie got the wrong date for the game and your key defender stopped off for a McDonald's and was unfit to play. You are only going to hold out for so long before you get overwhelmed. The only way you are going to have a fighting chance is if the whole team turns up and is fit and healthy to play.

This lack of a full team is exactly what is happening now and as a result we are seeing a significant increase in asthma, allergies, autoimmune diseases, diabetes, obesity, cancer, irritable bowel syndrome, anxiety, and heart disease. These are all linked to the health or otherwise of your microbiome. Our diets, lifestyles and environment are having a massive detrimental effect on our microbiome, causing it to become potentially dysfunctional.

Who has the healthiest microbiome?

Probably the indigenous races living in the depth of the Amazon rainforest who have never ever been in contact with 'civilisation' including even Spanish conquistadors and English missionaries. These peoples have magnificent microbiomes. Do they have autoimmune diseases? What do you think?

Where does the microbiome come from?

You inherit your microbiome from your mother. In a normal birth as you pass along the birth canal your face and mouth are in direct contact with your mother's vaginal and rectal contents. What better way to get inoculated than via bacteria from your mother? I will come back to this later.

When a baby is born it will usually look like its parents, all part of genetics. The same can therefore be said of the microbiome. If the mother has a great microbiome then the baby will get the best start in life. If the mother has a depleted microbiome (for all sorts of reasons) then the baby will not enjoy the same level of immunity. This is early days on this one, with studies ongoing to prove this.

Examples of damaged microbiomes

The widespread use of antibiotics is having an adverse effect on the health of our microbiome. Did you know, for example, that a 10-day course of antibiotics can knock out a third of your microbiome. When these are prescribed on a frequent basis you are opening yourself up to potentially causing autoimmune disfunction. And yet antibiotics are still dispensed in growing, phenomenal amounts.

Another example is when you have a C-section birth, the baby is not getting the critical inoculation from its mother. The new-born will then inherit the more common hospital “bad bacteria” like staphylococcus which are associated with illness and infection. C-section babies are associated with higher rates of asthma, allergies, obesity, type 1 diabetes and other autoimmune conditions. This can be overcome by the new-born C-section baby being inoculated by receiving a vaginal swab from the mother at the time of birth. Not all hospitals do this, so please explore this further if you need more information.

These are not only the causes that are adversely affecting our microbiomes. Critical too is the food we eat and the environment we live in.

The now notorious Western diet was invented 50 years ago in the US, based on processed foods containing energy-dense carbohydrates and refined sugars. This is having a hugely detrimental impact on the delicate species balance of our microbiome.

Here is what Dr Robynne Chutkan who works in this sector of medicine, says in her book The Microbiome Solution:

Overuse of antibiotics, chlorination of the water supply, processed foods full of chemicals and hormones, microbe-depleting pesticides, increasing rates of Caesarean sections- have ravaged our microbiomes, diminishing the total number of organisms as well as the diversity of species.

The result is an increase in a wide range of modern plagues, including asthma, allergies, autoimmune diseases, diabetes, obesity, cancer, irritable bowel syndrome, anxiety, and heart disease. The rise of these diseases is inextricably intertwined with the full-on assault on our microbiome resulting from our super-sanitized lifestyle.

When you stop to think about this, it is obvious really. If we eat crap, then we are going to feel crap. Our microbiome is saying, “Help, I want to protect you; I don’t want you to live like this”. And still we think we know better. But here is the problem, we do not know better because either we are addicted to crap or we do not know the science in the first place.

Homo sapiens is a species with amnesia

We forget stuff, or it is hijacked, or we ignore it. Hippocrates, ‘the father of medicine’ said over 2,000 years ago, “Much, if not all, disease begins in the gut.”

He also said, “Let food be thy medicine and medicine be thy food.”

Way back then he was right. I wonder what Hippocrates would make of our Western diet of Big Mac, large fries (no onion) and Coca Cola, coming in at a staggering 1,120 calories. The 21st century diet is stressing out our microbiome and this is the root cause of people’s poor health. This is not rocket science!

Dysbiosis

When you have a microbial imbalance in your body this is called dysbiosis.

Here are some of the causes of dysbiosis:

- Antibiotics
- PPIs (proton pump inhibitors)/antacids
- NSAIDS (nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs)
- BCP (birth control pills)/hormones
- Steroids
- Chemotherapy
- Artificial sweeteners
- Too much sugar and fat
- Not enough fibre
- Stress
- Infections

And here are some of the conditions associated with dysbiosis:

- Autoimmune disease
- Bacterial vaginosis (BV)
- Celiac disease or gluten sensitivity
- Diabetes
- Inflammatory Bowel disease (IBD)
- Irritable Bowel Syndrome (IBS)
- Leaky gut
- Multiple Sclerosis (MS)
- Obesity
- Small intestinal bacterial overgrowth (SIBO)
- Sinusitis
- Thyroid disease
- Yeast infections

So, what do we need to do?

The science is out there for all of us to live healthier and potentially longer lives; however most people:

- ignoring it
- because of ignoring it people will live longer with multiple complications
- believe their doctor knows best

Who wants to the last 15 years of their lives with a poor quality of life? Living in pain and on prescription medication. This is exactly what the pharmaceutical companies want you to do.

So, we need to take personal responsibility for our health. We need to respect and love our microbiomes. And we need to know what is good for it if we want to live a healthier life.

Your 10 a day!

Health experts are now promoting that people should be eating 10 portions of fruit and vegetables a day. This is instead of the 5 that have been recommended in the recent past. Those same experts are saying that only approximately 30% of people are reaching the recommended 5 a day. On that basis, how many people do you think will be taking the 10 a day?

While our brain may prefer a Big Mac, your microbiome prefers a plate-full of nutritious vegetables. “It is not what you eat, it is what they (the bugs) eat”.

Detox your microbiome

Detoxing and resetting your microbiome and feeding it with good food is going to be the new ground zero for people who want to improve their health, including:

Probiotics

Probiotics are defined by the WHO as “live microorganisms which, when administered in adequate amounts, confer a health benefit on the host.” They are live bacteria, usually ingested in pill, powder, or liquid form. Probiotics have been used for centuries and even in Roman time they advocated the use of fermented raw milk as an antidote for gastrointestinal infections.

However, it is still early days in understanding the mechanisms of exactly what is going on and whether a particular probiotic is really having any effect at all. Some of the mechanisms that probiotics are being linked with are:

- Suppression of pathogens
- Stimulation of the immune system
- Reduction of inflammation
- Destruction of toxins
- Production of essential vitamins
- Improvement in the integrity of the gut lining/epithelial barrier

The following tables list conditions where there is scientific evidence that probiotics are helpful, and some conditions for which there might not be many clinical studies but enough anecdotal evidence to suggest that probiotics may be of benefit.

Conditions that ARE helped by probiotics:

- Acne
- Antibiotic-associated diarrhoea (AAD)
- Clostridium difficile (C.diff)
- Dysbiosis
- Infectious diarrhoea
- Inflammatory bowel disease (IBD)
- Irritable bowel syndrome (IBS)
- Leaky gut
- Sinus infections
- Traveller’s diarrhoea
- Urinary tract infections (UTIs)
- Yeast infections

Conditions that MAY be helped by probiotics:

- Allergies
- Anxiety/depression
- Autism
- Autoimmune disease
- Chronic fatigue syndrome
- Heart disease
- Obesity

These tables taken from The Microbiome Solution by Robynne Chutkan.

If you are currently spending money on taking probiotics, then you need to know the science behind the particular product, otherwise you could be wasting your money.

Prebiotics

Prebiotics are non-digestible foods or ingredients that promote the growth of beneficial microorganisms in the intestines. In other words, the good foods that your microbiome needs to stay healthy in order to do all those important jobs it is supposed to do. The bottom line here is loads and loads of green leafy vegetables; your microbiome loves veg.

Substitute prebiotic with the word veg: eat real veg, as it's the fibre in the veg that your microbiome goes nuts for. More veg equals more diversity, so the fact you do not like Brussel sprouts, eat them anyway because your bugs love them. Other examples of great prebiotics are oats, bananas, onions, garlic, leeks and asparagus.

A well-fed, healthy, fully functioning microbiome is the core to great health. It's easy to do, but it is also too easy not to do. Good health, bad health.

Prebiotics:

Lower risk of cardiovascular disease

Healthier Cholesterol levels

Better gut health

Improved digestion

Improved mood

Elimination of cravings

Lower stress response better hormonal balance

Higher immune function

Lower risk of obesity and weight gain

Lower inflammation and autoimmune reactions

So now we know all this, make a new friend (seriously) with your microbiome, even give it a name: mine is called Mike! Stop treating it disrespectfully, love it, feed it good stuff. And if you do it will reciprocate by facilitating you with a great immune system, plus great mental and physical health too.

The next time you think about walking into a McDonald's and ordering a Big Mac, fries and a jumbo cola, just think what that is going to do to your microbiome and your waistline.

My new microbiome mantra (it could be yours too)

"It's not what you eat, it is what they eat. Know this and respect it." You may need to change your lifestyle to achieve it. And if you do you will lead a healthier and potentially longer life!

The obesity crisis

Here are the results of a recent scientific study which shows that while obesity is rising relentlessly, the perception on causation is changing.

Background to the study

There is an increasing number of people who are struggling with obesity and this has become a major public health problem. It is a proven fact that diets do not work in the long term, with the percentage of those who successfully lose weight and maintain that loss is less than 5%. The vast majority are going to struggle with their weight for the rest of their lives unless something changes.

If you focus too much on your body weight and take severe measures that could be unhealthy, such as extreme diets or untested supplements, that is also not going to lead to a successful outcome.

The study

A 2015 study, funded by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research and lead by Professor Jennifer Kuk, analysed dietary data of nearly 36,400 American adults collected by the National Health and Nutrition Survey between 1971 and 2008. It also looked at the physical activity frequency data of 14,419 adults, from 1988 to 2006.

Their findings showed that it was easier to lose weight in the 1980s than it is now. They also found that adults today need to eat less and exercise more to avoid obesity than their parents needed to a generation ago.

By doing the same amount of exercise and eating the same number of calories, people in 2006 registered an average BMI (Body Mass Index) 2.3 points higher than in 1988.

The data led researchers from York University in Toronto to conclude that "factors other than diet and physical activity may be contributing to the increase in BMI over time."

"Our study results suggest that if you are 40 years old now, you'd have to eat even less and exercise more than if you were a 40-year-old in 1971, to prevent gaining weight," Professor Jennifer Kuk said.

People who reported eating the same amount of food were about 10 percent heavier in 2008 than 1971, the study found. Those in 2006 who did the same amount of exercise as their counterparts in 1988 weighed five percent more.

The findings suggest the simple formula of eating less and moving more can be ineffective for weight loss in the long term. It could help explain why obesity is on the rise.

“Weight management is actually much more complex than just ‘energy in’ versus ‘energy out’,” Professor Kuk said.

Lifestyle and environment also influence weight, including factors like medication use, genetics, the time you eat and stress. More research is needed to define this further.

My observations on this study

This is a significant scientific study and the results are from a large population and clearly show that something has changed in only two generations.

What has changed in just 40 years?

- Increase in the numbers of fast-food outlets everywhere – junk food (energy dense, carbohydrate rich, high in sugar)
- Stress levels in society have gone up significantly
- Resulting in significant rises in mental health issues
- Significant rise in antidepressant prescription medication as a consequence
- Toxic emissions/pollutants – one example being massive increase in all forms of vehicles on the road

What do they all have in common?

They have all contributed to a greater or lesser extent to ravaging our microbiomes. Consequently, our microbiomes have become depleted and unhealthy as each generation passes; we have lost our innate health. The downward spiral started in the 1970s when the Western diet was invented, when we started replacing real food for junk food.

Another consideration is that we have now passed on our depleted microbiomes to two generations and how this has affected our genes is only just being worked out. We may have affected our genes to such a degree over the last 40 years that we are now inheriting a predisposition to obesity. This is not yet proven; the scientists are on the case.

Looking after your microbiome, what can we do?

While we cannot go back in time, there are a few steps we can take to help re-populate our microbiomes:

- Eat real food and check the labels of packaged foods, avoiding any containing processed sugar, artificial sweeteners, additives, and preservatives
- Eat organic foods as much as possible to minimize exposure to pesticides, fungicides, and genetically modified foods
- Swap conventional personal care and household products for natural alternatives
- Learn how to manage stress and get a good night's sleep to prevent blood sugar fluctuations and weight gain
- Take prescriptions medication only when necessary and avoid overusing antibiotics
- Include gut-friendly foods in your diet such as prebiotics e.g. garlic, leeks, onions, asparagus, and probiotics e.g. organic yogurt, sauerkraut, kimchi, tempeh, miso

Simply put:

THE HEALTH OF YOUR MICROBIOME DETERMINES YOUR LEVEL OF WELLBEING

Prevention

Prevention, not vaccination, reduces the burden of illness. If you eat well and avoid stress you will be immune from many viruses. What have we done instead is to weaken the immune system, using masks, staying indoors (not getting Vitamin D), creating fear and the consequential stress associated with it.

Recommended reading

The Microbiome Solution – A Radical New Way to Heal Your Body from the Inside Out by Dr Robynne Chutkan

10% Human - How Your Body's Microbes Hold the Key to Health and Happiness by Alanna Collen

Recommended YouTube videos

Dr Robynne Chutkan - Why The Microbiome Is The Future Of Medicine. Search YouTube for 'Chutkan Microbiome' to find this.

Professor Robert Knight - How our microbes make us who we are. Search YouTube for 'Robert Knight microbes' to find this. Rob is brilliant at explaining how the microbiome works. There are many other videos by Rob on the subject.

Chapter Overview

- The health of your immune system will determine your overall physical and mental wellness
- We are only 10% human. Only 10% of our cells contain our DNA; the rest of our cells are the 100 trillion microorganisms. Your aim is to keep these in tip-top condition so that they can fight off any potential disease
- In the context of the pandemic, a healthy microbiome will enable you to fight off the infection and reduce the likelihood of life-threatening complications
- Eat real food

Chapter 8 - Postscript on technocracy

---

I hope you can see now why I am so concerned about the future of humankind as we know it. It all boils down to one thing and it this: we as a species are flawed, in that the lust for power and control has become the overriding human instinct at the expense of positive ones such as friendship, kindness, empathy and love. We are losing touch with our humanity, meaning that we no longer care what we do to our fellow man. This has been the trend of world history down through the millennia.

21st century technology

We are now allowing ourselves to be ruled by technocrats, the powerful faceless individuals sitting behind governments who are now pulling all the strings. We have allowed the technocrats to take control without any say-so on our part. We are asleep at the wheel and are sleepwalking to extinction. The technocrats of the 21st century are psychopaths - their lust for power, control and wealth are clear for all to see. They are experimenting with humanity and we are all allowing them to get away with it.

Where is the independent thinking on this? Every organisation has been infiltrated by vested interest groups, including UN, WHO, NATO, WEF. This means that there is no coherent strategy for the future for how we can use technology for the benefit of humankind. What we have instead is a Pandora's box run by psychopathic technocrats and we are the lab rats.

Using technology for the benefit of humankind

The question now is how do we harness new technologies for the benefit of humankind? We should all be part of that discussion.

Here is a summary of what the technocrats are working on without our consent:

1. Human cloning – read Brave New World by Aldous Huxley
2. Bio-weapons – viruses, just like the one that has been released on the world currently, although yet to be proven. Labs across the world are working on lethal bio-weapons
3. Chipping all new-borns and adults by 2030 - vaccination passport - mandated
4. Complete surveillance systems
5. Cashless society and blockchain
6. Untested, potentially damaging to health 5G frequency, bathing the whole Earth

We know this is happening.

To any journalists out there with backbone, get off your smartphone looking for your next easy story! I want the following investigated, objectively and thoroughly, and I want articles published in a manner where every single person gets to see and read them, thereby creating an open debate and the involvement of Joe Public. That is not too much to ask. And if you do not do it, I will.

1. 5G safety – How microwave frequencies can potentially damage your health
2. What is the real agenda for 5G? – People need to know
3. Vaccine safety record Part 1 – The history of vaccine damage compensation and how and why the pharmaceutical companies have become indemnified from prosecution
4. Vaccine safety record Part 2 – Comparison of the data between vaccinated and non-vaccinated children for vaccine damage conditions
5. Bio-weapons – Who is winning the war?
6. Technocracy – The new totalitarianism

Chapter 9 - Call to Action

---

The three biggest questions for humankind today in my opinion are:

1. Is 5G safe, where are the human studies?
2. What is the vaccine safety record? A clear comparison between vaccinated and unvaccinated children and adults
3. What is the real agenda for AI and how that will impact our lives?

We must have the definitive answers to these three fundamental questions, it is imperative.

These are the questions that keep me awake at night, because I care about humanity and I can see what is happening to our world. I realise people are not being given access to all the information they need in order to make a considered judgement. These issues are currently being censored before we can see the information we need, because it goes against the narrative.

The technocrats have taken over the madhouse. The three questions are related to technology and the technocrats have told us all:

1. 5G is safe
2. Vaccines are safe
3. AI is going to benefit humankind

So, the conundrum is, how do we get to the root of the real truth, when we need it so urgently? I have tried to connect the dots for you. To show you that power corrupts and that the agenda here is the complete control of humankind. The reason they are doing it now is because the technology is now available to do it. Remember, Eisenhower forewarned us, because he saw what was actually going on behind the scenes within the CIA in particular.

Now it is your turn

In this book I have covered a number of pressing issues, but the information I have provided on each is by no means exhaustive. Please now take up the opportunity to conduct your own, deeper research on any of the points which resonate with you and have raised alarm bells. I am not the expert here, the scientists and professors I am referencing are, I am merely the conduit. Please conduct further research in order to arrive at your own conclusions and then decide what you are going to do.

In a world of connection where we think we have all the information we need at the click of a mouse. I have shown that on many burning issues this is no longer the case. Information is being censored and is difficult to find. In writing this book, I have had to dig deep to find the information which I am sharing here.

Why is this information being censored? This is a simple question which goes to the heart of the matter. Freedom of speech, that most important human right, is being fundamentally eroded. To me, if they want to censor something, they must have something to hide, it's obvious.

We are at a crossroads

This is now Act 3 of the play TECHNOCRACY. We have reached the crossroads; we have the information and now it is time for humanity to decide which way to turn. Unfortunately, right now, nearly everyone has largely acquiesced, because basically we want an easy life.

I am sorry, but that will not do. I will not accept acquiescence, because I have children and maybe grandchildren one day and they should be able to live freely in a future world where we have used new technology for the benefit of mankind and not turned it against humankind for the total control that I believe is on the agenda.

It's time to fight back

We are all connected, literally, quantum physics says this. We are all connected but our differences have been accentuated over hundreds of years; our religion, our creed, our ethnicity, our colour of skin, to create diversion and division. Divide and conquer, first you divide the populace and then you conquer them.

You would have to be blind and deaf that what is happening is not normal and is not justified. So, I am asking people to come together and unite. The only way you can control people is to keep them in ignorance. But as soon as you become empowered through knowledge, no one can control you.

David Icke

I want to mention a person here that if you are my age you will have heard of and that is David Icke. Icke is now 68. He was originally a professional footballer (goalkeeper for Coventry City). When his footballing career was cut short due to illness, he became a sports reporter and journalist with the BBC. He then went on to be a spokesperson for the Green Party before launching himself into a career as a writer and speaker.

The reason I am discussing Icke is that for the last 30 years he has been writing about the subjects we have discussed in this book. Icke has conducted a huge amount of research and has written many books on different subjects. My point here is that, for the past 30 years, Icke has foreseen all the current events unfolding now. They are all in his books and therefore he needs to be taken seriously. Please set aside your preconceptions on Icke and with an open mind re-engage with what he is saying about the current world-changing events. And then, and only then, come to your own conclusions.

30 years ago, as I am sure you are aware, Icke was ridiculed and laughed at in the street, trashed by the BBC, you may have been one of those people. Once you are labelled as a conspiracist then you must be bonkers, right? This has resulted in him not being taken seriously and people ignoring what he is saying. This is the way the media works, and it has probably fixed your opinions on the subject. All I ask now I ask you to come to your own conclusions.

What did Icke do when he was ridiculed? He carried on his mission to inform the world of the impending dangers if we allow things to continue. He cares for humanity, as I do, and this is the reason I am writing this book and like Icke, I am putting my head above the parapet. That is all he is doing - he is putting information into the public domain for you to reference and make your own conclusions. It's called freedom of speech. And I will keep saying these words.

So, an insignificant 68-year old with prophetic views on the world, cannot he say what he thinks? He is not advocating social unrest or anything unlawful, he just wants discussion and awakening, and so do I. So, what have all the social media platforms done recently to his channels of communication? They have shut him down. This Orwellian act should make us all sit up and realise what the hell is going on. The bottom line here is you don't have to believe a word of what Icke is saying but he does have the right to say it. And this is the essence of my book.

The powers that control social media have an agenda and Icke's views are not part of the agreed script, with its unwritten narrative. This means that it needs to be censored, and because they think you cannot come to your own rational conclusions, you are not able to see it in the first place.

"No one is hated more than the man who tells the truth" - Plato

Enter Brian Rose at London Real

London Real is an educational and personal development website, started in 2011 and run by Brian Rose. As part of the platform, Rose has open discussions with people of interest, 'thought leaders', on every possible subject. All these are available as videocasts on YouTube. These are inspirational and life-changing videos which are beginning to have a profound influence on many thousands of people.

All was well with London Real up until March 2020, when Rose found out that by having discussions with different people on the subject of the coronavirus pandemic, and in particular with David Icke, he was receiving warnings from the social media companies that he was infringing the agreed narrative by openly discussing various issues. The key words which the algorithms were looking for were Vaccines and 5G.

Rose is not one for submitting to the new social media rules and agenda, quite the opposite. His raison d'être is that you may not agree with what people think, but they do have the right to say it. This is the basic right to freedom of speech, which is the underlying message of this book. Because of Rose's non-acquiescence, and his further interviews with other 'nonconformists', he has received final warnings from some of the social media platforms and has been deleted from others.

Rose has now successfully crowd-funded a totally independent 'freedom platform', as he calls it, where he uploads his video podcasts. From there, they cannot be deleted, and the site is free to access. These are totally uncensored and un-edited discussions. The current website for these videos is www.freedomplatform.tv

As you would expect, I am a big fan of Rose. He has put his head above the parapet and is championing free speech. Here are some of the people you will find on the uncensored freedom platform that will give you a different perspective on the pandemic. They have all been outspoken about it and virtually all of them have been censored by the social media companies. Seeing their discussions will allow you to come to your own conclusions. Check out, in no particular order:

Dr Judy Mikovits

Dr Andrew Kaufman

Dr Rashid Buttar

Dr Thomas Cowan

Robert Kennedy junior

Del Bigtree

Dr Sherri Tenpenny

Professor Dolores Cahill

Dr Andrew Wakefield

Dr Zach Bush

Dr Russel Blaylock

David Icke

Mikki Willis

Dr David Martin

What is really going on

If you think this whole current debacle is just about protecting the populations of the world from a new deadly virus, you would be 100% wrong. I have shown you how we are all being totally manipulated to believe and do what social media has been subtly manipulating us to do. The mainstream media corporations are complicit in this scam that is being perpetrated on the whole world.

We live in a corrupt world that is controlled by a powerful elite at the very top of the pyramid. The key question to ask when looking at what is happening is: 'WHO BENEFITS'? Just follow the money, remember.

The answer is clear - The powers that control the world, all the co-conspirators we have outlined. It certainly is not us. We are systematically being disenfranchised, becoming non-people and eventually non-human.

All the above has happened because of lockdown. Locking down perfectly healthy people for the sake of a flu-type virus, and at the same time destroying people's livelihoods. For a virus that has a slightly above-normal death rate that affects people with compromised immune systems. If that is not insanity, I do not know what is.

What happened to risk, to personal responsibility, to common sense, to respect? The government treats us all like naughty schoolchildren because we do not know any better. They are right and they are protecting us. Really, just read again the consequences of lockdown above as those are the ones you cannot dispute.

The key thing about the "We are following the science" government response is that scientists have a track record of being wrong. Ask all those scientists that persecuted Galileo. Put four scientists in a room and you have four egos, four different responses, and four different models for action. So, which one do we go with? The one whose model says the most people are going to die of course. That way we can justify locking down the masses and if we put the fear of God into the people by ringing up the BBC and telling them to do it, (which they did magnificently) then we have total control of the masses. Shock horror, the guy they went with didn't believe it anyway and broke the lockdown rules that he had insisted upon. And, while we are on this subject, so did the guy who pulls the strings behind the scenes. Hypocrisy or what? And we all still believed that the government had our best interests at heart.

So, you are thinking I am being a bit cynical here. I think I am allowed to be, when you can see the damage that has been caused by the consequences of lockdown, and I am not talking about the number of deaths. It hurts me to write this stuff because I can clearly see that things will never be the same again. I really care and this is all so sad.

Lockdown is only a small part of the strategy for total control of the population. Lockdown has happened, and you now are getting used to the financial meltdown that is fast approaching. This constitutes the most massive change ever in the economic system of the planet and we are all part of it. Yes, we have all allowed this to happen. It was blindingly obvious as soon as lockdown was implemented. If you think furlough merely gave you 3 months' holiday to finish off the DIY or clear out the loft, existing on 80% pay, those were happy days, right? Wrong - what has happened to all those self-employed businesspeople, pubs and restaurants which we have just allowed to go bust? Millions of people affected, millions. But we did save a few lives, Peter. It's insane.

So, lockdown has happened, and it was easy, so let's put it into a sequence of where I see this going next. The next phase will also be easy because we believe the scientists. Lockdown is only a side-show compared with what is going to happen.

The whole agenda: the 4 keys of the Perfect Storm

1 Lockdowns

Lockdown was so easy for the government to implement that it can now be brought back at the drop of a hat. We all believed in it, so I have put an s at the end of Lockdown, as we are going to have to get used to them.

2 Vaccination

The answer to all our problems. The one way to stop a lockdown in the future is to get yourself vaccinated, because people believe the scientists when they say they are 100% safe. However, this is not my opinion. The key thing you must research is the safety of vaccines. You owe it to your children and grandchildren. Do not believe me, you must come to your own conclusions.

Note: That's two in the bag, easy peasy so far, we are all definitely going for lockdown and then vaccination, so what's next?

3 5G roll out to totalitarian control

I call it the China Syndrome. Because the elites are drooling over what China has achieved. They are so in awe of how they have complete control over their population. China is the blueprint, and we are next. China is the Eastasia of Orwell's 1984, operating the same as the world of Winston Smith's Oceania. This time there will be no going back, as happened with Stalinism and Nazism. 5G will control every aspect of our lives and our freedom to choose will be gone forever. Your algorithm will become a type of thought police, knowing everything about you, everywhere you go and everything you say. But, great, you will be able to stream the latest film without buffering and those 'not spots' where you could not get a phone signal from any network will be banished. They were so inconvenient, weren't they? Sorted.

Yes, 5G is happening, and it is happening at breakneck speed while we have our eye off the ball with the pandemic. And the health implications of 5G are not understood by the masses who believe 5G is 100% safe, just because the scientists say so!

4 Social Media

The elites already have complete control of social media as we have discussed, so I do not need to expand on that anymore here. There is a new Netflix film called 'The Social Dilemma' please watch this, it confirms everything I have articulated on what I think is happening with your algorithm and how you are being manipulated every minute of the day when you are on your devices.

So, there you have it. Do you think I am going over the top? This is why I have called the book 2024 AWAKEN. The original plan was for 2030. I do believe the current lockdown and the consequences of lockdown has brought the timeline forward because of our complete acquiescence. It's been so easy. We could be on course for this to happen by 2024. Only if we allow it.

Scientists are always right, right?

Scientists who said the sun revolves around the Earth; the scientists who said smoking was safe, (doctors smoked Lucky Stripe, they were the best). Scientists who said that there was no earth-shattering cataclysm 12,800 years ago (that literally no one knows about). Scientists who said processed sugar was good for you... I could go on. And can I add the two new kids on the block? Scientists who say vaccines are 100% safe and scientists who say that 5G is 100% safe.

We all need to see the peer-reviewed scientific data that proves vaccination and 5G are 100% safe. I cannot find this data in my research. We must insist that this information is forthcoming.

Please remember the names of the scientists who say these are safe and make them 100% accountable for their statements.

It probably takes on average 50 years for a theory to become fact. In the first place it will be derided by its peer group and will only be grudgingly accepted if statistically proven many years later. Do you really want to wait 50 years to find out that indeed vaccination and 5G are not safe, when my gut instinct is screaming out that there is something inherently wrong with these two life-changing technologies? What do you think, what is your gut telling you?

So why should we believe scientists, especially when you realise that behind the scenes the pharmaceutical companies are bank-rolling most of them?

Sleepwalking to oblivion

We have just allowed the world to change completely in less than six months. This is a change that in the past would have taken decades, even for some despotic leader wanting to impose his power on the whole Earth. It is genius if you think about it, if it wasn't so catastrophic for humankind. The world has changed forever, all for the sake of slightly higher than normal death rate from a flu-like virus.

People will say that the world was not a great place before the pandemic and perhaps only good will come out of the new normal that is being imposed on us. I would suggest that this is not going to happen and that if we want change, which we do, we need to achieve it democratically through the ballot box.

I am not advocating riots or anything illegal. I am advocating empowerment and for the people to take back their sovereignty.

Journalists

If you are a news journalist reading this, 'shame on you'. Are you that stupid that you cannot see what is going on here? Why are you leaving it to Joe Public to ask the basic questions that so many of us are wanting to be asked? Where is the investigative journalism that can hold authority to account? A journalist reports, they verify and are accountable for the facts and they should be independent. Where are the John Pilgers of the 21st century?

There is zero accountability. Journalists fear losing their jobs because if they are off script they are out of a job, it is simple and it's obvious. They are nothing more than football pundits picking up the memes (or creating them) from social media with the one aim of driving people apart, thereby destabilising an already crazed society because of the disinformation they have already been fed.

My take on the situation

We have all been duped, it's as simple as that. Technology is now so powerful and all-encompassing, so subtle that it can manipulate you to do anything. Within a relatively short period of time the technology has become available to completely control humankind. The final piece of the jigsaw has been the social media algorithms that have been perfected within only the last 16 years. If this technology had been available 100 years ago or 500 years ago the elites would have done exactly then what they are doing now. Because we live in a world of corruption, lies and deceit, where driving peoples apart is the order of the day, and always has been. It is the perfect way to take away any power that the people might have thought they had.

Humankind has acquiesced (definition - to give in or go along with something without protesting, even if you don't really want to). We want an easy life; we want toys to play with to feed our dopamine addiction.

To me, the number one criminal thing we have all allowed to happen is the corruption of our children, whether through vaccination, obesity, social media, and non-schooling as was the case with the pandemic. What was the first thing we did, even knowing that school kids were not dying? We shut all schools and colleges - you politicians are genius. The most horrific thing I have seen recently is an obese boy of about 5 years old being escorted by his morbidly obese mother, both wearing masks, walking down the pavement in broad daylight. Yes, we have just done this to society and fundamentally to our children. Shame on all of us for allowing it to happen.

Our complete acquiescence is on top of the fact that as a species we have lost our real purpose in life. We have lost our connection with community and spirituality, which is explained in some detail in my previous book REVEALED. We have arrived at a point where we have absolutely no idea who we are, where we come from and why we are here. Again, the reason for this is that your time has been hijacked. We are all running around like headless chickens dealing with the minutia of daily existence. For many, lockdown was treated like an extended holiday where you could catch up and binge on boxsets you did not have the time to watch before lockdown. Apparently, many of us watched six and a half hours of television a day. While many others watched their businesses and livelihoods go down the toilet. WE ARE LOST IN A SEA OF NOISE.

The key points to reflect upon from this book

- 90.8% of all Internet searches go through Google, so they control the narrative. Google have more power than any government
- All social media is controlled by Silicon Valley behemoths. (Google, YouTube, Twitter, Facebook)
- The elite's agenda and narrative are controlled and managed through the social media companies. Any dissenting voices are shut down and digitally assassinated. There is only one narrative.
- Social media is responsible for creating further division within societies and groups to give themselves more power, 'divide and rule'. They have created the memes that have spawned 'cancel culture' and 'Wokeism' and use this to further divide and subdivide society

- All mainstream media is controlled by six large corporations
- You are completely manipulated every minute of the day by the censored and subliminal messages you receive through your smartphone
- The management of lockdown has been a complete disaster, the worst mistake that the economies of the world have ever made: self-induced economic suicide. Governments stupidly have allowed themselves to be totally controlled by the technocrats who are now pulling all the strings (WHO, CDC, WEF, GAVI, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation + those that control social and mainstream media). “We are being guided by the science.”
- Everybody believes the WHO is a respectable independent organisation: if only it were. “Governments are puppets on the strings of Gates”.
- Investigative journalism is dead, so nobody is challenging this insanity. Many hundreds of people across the world have committed suicide, because they have no hope, in part because of the media’s acquiescence.
- Our fate is an Orwellian dystopia. Exactly what has already happened in China will happen for all of us if we do not Awaken
- We are all in this together: we either awaken and take back control, or we will sleepwalk to extinction
- We must open our minds to all possibilities, follow our instincts and intuition, and by opening our hearts, truth and enlightenment will become clear as day, and you will discover your real identity and purpose in this life, overwhelming love.

Call to action

So, you have now done some of your own research and you are tentatively in agreement with me or not as the case may be. So, what are we going to do about it?

Remember, at the beginning of the book I gave you four options, here they are again:

1. This guy is indeed bonkers, I do not believe a word of it, I am going to carry on as before and believe everything I am being told. We will get back to normal at some point and if it might be 2021 at the earliest before that happens, so be it.
2. This guy has some good points but what can I do about it, so I will just accept what is going to happen to us.
3. I think this guy is onto something and I do care about the future, so I am going to research it more for myself and then come to my own conclusions.
4. I agree with him, I have felt that something is very wrong with what is happening in the world today, it’s good that I am not the only one who thinks like this and I want to do something about it. I need to pass this information on to the people I love and know, so they can do their own research and come to their own conclusions.

And also remember that I have asked you to have an open mind and put aside any preconceptions you may have had. Have you decided yet?

Possible action steps

1. Talk to other people about it, as they may also be starting to think that there is something not quite right about this pandemic
2. Lend them this book, for one week only, because you need to give it to someone else because they have already asked you for it. Do this to create that vital sense of urgency
3. Get up to speed with the science; engage with all opinions and then make your own decisions from a wide spectrum of information

4. Get active, become part of the fight to take back control
5. Stay healthy, and continually boost your immune system
6. Do nothing

Tolerance and apathy are the traits of a dying society - Aristotle.

Now you are aware of all this information, if you choose option 6 of doing nothing, you are then simply allowing it all to happen. You are giving the green light for everything that is going to happen to you.

A friend of mine in his sixties, a similar age to me, said to me when discussing the lockdown, that our generation has let down our young and created a legacy of debt which will affect generations to come. He then said, "It is down to them now to sort it out, I just want to enjoy my retirement". This shows that the unwritten contract between the generations is now broken. the contract that we will protect the next generation has been shattered, and so we will now let down our children and grandchildren, which is unforgivable.

Wake up!

This is why we all must all wake up and smell the coffee. The overriding reason we must do this is to re-establish that contract which has been broken with the next generation. If we cannot do that then Homo sapiens is finished.

The only way you can control people is to keep them in ignorance, but as soon as a person becomes empowered with knowledge, nobody can control them again.

Here is the simple question everyone needs to answer:

Do you want sovereignty of your own body, or do you want to give it away for free to those people who want to control every aspect of who you are, what you think and what you do. To control every single action you take.

Stopping this madness

You need to know that the elites of this world are few in number, hence of course that is why they are an elite. So, we have numbers on our side to gather the collective power to do something about the current situation.

As a collective we can stop this madness, the insane experiment with Homo sapiens that you and I are part of. And we must do this before it is too late. How long have we got before it is too late? Less than 5 years, in my humble opinion.

Make no mistake, we are at war; no bullets are flying because you do not need those anymore. Bullets have now been replaced by algorithms, social media manipulation and now lockdowns. This is a war on all of us, on our individuality, our consciousness, and our freedom of speech.

"If liberty means anything at all, it means the right to tell people what they do not want to hear", from an unused preface to Animal Farm – George Orwell

We are all at a crossroads now in 2020. Which fork in the road are we going to take? The world is depending on our decision.

Neil Oliver was asked, what did people die for in the twentieth century when millions of people were killed in two catastrophic World Wars? He replied:

“That great sacrifice was made for freedom. Freedom to think, freedom to speak and freedom to stand up with a straight back in a public space and say what you believe to be true and have that accepted as part of the great discourse of a civilised community. As we drift closer and closer to a situation where people are frightened into silence then totalitarian tyranny has already won without a shot fired and without a sword being drawn”.

I 100% agree with this. They died for all of us, so that we could remain free from tyranny. Yet, what have we all just allowed to happen, without a shot being fired? Are we sleepwalking to extinction?

Homo sapiens are very resilient. After all, we have been on this Earth for 200,000 years. Life is meant to be lived, lived fully, and lived with passion, yet it is also risky, so now let's get on with living it.

A roar of freedom

Here are two quotes from the great Indian speaker Osho:

“The greatest fear in the world is the opinion of others, and the moment you are unafraid of the crowd; you are no longer a sheep, you become a lion. A great roar arises from your heart.”

“The awakened person cannot be enslaved; that is the difficulty, and they cannot be imprisoned. The awakened person is the greatest stranger in the world. They do not seem to belong to any body, no organisation confines him, no community, no society, no nation.”

This beautiful planet needs us all, now more than ever, to AWAKEN. Let's make the change the world is waiting for. You cannot say I did not warn you.

This is our moment to reclaim our humanity

We have a simple choice, fear or love

“All you need is love” *John Lennon

Be strong

The END (or is it?)

2024 AWAKEN

PETER RAGG

Other books by the author

Revealed – Astonishing New Science and Archaeology

Challenging everything we have accepted about the history of humankind and showing us how to find our purpose in life.

Available on Amazon:

<https://www.amazon.co.uk/REVEALED-Astonishing-New-Science-Archaeology/dp/1838060103>